IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pending the arrival of the ship at the port of arrival. Each alien in all ships of crews (from 998 and not to exceed 1,000 in number on board, but alien de-livered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port shown on the arrival manifest as a "nonimmigrant" alien).

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel at the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the nationality, last residence, and intended final destination of each alien who is destined to the United States, and specifying which of such aliens have been inspected by the consular officers of the United States, and the ports for which such certificates were issued, and which of such aliens have been granted admission to the United States, and shall furnish such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers pending the delivery of the lists required by this section, or pending the detention of any alien specified in such lists who may be certified to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel by the immigration officer in charge of the port as being detained for further examination or pending the settlement of the case of any such alien certified to be detained for further examination, and the payment of the head tax provided for in section 2 of this Act in the case of any such alien: Provided, That clearance may be granted before the departure of any such alien who has been certified to be duly admissible to the United States or who has been detained and subsequently released or who has been certified to be entitled to enter the United States without further inspection by the immigration officers at the port of arrival and whose examination and admission have been completed at such port. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit or to account for the head tax required by section 2 of this Act within the time prescribed by law, or who refuses to land any alien account of being afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities specified in section 2 of this Act, or who refuses to land any alien account of being afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until such payment shall have been made or such alien landed or such bond given as may be required by the Secretary of Labor.

(b) Every alien in the steerage compartment of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof who shall not appear before the immigration officers at the port of arrival for examination, or who shall not be found on board such vessel by the immigration officers at the time of the medical examination (by the medical examiners), or who fails to report to the Secretary of Labor his intended address within three days after his admission to the United States, and every alien who shall be found upon the vessel after it has been ordered to depart from the United States, shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or at the expense of the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, as a condition precedent to the landing of such alien in any insular possession of the United States, or in the Canal Zone, or in the Philippine Islands, or in any dependency of the United States, or in any foreign country contiguous to the United States, or in any country adjacent to the United States, unless such alien is a citizen of the United States, or has a right to enter the United States without further inspection by the immigration officers, or has been admitted to the United States at the time of the application for landing and has been certified by the immigration officers at the port of arrival to the Secretary of Labor as having been admitted to the United States and entitled to land without further inspection by the immigration officers, or has been granted by the Secretary of Labor the right to enter the United States pending examination by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, or has been certified by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival as being only temporarily ill and as requiring hospital treatment or observation, or has been certified by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival as being afflicted with a contagious disease other than one of those hereinbefore specifically mentioned, and who is detained for treatment in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or has been certified by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival as being afflicted with a mental disease or defect, and who is detained for observation and treatment in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or has been certified by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival as being afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and who is detained for treatment in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or has been certified by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service at the port of arrival as being afflicted with a mental disease or defect existing prior to the time of admission, and who is detained for observation and

VAFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, C. K. HANSON, MASTER, of the Canadian SS. "ROVER," do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have noted the cold of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and cold of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra, appear below.

Sworn to before me this 3rd day of September, 19 48

Immigrant Inspector.

20444

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival; but shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seaman, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely from those so to be landed on the port of arrival; to state separately the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who are not destined to the United States, but to some foreign country, and the intended destination of each such alien as far as known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof; and to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien employed on such vessel, or who was reported as destined to the United States, illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer all aliens employed on such vessel who were not reported at the time of arrival as entitled to land, stating the names of all alien employees who were not employed at the time of the vessel's arrival but who shall leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the manner of those, if any, who have been discharged, and the cause, if any, why they were discharged from employment, whether by reason of sickness, accident, or desertion or otherwise, and produce the certificate required to be obtained from the master of each vessel clearing from a port in the United States, showing the number of aliens employed thereon, and that the provisions of this section have been complied with. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be refused nor shall any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of illegality to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fund prescribed, and not then unless notice of penalty need served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, Cuba, or adjacent islands, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance of the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory who fails to deport on the same vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers or the equivalent thereof by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all immigration arising subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the provisions of the section, or who shall not be found by the master of any vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to deport after entertainment by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel not then about to depart for the country to which such seaman belongs, or to any country which will grant him a landing permit, and such expenses as the Attorney General may approve shall be charged against the vessel on which he arrived, and such shall not be granted clearance until such expenses have been paid to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 188 (a), 188 (c).)

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1931, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 21 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

Sworn to before me this ..... 2 ..... day of ..... February 19 52

Alexander C. Alexander
Immigration Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Data shall be in the presence of person to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. The list of crewmen of alien members employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were born, and the names of all persons, if any, who have been left behind at the last foreign port or place from which they sailed. The list shall be prepared in the port of arrival; if there be no such officer, then in the presence of the master or other officer in charge of the vessel. The list of crewmen of alien members of the crew who are naturalized citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 20. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions then respectively held in the ship's company, when and where they were born, and the names of all persons, if any, who have been left behind at the last foreign port or place from which they sailed, and the intended final destination of such aliens, together with such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor. When an alien crewman is discharged from the vessel, either with or without the consent of the master, in any port of the United States, the master shall report the fact and furnish such information as may be required by the immigration officer in charge of the port relative to such alien. The Commissioner General may, upon application in writing therefor, waive the requirements of this section with respect to any vessel which touches at ports only in Canada, Mexico, Newfoundland, the West Indies, Bermuda, the Canal Zone, or Hawaii, or which runs regularly between ports in the United States and

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted on the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or other memoranda for the use of the Secretary of Labor shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving vessel has more than one „'tween deck" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and absolutely those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival of the vessel but who shall have been shipped or engaged at the time of or pot departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been held on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver lists of such aliens, if any, who have been shipped, discharged, or deserted, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided; but no such vessel shall be cleared while any fine is imposed, while it remains pending; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Act of February 2, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act already been served, the deposit specified in rule 23 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or otherwise to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the administrative detention of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 16. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to obtain or break the seals of the hold or other space of the vessel in which steerage passengers have been carried, before the inspection officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such vessel, and (after inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), issued a certificate permitting the breaking of seals, or who fails to detain such vessel at the port of arrival until the inspection officer or the Secretary of Labor so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to cover such fine, in such amount as may be required prior to such determination or such alien seaman may be detained to a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(d) From such fine an alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who shall have been employed on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States for a period of not less than six months immediately preceding his departure from the United States shall be exempt: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may by regulation prescribe such terms and conditions governing the refund of fines collected hereunder as he may deem necessary to protect the interests of the United States.

(e) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause such vessel to be detained at the expense of the vessel pending the action of the Secretary of Labor.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to a place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the position or calling of the alien, the nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each alien who intends to enter the United States, and such other information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and alien members of the crew may be entered thereon in groups. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall also deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who are discharged in the United States from such vessel, showing the date of such discharge, and the cause therefor, so far as known. Such lists shall be prepared at such time before the departure of the vessel, as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel may be required to furnish such additional information relative to such aliens as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse or fail to furnish any additional information required by the Attorney General, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the vessel shall arrive a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such information is required, but not exceeding $200 for any one vessel. The Attorney General is authorized to remit any such penalty or portion thereof. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to deliver lists in accordance with the provisions of this section, or who shall refuse or fail to furnish any additional information required by the Attorney General as provided in this section, or who shall knowingly make any false statement in relation thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General is authorized to refuse or withdraw the permission granted to any vessel to touch at any port in the United States for the purpose of discharging therefrom any alien who has been refused a landing by the immigration officers at such port, and to require the removal of any such alien from the United States on any vessel on which he may be found, at the expense of the vessel, whether such alien has been admitted to the United States or not, and to refuse clearance to any vessel while any such alien remains on board thereof without the consent of the Attorney General or his duly authorized agent. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such violation.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. One list shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman, including names of alien American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from a foreign port of a vessel in the course of the voyage to the vessel at the first port of arrival in the United States from a foreign port the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped to engage, and specifying those who are not in possession of valid immigration visas as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel at each port in the United States from a foreign port the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall deliver to such immigration officer a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped to engage, and specifying those who have been discharged from the ship, or have died or deserted since the last list was delivered, and the cause of such discharge, desertion, or death, so far as known. It shall be the duty of the master to report to such immigration officer, at the time of arrival, the name of every alien employed on such vessel who is not in possession of a valid immigration visa as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and also to report the name of every alien who may be discovered on board his vessel after the departure of the vessel from the last foreign port, together with the reason for the presence of such alien on board. Every alien failing to report to such immigration officer, or refusing to answer any such inquiry made by such officer, shall be deported as provided by law. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each and every violation of the provisions of this section, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171),* shall have been furnished and the master unless notice of intention to file the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to file a petition for remission or mitigation of such fine has been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has entered on board a vessel arriving in the United States and remains on board such vessel after the immediate departure thereof, or has transferred to any contiguous vessel, or has been employed on any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified of the intended departure, removal, or transfer, and has granted permission for the alien to depart, be removed, or transferred: Provided, That the Attorney General may prescribe for any alien crewman entering the United States temporarily in connection with the operation of the vessel on which he arrived, or in connection with the operation of any vessel which may be substituted therefor by the same owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived, the conditions under which he may be permitted to land temporarily without a permit, and may require any such alien crewman to furnish a bond in such sum and with such sureties as he may deem necessary to assure the departure of such alien crewman from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived or on any vessel which may be substituted therefor by the same owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived, and may provide for the payment of a penalty to be specified by the Attorney General not to exceed $1,000 for each alien crewman who fails to depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived or on any vessel which may be substituted therefor by the same owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived, unless such alien crewman is prevented from departing from the United States on account of sickness or injury or is detained by the authorities of the United States as a witness in or party to any case or proceeding. The Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the payment of any penalty in whole or in part, or refund any penalty collected, in any case in which it is established to his satisfaction that the alien crewman departed from the United States within the time limited and that his failure to depart was occasioned by circumstances over which the master had no control. The Attorney General may prescribe rules governing the remission or mitigation of penalties provided for by this section, and his decision shall be final. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States, except foreign-built vessels temporarily in distress, or any transportation company other than railway users' interstate or international bridge companies engaged in the transportation of aliens to the United States, shall be required to pay a head tax of $8 for each alien, other than (1) an alien in transit through the United States to a foreign contiguous territory, (2) an alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is returning from a temporary visit abroad, (3) an alien who is a bona fide resident of Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Haiti, the Dominican Republic, the Canal Zone, the Republic of Panama, the Republic of Costa Rica, the Republic of Nicaragua, the Republic of Honduras, or the Republic of Salvador, who has come directly from his country to the United States, and (4) an alien under sixteen years of age who is coming to the United States to join a parent who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and is naturalized or has declared his intention to become a citizen thereof, or to join a parent who has been naturalized since such alien's admission to the United States, or to join a parent who has declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States if such alien is under sixteen years of age at the time the parent declares his intention: Provided, That the Attorney General may refund the head tax in the case of any alien who is refused admission to the United States. Such head tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which is located the port of arrival of the vessel, or if there be no collector at such port, then to the collector of customs of the customs district or island port designated by the Attorney General. Such head tax shall be paid to the collector of customs within twenty-four hours after the entry of the vessel in the case of vessels arriving at ports where there is a collector of customs, and in the case of vessels arriving at other ports before the departure of such vessels therefrom. Such head tax shall be refunded by the Attorney General to the person who paid it if application for refund is made within one year from the date of payment. Such head tax shall be a lien upon the vessel which brought the alien to the United States, and clearance may be withheld and such vessel may be seized and detained until such head tax is paid, or in the discretion of the Attorney General adequate security therefor is given.

(b) Every alien arriving at a port in the United States from a foreign contiguous territory by land shall be required to pay a head tax of $8 unless he is one of the classes of aliens exempted from the payment of such tax by subdivision (a) of this section. Such head tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district or to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of entry, and shall be refunded by the Attorney General to the person who paid it if application for refund is made within one year from the date of payment.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien assigned to a vessel or aircraft, shall be delayed beyond the time such vessel or aircraft is scheduled to depart after the immediate deportation of the alien assigned to the vessel or aircraft, he may require a bond in such amount and with such conditions as he may prescribe for the departure of the alien from the United States on such vessel or aircraft or on any other vessel or aircraft. Such bond shall not be required to be furnished for a period longer than six months, and shall be terminated when the alien departs from the United States. (43 Stat. 164–165, as amended; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be kept for delivery to the immigration inspector nearest the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned here. When an alternate manifest is a "workweek," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of crews (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manifest is used, the original and two copies must be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the time of arrival, and the second copy must be retained on board until the vessel departs from the last port in the United States.

SEC. 12. (a) Every master, commander, or agent of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the adjacent islands shall, before any such alien is granted a permit to land, deliver to the immigration officer at the port of entry a manifest, prepared at the time of embarkation at the last port, in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, containing the following information with respect to each such alien: Name in full; age and sex; whether married or single; calling or occupation; whether able to read or write; nationality; last permanent residence; whether in possession of a passport, and if so, the number, date, and place of issue thereof; the port at which application for an immigrant visa was granted; whether coming to join a husband, wife, parent, or child, and if so, the name, relationship, and last address of such relative in the United States; whether ticketed to destination; whether in possession of $50 in money, and if so, how much; whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, the name and complete address of such relative or friend; whether the intending immigrant has ever been in the United States before, and if so, when and for how long; whether the intending immigrant has been in prison or in a almshouse or an institution for the insane or supported by charity; whether a polygamist; whether an anarchist; whether coming pursuant to contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what kind; whether a stowaway; whether ever deported from the United States or excluded and the cause thereof; whether under a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor under the provisions of section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 154; 8 U. S. C. 203); whether a refugee from countries other than those of his birth; whether a veteran of the World War, and if so, what military organization he served with; whether he has a relative (husband, father, mother, child, brother, or sister) who fought in the World War, and if so, what relative and what military organization he served with; whether he has a visible scar or mark of identification, and if so, what and where; whether deformed or crippled, and if so, what and where; height; complexion; color of hair and eyes; and such additional information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

(b) The master, commander, or agent of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the adjacent islands shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list containing the name of each alien employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and what country those do to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or data concerning as much of such information as may be ascertained from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and (c) the master, commander, or agent of the vessel if aboard it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, commander, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been secreted on board such vessel if aboard it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, commander, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been secreted on board such vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and (d) the master, commander, or agent of any such vessel if aboard it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, commander, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been secreted on board such vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and (e) the master, commander, or agent of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill the vacancies caused thereby; and (f) in case of the failure of such owner, agent, commander, or master to deliver either of the lists

The list of aliens on vessel may be typewritten or printed, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival [Form I-418] shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a substitute for a "workaway" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as may be required by the Attorney General, in his discretion, in addition to the above; and the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe what further information such lists shall contain. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may have been discharged, and of all persons who may have been employed on board the vessel at any time after the departure from the last port of call, and who are not found on board at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of destination, together with the cause of the absence of each such person, if known. If any master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists as are required by this section, or shall refuse to answer truly any question relative to the number and nationality of the persons employed on board such vessel, or to the ports at which they severally embarked, he shall pay to the Alien Immigration Fund the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment or such penalty; and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.13 Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel delayed. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 1717), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inapplicability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 1068) be granted, pass served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving at the ports of the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land at the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 32. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall refuse or fail to deliver on demand to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival and inspection such manifest in relation to each alien included in the manifest (which manifest shall be prepared by the master at the time or times specified in the immigration laws and in the order and form prescribed by the Secretary of Labor), or who shall refuse to permit any immigrant inspector to go and remain aboard any vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the manifest and other documents relating thereto, or who shall refuse to detain any seaman employed on board any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman or has given notice that such inspection is not required, or who shall refuse to detain any seaman on board such vessel when required by the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such manifest.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the Department designated to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

AFFIDAVIT OF ONE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly on said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage.

I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, supra appear below.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons in each group (Form I–418) shall not be returned to board, but shall be delivered on demand to the immigration officer at the port. "Women and children" is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seaboard, include names of returning American citizens seaboard as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a correct list of all the persons, including the master, employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the names of the ports for which they have severally contracted, and to report the sickness or death of any person on board during the voyage, and the cause thereof, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a correct list of all persons employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the names of the ports for which they have severally contracted, and to report the sickness or death of any person on board during the voyage, and the cause thereof, and to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, together with such information likely to lead to the identification of such aliens as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: but nothing herein contained shall be construed to require a description of such alien, or such information, as can be obtained only by examination of such alien. Every master, agent, consignee, or master of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such list, or who knowingly or willfully delivers a false list or manifest, or who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to enter such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or who refuses to answer to the best of his knowledge any question put to him by such inspector in relation to the number and nationality of the passengers carried on board such vessel, the ports from which they severally embarked and at which they severally intend to land, or who refuses to report the sickness or death of any person on board during the voyage, and the cause thereof, or who refuses to deliver to any such inspector a correct list of the persons employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the names of the ports for which they have severally contracted, and to report the sickness or death of any person on board during the voyage, and the cause thereof, or who refuses to deliver to any such inspector a correct list of the persons employed on board such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the names of the ports for which they have severally contracted, and to report the sickness or death of any person on board during the voyage, and the cause thereof, or who refuses to allow any such inspector to enter such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or who refuses to answer to the best of his knowledge any question put to him by such inspector in relation to the number and nationality of the passengers carried on board such vessel, the ports from which they severally embarked and at which they severally intend to land, or who refuses

AFFIDAVIT TO SURGEON

I, ROBERT M. WOOLF, surgeon of the U.S.S. "PENNSYLVANIA", residing at 1423 Arch Street, Philadelphia, solemnly, sincerely, and truly swear that I have had 7 years' experience as a Physician and Surgeon, and that I am entitled to practice as such by and under the authority of the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, and that I have made a personal examination of each of the aliens named herein, and that the foregoing Lists or Manifest Sheets, containing 1 name, is in all respects correct, and true in all particulars relative to the mental and physical condition of such aliens.

Robert M. Woolf, M.D.

Sworn to before me this 7th day of September, 1908, at Philadelphia, Pa.

[illegible]
Commissioner of Immigration.

NOTE.—If a surgeon signs with the vessel, this affidavit of verification shall be executed before an Immigrant Inspector at port of arrival, and two examples thereof will be executed in duplicate, one of which shall be retained by the master of the vessel as part of the ship's papers, and the other delivered to the Immigrant Inspector.
If no surgeon sails with the vessel, the affidavit of verification shall be executed at the port of departure before some officer authorized to administer oaths.

LIST OF RACES OR PEOPLES

Write "yes" or "no" as the case may be, in answer to questions 9 to 14, inclusive, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55,

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFEST

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Recording on separate manifests immigrants and non-immigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; but also recording on separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and the so-called tourist class, whose rates pass the initial 30 kronor value, and those whose rates do not pass such initial. The names of all members of a family shall appear on the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Line o/ship).—The ship's line, voyage, or sailing to be given as directed in the case of each alien.

Column 2 (Name in full).—Enter surname (family name) and given names in full. Titles of nobility, honorary, professional, religious, or academic degrees, and such terms as "Mr.," "Mrs.," "Miss," "Dr.," "Rev.," or "Hon." should not be entered. Initials may be used only when they appear on the immigrant's passport or other travel document.

Column 3 (Relationship).—Give relationship, if any, to person named in column 2, such as husband, wife, father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, son, daughter, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, cousin, nephew, niece, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, brother-in-law, sister-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepson, stepdaughter, stepbrother, stepsister, half brother, half sister, grandson, granddaughter, or fiancé(e).

Column 4 (Age).—Write age in years. If under 1 year, write age in months, thus: "6 mos." If age is not known exactly, it must be approximated.

Column 5 (Sex).—Write "M" for male, "F" for female.

Column 6 (Married or single).—Write "M" for married, "S" for single, "W" for widowed, "D" or "Div." for divorced.

Column 7 (Calling or occupation).—Write "none" for children and persons of no occupation. INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States, according to separate manifests prescribed by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the third class and non-immigrants, as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924; and also according to separate manifests those aliens traveling in the first class or second class, known as the so-called foreign class, who are not the initials of technical advisers, and those who are to not pass such initials. The number to all memfers to a family shall appear upon the same manifest sheet when two or more of them travel in the same class; but if they travel in different classes, appropriate close references should be made on the sheets on which the respective names are listed.

Column 1 (Number on list.)—Each alien should be given a number, beginning with 1 on each sheet, and the consecutive numbers should be carried through to the end of the list. The number should be placed in the upper left-hand corner of the space provided for the name.

Column 2 (Last name.)—Enter the family name or surname of each alien.

Column 3 (First name and middle name.)—Enter the given name or names in full of each alien.

Column 4 (Age.)—Enter the age of each alien as of his last birthday. If under 1 year, write "12/12" or "11/12" as the case may be.

Column 5 (Sex.)—Enter whether male or female by the letter M (male) or F (female).

Column 6 (Married or single.)—Enter whether each alien is married (M), single (S), widowed (W), or divorced (D).

Column 7 (Calling or occupation.)—Enter the trade, profession, or occupation of each alien, as for example: Bookkeeper, accountant, engineer, author, clerk, compositor, engraver, farmer, fireman, laborer, lawyer, machinist, mason, merchant, miner, musician, painter, physician, salesman, servant, shoemaker, stenographer, tailor, tinner, or other industrial pursuit.

Column 8 (Nationality.)—Enter the country of which each alien is a citizen or subject.

Column 9 (Last residence.)—Enter the city, town, or village in which each alien has his permanent residence. Do not enter "America," "United States," "New York," or the name of any State.

Column 10 (Race or people.)—See list of races printed on back of this sheet.

The entry should be made as race or people as given in this list.

Special attention should be paid to the distinction between race and the country of which citizen or subject; consult to this end the permanent residence, and consult to this end the permanent residence, and consult to this end the permanent residence, and IMPORTANT NOTICE.—1. Great care should be taken not to place on this list the name of any passenger who are not born in the United States or who has not taken out final naturalization papers.

2. Where one or more members of a family are aliens, the names of all such members should be recorded upon the alien manifest. Suitable notation may be made upon each manifest opposite the names of those members who claim citizenship.

3. Failure to observe the terms of this notice may result in delay to passengers at the port of arrival.

4. Use on this form only United States citizens or citizens of an insular possession of the United States.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival; and shall not be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of such master, before the vessel is granted clearance, to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a correct list of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; or state conspicuously if there are no aliens employed on such vessel, which list shall be signed by the master, and sworn to before a consular officer of the United States at the port of departure, if one be there stationed, and if not, before the collector of customs or other officer designated by the Secretary of the Treasury to administer the oath. Such list shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the consular officer will forward the original to the Commissioner General of Immigration, Washington, D. C., and deliver the duplicate to the master for the use of the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States. The triplicate will be retained by the consular officer. Such list shall contain as to each alien, if over fourteen years of age, the following information: Name in full; age; sex; married or single; calling or occupation; whether able to read or write; nationality, last permanent residence; race or people; the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came; whether he has a ticket to his final destination; whether his passage was paid by himself or by others, and if by others, by whom; whether in possession of $50 in money, and if less, how much; whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his complete address; whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where; whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, what and when; whether a polygamist; whether an anarchist; whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what is the nature and the amount of such labor or employment; whether having a ticket or passage paid for by any person, company, or corporation, and if so, by whom; whether the alien has been in the United States before, and if so, how often and when and for how long at each time; whether deported or excluded prior to this time, and if so, when and what cause; whether under contract or labor agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what kind; whether a person living who will care for him in the United States, and if so, what person and their complete address; whether coming to join a husband, wife, father, mother, grandparent, child over sixteen or under sixty years of age, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece, and if so, what relative and his complete address; whether he has been employed as a contract laborer, and if so, at what time and for how long; whether a stowaway; whether ever confined in any institution or hospital for care of the insane or mentally defective, and if so, which one; whether suffering from tuberculosis in any form, and whether or not with a visible deformity; whether suffering from a mental or physical defect of such a character as to affect his ability to earn a living; height; complexion; color of hair and eyes; and all distinctive marks of identification. The said list shall contain a statement by the master or commanding officer, or first or second officer, that full inquiry has been made concerning the right of each alien mentioned therein to enter the United States under the law, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the information given in such list is true in each particular. Such list or lists shall be produced at the request of any immigrant inspector, and shall be open to his inspection while the vessel remains in port; and at the foot of each list the master or commanding officer shall sign a statement in writing, in the presence of the boarding officer, to the effect that the list contains a full, true, and correct account of all aliens specified in the preceding section who have been employed on board such vessel during the period of their employment thereon, setting forth the reasons for the non-production of any such alien. Such statement shall be subscribed and sworn to before the consular officer who viséed the list, if the list was viséed, or before the boarding officer. Any master or commanding officer who refuses or neglects to deliver such list, or to make oath to the statement required in connection therewith, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense. (8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the United States shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each such alien who shall not have been duly inspected by an immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and in addition to any such penalty such vessel may be refused clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment thereof, or while any such penalty remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such sum as the collector of customs may deem sufficient to cover such penalty and costs, or upon the production of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each alien in respect of whom such penalty accrues. Upon such remission as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The action, as amended, shall apply to all proceedings pending on June 5, 1940.

(b) Every alien in the United States who has been excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and who has remained in the United States more than thirty days after such exclusion, shall be deported in the manner provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, unless prior to the expiration of such thirty days such alien shall depart voluntarily from the United States in pursuance of a warrant issued by the Commissioner General of Immigration under such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, or shall be granted by the Attorney General a discretionary order staying such alien's deportation pending the determination on appeal by the Attorney General of the question of such alien's deportation in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe. Any alien who shall willfully fail or refuse to depart from the United States within the time prescribed for his voluntary departure, or to make timely application in good faith for such travel documents as are necessary to his departure, or to present himself for deportation at the time and place required by the Attorney General or who shall connect himself with the business management or conduct of any publication admitted to the United States as a publication entitled to second-class mailing privileges as determined by the Act of March 3, 1879, or who shall become a member of or affiliate with any organization, group, or body of persons teaching or disbelieving in or opposed to organized government, or who shall write or publish or cause to be written or published, or circulate or cause to be circulated, or shall knowingly have in his possession for the purpose of circulation or distribution, or shall knowingly publicly display any written or printed matter advocating or teaching opposition to organized government, or who shall become a member of or affiliate with any society, association, or group of persons entertaining or teaching such opposition to organized government, shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided in this section, irrespective of the time within which he may be deported or the country to which his deportation may be directed. (54 Stat. 164–165, as amended. 8 U. S. C. 155 (a), 155 (b).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the illness of such seaman, or for the sole purpose of obtaining a passport, or for such other reasons and subject to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, nor shall any such alien be granted clearance papers or a permit to depart from the United States until the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on board which such alien arrived shall have given a bond with sufficient surety, in such sum not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, as the Attorney General may prescribe, conditioned that such alien will depart from the United States in such vessel or in some other vessel within such period as may be fixed by the Attorney General, or will submit to such other conditions as may be imposed by the Attorney General in accordance with the provisions of this section. Any alien who departs from the United States without having been granted clearance papers as provided in this section shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. (43 Stat. 164–165, as amended. 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the limit prescribed by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1924 (43 Stat. 166; 8 U. S. C. 181), when such limit has been fixed, has not been complied with, or the deposit specified in § 150.13–150.17, has not been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; or state conspicuously if there are no aliens employed on such vessel, which list shall be signed by the master, and sworn to before a consular officer of the United States at the port of departure, if one be there stationed, and if not, before the collector of customs or other officer designated by the Secretary of the Treasury to administer the oath. Such list or lists shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the consular officer will forward the original to the Commissioner General of Immigration, Washington, D. C., and deliver the duplicate to the master for the use of the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States. The list or lists shall contain as much of the following information concerning each alien mentioned therein as may be ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence by the master or commanding officer, or first or second officer, namely: Name in full; age; sex; married or single; calling or occupation; whether able to read or write; nationality, last permanent residence; race or people; the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came; whether he has a ticket to his final destination; whether his passage was paid by himself or by others, and if by others, by whom; whether in possession of $50 in money, and if less, how much; whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his complete address; whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where; whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, what and when; whether a polygamist; whether an anarchist; whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what is the nature and the amount of such labor or employment; whether having a ticket or passage paid for by any person, company, or corporation, and if so, by whom; whether the alien has been in the United States before, and if so, how often and when and for how long at each time; whether deported or excluded prior to this time, and if so, when and what cause; whether under contract or labor agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what kind; whether a person living who will care for him in the United States, and if so, what person and their complete address; whether coming to join a husband, wife, father, mother, grandparent, child over sixteen or under sixty years of age, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece, and if so, what relative and his complete address; whether he has been employed as a contract laborer, and if so, at what time and for how long; whether a stowaway; whether ever confined in any institution or hospital for care of the insane or mentally defective, and if so, which one; whether suffering from tuberculosis in any form, and whether or not with a visible deformity; whether suffering from a mental or physical defect of such a character as to affect his ability to earn a living; height; complexion; color of hair and eyes; and all distinctive marks of identification. The said list shall contain a statement by the master or commanding officer, or first or second officer, that full inquiry has been made concerning the right of each alien mentioned therein to enter the United States under the law, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the information given in such list is true in each particular. Such list or lists shall be produced at the request of any immigrant inspector, and shall be open to his inspection while the vessel remains in port; and at the foot of each list the master or commanding officer shall sign a statement in writing, in the presence of the boarding officer, to the effect that the list contains a full, true, and correct account of all aliens specified in the preceding section who have been employed on board such vessel during the period of their employment thereon, setting forth the reasons for the non-production of any such alien. Such statement shall be subscribed and sworn to before the consular officer who viséed the list, if the list was viséed, or before the boarding officer. Any master or commanding officer who refuses or neglects to deliver such list, or to make oath to the statement required in connection therewith, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense. (8 U. S. C. 180.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit or refuses to deposit on board such vessel duly the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (from 1–48 hours, as the case may be) the names of all aliens on board, but shall be relieved by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of such master, before the vessel is granted clearance papers, or if clearance papers are not required by the master, before the departure of such vessel from the port, to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival a correct list of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board in the port of arrival; or state conspicuously if there are no aliens employed on such vessel, which list shall be signed by the master, and sworn to before a consular officer of the United States at the port of departure, if one be there stationed, and if not, before the collector of customs or other officer designated by the Secretary of the Treasury to administer the oath. Such list or lists shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the consular officer will forward the original to the Commissioner General of Immigration, Washington, D. C., and deliver the duplicate to the master for the use of the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States. The list or lists shall contain as much of the following information concerning each alien mentioned therein as may be ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence by the master or commanding officer, or first or second officer, namely: Name in full; age; sex; married or single; calling or occupation; whether able to read or write; nationality, last permanent residence; race or people; the name and complete address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came; whether he has a ticket to his final destination; whether his passage was paid by himself or by others, and if by others, by whom; whether in possession of $50 in money, and if less, how much; whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his complete address; whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where; whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, and if so, what and when; whether a polygamist; whether an anarchist; whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what is the nature and the amount of such labor or employment; whether having a ticket or passage paid for by any person, company, or corporation, and if so, by whom; whether the alien has been in the United States before, and if so, how often and when and for how long at each time; whether deported or excluded prior to this time, and if so, when and what cause; whether under contract or labor agreement to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what kind; whether a person living who will care for him in the United States, and if so, what person and their complete address; whether coming to join a husband, wife, father, mother, grandparent, child over sixteen or under sixty years of age, brother, sister, uncle, aunt, nephew, or niece, and if so, what relative and his complete address; whether he has been employed as a contract laborer, and if so, at what time and for how long; whether a stowaway; whether ever confined in any institution or hospital for care of the insane or mentally defective, and if so, which one; whether suffering from tuberculosis in any form, and whether or not with a visible deformity; whether suffering from a mental or physical defect of such a character as to affect his ability to earn a living; height; complexion; color of hair and eyes; and all distinctive marks of identification. The said list shall contain a statement by the master or commanding officer, or first or second officer, that full inquiry has been made concerning the right of each alien mentioned therein to enter the United States under the law, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the information given in such list is true in each particular. Such list or lists shall be produced at the request of any immigrant inspector, and shall be open to his inspection while the vessel remains in port; and at the foot of each list the master or commanding officer shall sign a statement in writing, in the presence of the boarding officer, to the effect that the list contains a full, true, and correct account of all aliens specified in the preceding section who have been employed on board such vessel during the period of their employment thereon, setting forth the reasons for the non-production of any such alien. Such statement shall be subscribed and sworn to before the consular officer who viséed the list, if the list was viséed, or before the boarding officer. Any master or commanding officer who refuses or neglects to deliver such list, or to make oath to the statement required in connection therewith, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien membership of crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manner is used, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection at ports having no arriving Chinese, and especially those to be boarded in the bay of arrival: if there are Chinese on board, all cases in which any alien has been illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of each alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the debarkation of any such vessel it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has come aboard, concealed, or secreted himself or herself on such vessel, whether the vessel is in port or not, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind and subsequently joined a vessel in which he or she sailed from the port of arrival; and it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer, before the departure of any such vessel, a list of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival just above mentioned, showing the name of each such alien employee, together with the name of the vessel in which he or she arrived, and the date of such arrival; and it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, at the port from which any such vessel is about to depart, the name of each alien employee who has been employed thereon at the time of the arrival just above mentioned, and who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel, and the name of the master of such vessel, and the destination of such alien employee; and it shall be the duty of each owner, agent, consignee, or master to report, respectively, or so to report each case of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerned, when it remains during such vessel's stay in port, but shall not be required to pay such commutation charge in respect to any such alien who is employed on board any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to depart on board the vessel on which he arrived, or such other vessel as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge of the district in which the port of arrival is located for the purpose of such inspection, or who fails to report and be examined by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at quarantine, if required by the master of the vessel. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therein, multiply such bonds by two, but not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such default occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. Any section, as amended, shall apply to all deserters within the jurisdiction of the court in which the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to which he departed is found, or in which the master of such vessel shall reside or have his principal office, or in which the port of departure or arrival is situated, and shall be in addition to any other liability or penalty to which such deserter or the master of such vessel may be subject. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therein, remit any penalty incurred under this section, or any part thereof, upon such terms as he may deem proper, and may settle and compromise any such penalty with the approval of the court in which any action or proceeding for the recovery thereof may be pending, or before the commencement of such action or proceeding. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to the extent and under such conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alien's treatment in the United States as a passenger in transit through the United States from any place outside thereof, or temporarily to the extent necessary to obtain surgical treatment, or because of an emergency, or for the purpose of obtaining other seamen to take the place of aliens so detained on board such vessel, unless such seaman is destined to a port in the United States and is a bona fide member of the crew of a vessel arriving at such port, and intends to depart on board such vessel or some other vessel within the period of time allowed by the Attorney General to do so. Until the final determination of the case of any alien seaman detained on board any vessel such vessel shall not depart from the port of arrival without the consent of the Attorney General, except that such vessel may depart from any place outside thereof, or first port in the United States, without the consent of the Attorney General, if such alien seaman has been inspected and passed upon by the immigration officer at such place or port, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel has given a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment of the head tax imposed by section 2 of this Act in the case of such alien seaman. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such tax, or while the case of any such alien seaman is being considered by the Attorney General, except as above provided by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therein, remit any such tax in whole or in part under such conditions as he may deem proper, and may settle and compromise any such tax with the approval of the court in which any action or proceeding for the recovery thereof may be pending, or before the commencement of such action or proceeding. (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

(d) Upon first an alien seaman is allowed to land temporarily by the master of any vessel as a deserter, shall be taken into custody and returned to the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived and such expense shall not be treated clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or shipwreck, and when the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel other than a vessel of war of a country the seamen employed on which are entitled to the privileges of section 4 hereof fails to deport any alien seaman employed on such vessel when required so to do by the Alfonso General or any immigrant inspector, or fails to detain on board any alien seaman when ordered so to do by the Alfonso General, or fails to deport any alien seaman who has been granted a temporary permit to land during the period for which such permit is granted, or fails to pay the cost of maintenance and treatment of any such alien seaman while detained in a hospital, or fails to perform any other duty required by the provisions of this section, such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Alfonso General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such remission as in the Alfonso General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant aliens arriving after the date of the enactment hereof.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not abscond upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the Alfonso General.

(e) If the Alfonso General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Alfonso General.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or to transship to such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection shall not be performed on board), and has certified in writing to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel that the immigration officer or the medical officer of the port has found no disease or defect which will be the cause of such seaman becoming a public charge, or which will endanger the public health, and has granted a permit to land. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, if such seaman is afflicted with any such disease or defect, other than those excepted by the Attorney General, or if it is claimed that such seaman is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, until a boarding officer has been detailed by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to examine such seaman on board the vessel, after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by said immigration officer at the port of arrival, and certified in writing to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel that no such seaman has been found afflicted with any such disease or defect, other than those excepted by the Attorney General, and that no such seaman is a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall have given a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment of the hospital dues and expenses, and the head tax provided for by this Act, in respect of such seaman, in such amount, not exceeding $300 for each seaman, as may be required by the Attorney General, and shall have deposited with the collector of customs the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required, which deposit shall be refunded or withheld in accordance with the provisions of section 35 of this Act. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such boarding officer at any port at which he may deem the same unnecessary, and may refund the deposit required by this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, in his discretion and upon such terms as he may prescribe, waive the provisions of this section, as amended, shall apply to all Canadian seamen arriving at ports in the United States from foreign contiguous territory, or from adjacent islands, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the payment of such head tax in respect of any such seaman who is found to be suffering from any disease or defect excepted by the Attorney General, or who is certified by the master of any vessel to be destitute, shall be taken into evidence to a greater extent than may be necessary to determine whether such seaman belongs to any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, or is afflicted with any such disease or defect, other than those excepted by the Attorney General, or who is certified by the master of any vessel to be destitute, shall be taken into consideration by the Attorney General in the question of the payment of the head tax provided for by this section. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such boarding officer at any port at which he may deem the same unnecessary, and may refund the deposit required by this section. This section, as amended, shall apply to all Canadian seamen arriving at ports in the United States from foreign contiguous territory, on land or over railroads, but shall not apply to seamen employed in the service of the United States or of the Panama Railroad Company.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on some other vessel, within such time as may be prescribed by the master of such vessel or as a condition of the permission granted to him to land temporarily, shall be taken into custody and detained on board or at such place as may be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival pending the determination of the question of his admissibility to the United States, and shall be subject to the provisions of section 19 of this Act relating to the deportation of aliens.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or the payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manner is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 3E. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and whether destined to the United States or not, and also the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively occupy, and the amount of money in the possession of each, and such other information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master, to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave the port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been discharged or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists of aliens required to be delivered, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a time before as above specified; and no such vessel shall be cleared while it remains during: for such time as may be permitted or ordered: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (38 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for the purpose of taking on board his effects and such provisions as may be necessary for the use of such alien seaman during the vessel's stay in port, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seamen on board until after such inspection or to deport such seamen if so required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General, or who fails to comply with such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the safekeeping of such seamen, shall pay for the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for each and every such alien seaman so failing $1,000 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers until any such fine has been paid or a bond duly executed by the master of such vessel with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all branches without limitation independent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Front fines on alien seamen did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to detain or deport after reimbursement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens mentioned on page (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate vessel is named in a declaration, a supplemental list must be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seaman, including names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port of a place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, stating the position therein, the last foreign port in the alpha's company, when and where they were respectively shipped to or engaged, and description those to be had of each seaman. It shall be the duty of the master, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien seaman has left the vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of port departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of port departure. It shall be the duty of each alien employee who was not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall be employed thereon at the time of port departure, to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as employed, the name of the vessel on which employed, and such other information likely to lead to his identification: and illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, information of such alien, and such other information likely to lead to his apprehension: and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof to deliver to each immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of port departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of port departure. It shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel to report in writing to each immigration officer the name of any alien employee who shall desert or shall not be found on board when the vessel is ready to depart from any port of the United States, and such report shall be made before the departure of such vessel from such port. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with any of the requirements of this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient sureties to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel, remit or cancel any penalty incurred or which may be incurred under this section, in any sum not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

That section 36, as amended, shall apply to all beneficial owners of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to the same extent as it applies to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman on board the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was transferred by the master of such vessel as a member of the crew of another vessel or otherwise with the consent of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived, but such presumption may be overcome to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, but such presumption may be overcome to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, such alien seaman shall be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expenses shall be limited not to exceed clearance fees that would have been paid if it had remained to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens shall be prepared in duplicate, typewritten, and the sheets numbered consecutively. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, including names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port at which said vessel shall first arrive a complete manifest, in duplicate, of all aliens, including those in transit through the United States to foreign countries, who may be on board said vessel, whether they have been lawfully admitted to the United States or not, and whether they have documents or not, and whether they are destined to the United States or not, and also of all aliens who may have been on board said vessel and have been taken off at any port or place in the United States or elsewhere, and shall furnish such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by the Attorney General, and shall produce for examination all such aliens. Such manifest shall be made out in such form and contain such particulars concerning each alien as the Attorney General may by regulation prescribe; and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of every such vessel shall deliver to the principal immigration officer at each port at which such vessel shall touch a true copy of such manifest, certified by the master to be correct, and shall furnish such additional information relative to such aliens as may be required by the said officer after the departure of such vessel from a foreign port. Such manifest shall be prepared and delivered in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such manifest, or who refuses or neglects to answer truthfully and completely to the best of his knowledge any question touching the immigration, naturalization, or exclusion of any alien, or who refuses or neglects to detain any alien on board said vessel when required so to do by any immigration officer, or to deliver any such alien to the custody of any officer entitled to receive and detain such alien, or who refuses or neglects to prevent any such alien from landing in the United States in violation of law, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom any such violation occurs. No vessel shall be cleared while any fine imposed upon the master thereof remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains under review by the Attorney General in the discretion of the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such application in writing therefor, the Attorney General in his discretion shall remit any penalty in excess of the amount of the actual expenses incurred by reason of the failure of the master to deliver any seaman duly shipped or engaged, shall apply to all penalties wholly independent of the number of seamen in respect of whom they were incurred. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any penalty imposed under this section, or any part thereof, upon the production of such evidence as he may require that the person upon whom such penalty was imposed was not a member of the crew, or was not connected with the vessel at the time the cause for the imposition of such penalty arose, and that such penalty was imposed without the connivance of the master or owner of the vessel. Nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve any master from any penalty or forfeiture imposed upon him by any other provision of law.

(b) If the Attorney General finds that a master has refused to take on board any alien seaman who has been ordered on board his vessel for departure by the Attorney General or any immigration officer, or has refused to detain any such alien seaman on board his vessel after notification and demand so to do, or has refused to receive back on board his vessel any such alien seaman who may have been ordered deported from the United States, or has refused to take such alien seaman to the foreign port to which his vessel is destined, or has refused to pay the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman while detained at a hospital or elsewhere, or has refused to pay the cost of the removal of such alien seaman from the United States, such master shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such refusal, and in addition thereto shall be liable to the United States for the cost of the maintenance of such alien seaman while detained at a hospital or elsewhere and the cost of his removal from the United States, which cost may be recovered in a civil suit.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any immigration officer or the master of any vessel is a party to any fraud or unlawful contrivance to enable any alien seaman to enter the United States, such master and such immigration officer shall each be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of the master to permit such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(e) If the master of any vessel fails to report and deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port any alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, or who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of the master to permit such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal, such master shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

(f) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(g) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(h) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(i) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(j) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(k) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(l) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(m) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(n) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(o) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal. Such master shall also report the name of every alien seaman who shall be left behind by reason of the refusal of such alien seaman to depart from the United States, and the reason for such refusal.

(p) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived, or on which he may be duly entered to depart, shall be taken from the vessel by the master thereof and delivered to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and such master shall report and deliver every alien seaman who shall desert from his vessel while in port, or who shall be discharged from his vessel in port, or who shall be left behind by reason of the illness of such alien seaman, to the immigration officer in charge of the port, and shall report the cause of such alien seaman's absence. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be furnished or postal, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively naturalized or expatriated, and specifying those to be held on board when discharged at the port of arrival; or state clearly and definitely that there are no such aliens employed on such vessel. Such lists shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and delivered to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival before any of the alien members of the crew shall be allowed to land from the vessel, existing regulations prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired on and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists herein required, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided, or for each alien concerning whom a material omission occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Liens of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens imposed by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fines prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 1e9) prior thereto has been waived, the deposit specified in § 150.15–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, or adjacent islands as the Attorney General may prescribe for the aliens' departure, temporarily or for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, or who fails to detain such seaman pursuant to any such immigration order or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for the use of the United States a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of such sum, or such bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof as may be required by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. Approved by the collector of customs. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 167.)

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from such place outside contiguous territory, or that he was returned by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seamen. Reimbursement by the immigration officer of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its behalf. Enforced by the collector of the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164–165; 38 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens of alien immigrant port of vessel (Form I–418) shall not be destroyed or pared, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That nine alternate of the vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival their respective subpoenas, and such officer shall require the production of and shall examine the passports of all aliens employed on such vessel, examine the positions they respectively hold in the ships company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and such other facts as to the history, character, and identity of such aliens as may be considered necessary by the Attorney General shall by regulations prescribe. Such examination shall be had before the vessel shall be admitted to entry in the United States, except that in the discretion of the Attorney General, under such regulations as he may prescribe, such examination may be had at such time after the vessel has been admitted to entry as the Attorney General may deem practicable. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to a penalty of $300 for each alien concerning whom such refusal or neglect occurs. Before any such vessel shall be granted clearance papers after the examination of aliens shall have been completed as herein provided, the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the cost of the examination of such aliens by the immigrant inspectors at the port of arrival, and a reasonable charge for the services of interpreters, and for the use of any special quarters provided for such examination, which sum shall be refunded to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the extent that it may not be required for such purposes. The Attorney General may, from time to time, determine the charges to be collected for the services and use of quarters aforesaid, and the moneys collected shall be covered into the Treasury as a part of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws for the fiscal year in which collected. Not to exceed $25,000 of the moneys so collected in any fiscal year may be expended, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, for the hire of such additional immigrant inspectors, clerks, and interpreters as may be necessary from time to time for the performance of the duties imposed upon officers of the United States Immigrant Service by the provisions of this section, and for the purchase, exchange, maintenance, and repair of motor-propelled passenger-carrying vehicles required for official use in the enforcement of the provisions of this section and of section 16 of this Act. Not to exceed $5,000 of the moneys so collected in any fiscal year may be expended, in the discretion of the Secretary of Commerce, for the rental of such quarters as may be necessary for the proper performance of the duties of the United States Immigrant Service at ports where suitable quarters are not available for that purpose without rental charge. Such moneys shall be available for the payment of rent, janitor service, fuel, light, and water for such quarters, and for furniture therefor, when approved by the Secretary of Commerce. Not to exceed $1,000 of the moneys so collected in any fiscal year may be expended, in the discretion of the Secretary of Commerce, for the rental of such additional quarters at Ellis Island, New York Harbor, as may be necessary for the proper performance of the duties of the United States Immigrant Service at that port, and for the payment of rent, janitor service, fuel, light, and water for such quarters, and for furniture therefor, when approved by the Secretary of Commerce. Not to exceed $2,000 of the moneys so collected in any fiscal year may be expended, in the discretion of the Secretary of Commerce, for the rental of such additional quarters at the port of Boston, Massachusetts, as may be necessary for the proper performance of the duties of the United States Immigrant Service at that port, and for the payment of rent, janitor service, fuel, light, and water for such quarters, and for furniture therefor, when approved by the Secretary of Commerce. Not to exceed $1,000 for each alien assigned to duty by the Secretary of Commerce at the seaboard end of any transcontinental railway for the inspection of aliens arriving in Canada who intend to enter the United States, and for the expenses of such inspection, including the hire of conveyances, when approved by the Secretary of Commerce. The appropriations contained in this section, as amended, shall be available for the fiscal year 1918 and thereafter.

(b) Every alien, as above defined, shall be examined by an immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States, except that in the discretion of the Secretary of Commerce, or such officer as he may designate for the purpose, such examination may be had before the sailing of the vessel from the foreign port, and in such case certificates of such examination shall be issued by the examining officer and delivered to such alien, which certificates shall be presented by such alien to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival of the vessel in the United States, and such other examination shall be had of such alien as may be prescribed by this Act. Such examination shall be had with all convenient speed, and the inspection and medical examination of aliens in the first cabin or saloon shall be made in such place as shall be designated by the master of the vessel for the purpose, and the inspection and medical examination of aliens in the second cabin or steerage shall be made in such place on board such vessel as shall be designated for the purpose by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port. Every alien who may not appear to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector at the time of his arrival to be clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt entitled to admission shall be detained on board or at such place designated by the immigrant inspector for the purpose, for a period not exceeding five days, unless sooner removed or released therefrom, pending further investigation of the facts in his case. Pending the final determination of the facts in the case of any alien detained for special inquiry under the provisions of this Act, the decision of the immigrant inspector may be reviewed by the Secretary of Commerce upon such evidence as may be by him required or deemed material. Every alien who may not appear to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector at the time of his arrival to be clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt entitled to admission shall be detained on board or at such place designated by the immigrant inspector for the purpose, for a period not exceeding five days, unless sooner removed or released therefrom, pending further investigation of the facts in his case. Pending the final determination of the facts in the case of any alien detained for special inquiry under the provisions of this Act, the decision of the immigrant inspector may be reviewed by the Secretary of Commerce upon such evidence as may be by him required or deemed material. Every alien who may not appear to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector at the time of his arrival to be clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt entitled to admission shall be detained on board or at such place designated by the immigrant inspector for the purpose, for a period not exceeding five days, unless sooner removed or released therefrom, pending further investigation of the facts in his case. Pending the final determination of the facts in the case of any alien detained for special inquiry under the provisions of this Act, the decision of the immigrant inspector may be reviewed by the Secretary of Commerce upon such evidence as may be by him required or deemed material.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, shall be permitted to land from any such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman or caused him to be inspected by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, and has given him a certificate of such inspection or a permit to land. Such inspection shall be made as soon as practicable after the vessel arrives at the port. Any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall, after inspection as provided in this section, be deported as a seaman unless he is admitted to the United States for permanent residence or shall produce a passport and a visa as a nonimmigrant or shall be admitted to the United States as a nonimmigrant under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein in violation of this section, or who shall fail to depart with the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel leaving the port within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, irrespective of the time limitations therein contained. Any alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel in the United States shall be deported as a seaman if he shall come ashore at any time from such vessel, whether or not he has been inspected and landed as provided in this section. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein and who shall be found in the United States at any time more than five years after such alien seaman has been inspected and landed as provided in this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, irrespective of the time limitations therein contained. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving therein and who shall be found in the United States at any time more than five years after such alien seaman has been inspected and landed as provided in this section shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 of this Act, irrespective of the time limitations therein contained.

(c) If the Attorney General shall be satisfied that any alien seaman has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, and has been permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, and has failed to depart with the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel leaving the port within such time as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the amount of such penalty has been paid or a bond with sufficient surety given to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, where such vessel returns to the port from which such seaman was shipped, or to a port in the country contiguous thereto, and lands such seaman at such port. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant inspection districts established pursuant to section 25 of this Act. (43 Stat. 164–167, as amended by 44 Stat. 812; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

(d) Every alien, as above defined, shall be examined by an immigrant inspector at the port of arrival in the United States, except that in the discretion of the Secretary of Commerce, or such officer as he may designate for the purpose, such examination may be had before the sailing of the vessel from the foreign port, and in such case certificates of such examination shall be issued by the examining officer and delivered to such alien, which certificates shall be presented by such alien to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival of the vessel in the United States, and such other examination shall be had of such alien as may be prescribed by this Act. Such examination shall be had with all convenient speed, and the inspection and medical examination of aliens in the first cabin or saloon shall be made in such place as shall be designated by the master of the vessel for the purpose, and the inspection and medical examination of aliens in the second cabin or steerage shall be made in such place on board such vessel as shall be designated for the purpose by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port. Every alien who may not appear to the satisfaction of the immigrant inspector at the time of his arrival to be clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt entitled to admission shall be detained on board or at such place designated by the immigrant inspector for the purpose, for a period not exceeding five days, unless sooner removed or released therefrom, pending further investigation of the facts in his case. Pending the final determination of the facts in the case of any alien detained for special inquiry under the provisions of this Act, the decision of the immigrant inspector may be reviewed by the Secretary of Commerce upon such evidence as may be by him required or deemed material.

(43 Stat. 164–167, as amended by 44 Stat. 812; 8 U. S. C. 168.)

In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 3E. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to any port of the United States, the commander, or master, chartered or agent, or consignee of such vessel shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at each port where such vessel shall arrive a complete list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, and whether citizens of the United States or not, and shall indicate after the name of each person whether he or she is an immigrant alien, a citizen of the United States, a non-immigrant alien, or an alien entitled to enter the United States for the temporary visit of a diplomatic visa, and shall state the nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each such person, and the intended place of permanent residence in the United States, and the final destination, if any, of each such person not intending to remain permanently in the United States; and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the right to admission of each person under the provisions of this Act or the regulations made in pursuance thereof; and the master, commander, or agent of such vessel shall deliver to each such person, before the departure of such vessel from the last port at which such person shall have been required to land, a card, the form and contents of which shall be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, stating the name of the vessel, the number assigned to the manifest sheet containing the name of such person, and such other information as may be required by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival; and such master, commander, or agent shall deliver to each such person, at the time of inspection by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, a landing certificate or permit, which shall be surrendered by such person to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry. Upon the refusal by any person to comply with the requirements of this section, or with the regulations made pursuant thereto, such person shall be taken before a board of special inquiry for examination, and unless found clearly and beyond a reasonable doubt entitled to admission shall be deported as provided in this Act. Any master, commander, or agent of any such vessel who refuses or fails to deliver the list required by this section, or who refuses or fails to deliver any such card or permit to any such person, or who refuses or fails to detain any such person on board until the inspection of such person has been completed, or who refuses or fails to deliver any such person not admitted to the United States to the custody of the master, commander, or agent of the vessel upon which such person arrived at a port of the United States for return to the port from which such vessel last sailed, or who refuses or fails to comply with the regulations of the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, governing the admission and detention of aliens on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States, shall pay a penalty of $300 for each and every such violation: Provided, That fines imposed under the provisions of this section shall not be remitted or refunded except on the certificate of the Commissioner General of Immigration that in his opinion the case is entitled to remission on account of extenuating circumstances: Provided further, That no penalty shall be imposed under the provisions of this section for the failure to deliver the list required by this section in the case of any vessel which shall have been allowed to depart without the inspection provided for in this section, if the master, commander, or agent of such vessel shall have delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all persons on board such vessel, and shall have complied with all the requirements of this section as to such persons whose names are contained in such list, and shall have taken such measures as are necessary to secure the detention on board such vessel of such persons as may be required to remain for examination or hearing: Provided further, That the penalty of $300 for each alien not listed shall not be imposed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "non-immigrant" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained by the master of such vessel when ordered by the Secretary of Labor to depart in pursuance of the provisions of this section, or deported to any country other than the country from which he entered the United States, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, at the option of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or steamship company bringing such alien seaman to the United States, except upon certification by the Secretary of Labor that the case of such alien seaman has been specially reported to him by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization with the facts in connection therewith and his recommendation thereon, and that in his opinion the ends of justice require the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or the Canal Zone, or any island adjacent thereto which is subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, except Panama, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the humane treatment, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) Every alien seaman employed on such vessel shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and every alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until a sum sufficient to secure the payment thereof has been deposited with the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand or reduce the amount of such deposit or the bond with sufficient sureties to secure the payment thereof. Upon the filing of a bond with sufficient sureties in a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient sureties in a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond in the penal sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General may prescribe, multiple such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman, as amended, shall apply to all penalties arising subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(c) If the Attorney General finds after deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but shall not be required to defray the expense of any alien seaman other than the cost of his maintenance by the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contest, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to the regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 1e8.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contest, shall be permitted to land in the United States except for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien, unless such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), at the time inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), at the time inspected such seaman on board after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all immigrant aliens arriving subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport alien pursuant to the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien may be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pointing the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens required by section 12 of the Act of March 4, 1929 (45 Stat. 1512; 8 U. S. C. 136), to be prepared in quadruplicate on Form I–418, shall not be considered as taking the place of the list described below. When an alternative schedule is used, the "MANIFEST" is additional to that list, which must be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival before the vessel is admitted to entry. The master is to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking, under the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 136), to enter the United States from foreign contiguous territory.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily for the sole purpose of obtaining treatment for a disease or injury which arose subsequent to such alien's arrival in the United States, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel after inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman on arriving in the United States shall be examined by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and no alien seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily from the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be deported to another country, until a final order of the Secretary of Labor shall have been made on the manifest. It shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of every vessel bringing an alien seaman to the United States to report the name of such alien seaman to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and to detain such alien seaman on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has otherwise authorized the landing of such alien seaman. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or purser of any vessel who shall fail to report the name of any alien seaman as required by this section, or who shall fail to detain such alien seaman on board such vessel after inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the [illegible] do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, properly in addition thereto, and of all persons who have been paid off and discharged from such vessel during the present voyage.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessels in the United States from ports in contiguous territory of foreign countries, or vessels plying between such ports, the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall report and deliver lists containing the names of all alien members of the crew, whether destined to the United States or not, and the last permanent residence of each such alien member, and shall, if required by the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, detain such alien members on board the vessel until the inspector has visited the vessel and passed upon the right of each alien member to enter the United States. Such lists shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel who shall refuse to report, deliver lists, or detain alien members as herein provided, or who shall refuse to the immigrant inspector in charge of the port of arrival the right to board such vessel, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such offense. For any subsequent violation of this section such master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require, authorize, or permit the detention of any alien seaman who is a citizen of the United States or who is not subject to the head tax levied by section 2 of this Act, or who has been admitted to the United States and who is not destined to a foreign country, unless such detention is necessary to secure his presence as a witness in connection with any case or proceeding arising under the provisions of this Act relating to the importation, exclusion, or deportation of any alien seaman, or to secure information in regard to the importation, exclusion, or deportation of any such alien seaman. The Commissioner-General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, shall make such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this section, and shall prescribe the manner in which lists of alien seamen shall be prepared and delivered, and the forms of such lists. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section or the rules and regulations made thereunder shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each and every such violation.

SEC. 150.15. Liens of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the liens required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 151), have been terminated, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 153) pending need served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.14, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who shall refuse to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or to detain such alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do or shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond filed sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every fine and penalty accruing under the provisions of this section may be recovered in the name of the United States of America in the district court of the district in which the port of arrival is located, or in any other district court of the United States into which the vessel may depart, and the Attorney General is authorized to employ counsel and institute such proceedings in the name of the United States as may be necessary to collect such fines and penalties.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen or the vessel on which he arrived will be unduly burdensome or that the collection of any fine or penalty will be unduly delayed or the amount thereof reduced, he may accept a bond or undertaking in such amount and with such surety or sureties as he may deem necessary, conditioned upon the payment of such fine or penalty as may be imposed after due notice and opportunity for hearing, and upon the performance of such other duties as he may require with respect to such alien seamen, and may upon the giving of such bond or undertaking remit the detention of the vessel or alien seamen. Upon the breach of any condition of such bond or undertaking the full amount for which the principal and sureties thereon became bound may be sued for and recovered by the United States. Any vessel or alien seaman released upon the giving of such bond or undertaking shall be liable to seizure and detention in the same manner and to the same extent as if such bond or undertaking had not been given, and the sureties on any such bond or undertaking shall, in writing, appoint the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel was granted clearance as their agent upon whom process in any action or proceeding against them may be served with like effect as if served personally upon them in such district, and shall annex to such bond or undertaking a stipulation in writing setting forth the name, official character, and address of such agent.

(d) Every fine and penalty imposed under the provisions of this section shall be a lien upon the vessel in respect to which the violation occurred, and such vessel may be libeled therefor in the district court of the United States in the district within which such vessel may be found. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel while any such fine or penalty remains unpaid, or while the question of liability therefor or the amount thereof is being determined by the Secretary of Commerce and Labor or in the courts, or while any suit or proceeding brought hereunder is pending, or while any such vessel is detained upon the order of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor in connection with the collection of any such fine or penalty or the prosecution of any such suit or proceeding.

(e) The Commissioner-General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary for the proper execution of the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional medical officers, surgeons, and other employees as may be necessary for the purpose of such execution, and may make all necessary contracts on behalf of the United States.

(f) Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who violates any of the provisions of this section or the rules and regulations made thereunder shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each and every such violation.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and not before the vessel has been granted free pratique. (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in addition to the list called for by the master. "Alien" as used in the immigration laws means any person not a native-born or naturalized citizen of the United States. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–420) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to a place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons, including the members of the crew, destined to the United States who are on board such vessel, showing the full name, nationality, last residence, calling, and intended place of permanent abode in the United States of each such person, and such additional information relative thereto as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and such list or manifest shall be subscribed and sworn to before the immigration officer at the port of arrival by the master or commanding officer of such vessel, which oath the said officer is hereby authorized to administer. Any master or commanding officer who knowingly fails to deliver such list or manifest, or who knowingly includes therein any false statement concerning any person therein named, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each such offense. The master or commanding officer of every such vessel shall also deliver to the said immigration officer at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last port outside the United States a list containing the names of all persons who have been taken on board during the stay of such vessel in such port, and the said immigration officer may require the master or commanding officer to prove by the ship's company that the list delivered by him contains the names of all persons who have been taken on board during the stay of the vessel in port. Any master or commanding officer who refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to prove the truth of the same as required by this section, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000. The Commissioner General of Immigration is authorized to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this section, including the number of copies of the list or manifest to be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and the form thereof, and the Secretary of Labor may extend the time within which the list or manifest shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the case of vessels making frequent trips across the land borders between the United States and contiguous countries.

SEC. 150.13. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 1201), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inspection of such alien seamen on board such vessel has been transmitted by the immigration officer in charge at the port to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the first port of entry in the United States, except temporarily for medical examination, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the collector of customs at the port of departure. Such regulations may provide that the master of any vessel may be granted clearance without the presence on board of the immigrant inspector, if the master shall deposit with the collector of customs a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment of such sum as the Attorney General may determine, conditioned upon the delivery by the master of the vessel to the immigrant inspector at the first port of entry in the United States of all such seamen as may be specified by the immigrant inspector, or upon the production of such seamen to the immigrant inspector at such port within such time as may be specified by the Attorney General. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel having on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure has been informed by the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel that the immigration officer at the first port of entry in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone has been furnished by the master with the list required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 1201), and has been informed by the immigrant inspector that all seamen employed on such vessel at the time of her departure from such port of entry in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone, specified in such list, have been inspected by him, or have been specifically reported by the immigration officer at such port of entry as not requiring inspection by the immigrant inspector, or have been specifically reported by the immigration officer at such port of entry as having been temporarily detained for medical examination, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the collector of customs at the port of departure. Such regulations may provide that the master of any vessel may be granted clearance without the presence on board of the immigrant inspector, if the master shall deposit with the collector of customs a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment of such sum as the Attorney General may determine, conditioned upon the delivery by the master of the vessel to the immigrant inspector at the first port of entry in the United States of all such seamen as may be specified by the immigrant inspector, or upon the production of such seamen to the immigrant inspector at such port within such time as may be specified by the Attorney General. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure has been informed by the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel that the immigration officer at the first port of entry in the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone has been furnished by the master with the list required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel from a foreign port at the United States from via Canada at the port of arrival shall examine the manifest of all aliens coming to inspect to ascertain if there is on board any alien who is inadmissible under the provisions of this Act, and shall report to the Secretary of Labor the facts in relation thereto, and such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such report shall be made in writing under oath, and shall be in such form and contain such particulars as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. The master of any vessel, arriving at a destination in the United States from a foreign port, who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to enter the vessel for the purpose of inspecting the alien passengers, or who refuses to detain any alien on board the vessel when required so to do by any such inspector, or who refuses to comply with the provisions of this Act relative to the manifesting and inspection of aliens arriving at ports of the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the port at which such vessel arrives a penalty of $300 for each such alien with respect to whom such master refuses to comply with the provisions of this Act, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the payment of such penalty or the giving of a bond or undertaking sufficient to cover the same, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized agent, and such penalty shall constitute a lien upon the vessel which may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may be found within the jurisdiction of the port at which such alien shall arrive. If any such master shall fail to deliver to any such inspector any list required of him by this Act, or shall refuse to answer any question put to him by any such inspector in relation to the immigration, right, or privilege of any alien who shall arrive on any such vessel, or in relation to any matter connected with the provisions of this Act, or shall refuse to detain any such alien on board his vessel when required so to do by any such inspector, or shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this Act relative to the manifesting and inspection of aliens arriving at ports of the United States, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the port at which such vessel arrives a penalty of $300 for each such alien with respect to whom such master refuses to comply with the provisions of this Act, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the payment of such penalty or the giving of a bond or undertaking sufficient to cover the same, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, or his authorized agent, and such penalty shall constitute a lien upon the vessel which may be enforced by libel in rem in the district court of the United States for the district in which such vessel may be found within the jurisdiction of the port at which such alien shall arrive. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pointing the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of crew and other persons to crews (Form I–418) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternative address is given "nowhere", a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 30. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or other officer or agent of such vessel to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel at the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as is in the steamship agent's possession, and such other information likely to lead to the apprehension of any alien illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or other officer or agent of such vessel to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has been found secreted on board, and to deliver to such immigration officer on demand any such alien secreted or concealed on board. Any master, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or other officer or agent of such vessel who refuses or neglects to comply with any of the provisions of this section, or who refuses to answer any question touching the identity or nationality of any person on board such vessel put to him by any immigrant inspector or other officer in charge of the port, or who refuses to detain any alien on board when ordered so to do by such officer, or who refuses to assist in the search of such vessel, when required so to do by such officer, or who refuses to prevent any alien on board such vessel from communicating with persons on shore until after such vessel has been duly visited and passed by the immigrant inspector, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for each and every such offense the sum of $120 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, not such vessel shall be permitted or refused: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 889–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or internment as such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver such manifest or any part thereof, or who fails to detain any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board until such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located for each and every such offense the sum of $120 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens irrespective of date of entry.

(b) Front fines as so imposed and collected shall be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport alien seamen by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seamen he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such duty may be performed by the master of any vessel of the same nationality as the alien seaman if such vessel will accept him as a member of its complement without additional expense to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of the crew (Form I-418) shall not be terminated on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alteration, addition, or correction is made in the list after it has been delivered by the master to the immigration officer, it must be initialed by the master "as to alteration No. ——," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seeking to enter the United States from foreign contiguous territory, the list of changes of alien members should be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and not to the inspector at the border.

(43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a), 101 (c).)

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory, or intransit to such territory as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or for medical treatment, or because of an emergency rendering his departure on such vessel impracticable, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily during the period such vessel remains in port, unless specifically authorized by the Attorney General in his discretion, and pursuant to such conditions as he may prescribe, to be issued a landing permit. Any alien seaman employed on any vessel lying in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of the United States who shall land in the United States, except temporarily during the period such vessel remains in port, unless specifically authorized by the Attorney General in his discretion, and pursuant to such conditions as he may prescribe, to be issued a landing permit, or who remains in the United States longer than the period for which such landing permit is granted, or who goes from the vessel to any place in the United States other than that specified in such landing permit, or who fails to report on board his vessel when she is ready to leave port, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155). Any alien seaman employed on any vessel lying in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of the United States who shall land in the United States, except temporarily during the period such vessel remains in port, unless specifically authorized by the Attorney General in his discretion, and pursuant to such conditions as he may prescribe, to be issued a landing permit, or who remains in the United States longer than the period for which such landing permit is granted, or who goes from the vessel to any place in the United States other than that specified in such landing permit, or who fails to report on board his vessel when she is ready to leave port, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155). Any alien seaman employed on any vessel lying in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of the United States who shall land in the United States, except temporarily during the period such vessel remains in port, unless specifically authorized by the Attorney General in his discretion, and pursuant to such conditions as he may prescribe, to be issued a landing permit, or who remains in the United States longer than the period for which such landing permit is granted, or who goes from the vessel to any place in the United States other than that specified in such landing permit, or who fails to report on board his vessel when she is ready to leave port, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155). Any alien seaman employed on any vessel lying in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of the United States who shall land in the United States, except temporarily during the period such vessel remains in port, unless specifically authorized by the Attorney General in his discretion, and pursuant to such conditions as he may prescribe, to be issued a landing permit, or who remains in the United States longer than the period for which such landing permit is granted, or who goes from the vessel to any place in the United States other than that specified in such landing permit, or who fails to report on board his vessel when she is ready to leave port, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155). Any alien seaman employed on any vessel lying in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of the United States who shall land in the United States, except temporarily during the period such vessel remains in port, unless specifically authorized by the Attorney General in his discretion, and pursuant to such conditions as he may prescribe, to be issued a landing permit, or who remains in the United States longer than the period for which such landing permit is granted, or who goes from the vessel to any place in the United States other than that specified in such landing permit, or who fails to report on board his vessel when she is ready to leave port, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of the United States, except for medical treatment, or because of an emergency rendering his departure on such vessel impracticable, or because of the application of the provisions of section 15 of this Act, or intransit to such territory as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or departation of such alien from the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily during the period such vessel remains in port, unless specifically authorized by the Attorney General in his discretion, and pursuant to such conditions as he may prescribe, to be issued a landing permit, or who remains in the United States longer than the period for which such landing permit is granted, or who goes from the vessel to any place in the United States other than that specified in such landing permit, or who fails to report on board his vessel when she is ready to leave port, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155).

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory of the United States shall be liable to the Attorney General for the full amount of the cost of maintenance of each alien seaman ordered detained on board or at the expense of the vessel, and for the cost of passage of each alien seaman ordered deported from the United States, unless the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel shall prove to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such alien seaman (which proof may be required to be furnished before the departure of the vessel from the United States) has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or that the owner, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel has been unable by the exercise of due diligence to prevent the illegal landing of such alien seaman and has immediately after the discovery of the illegal landing of such alien seaman notified the Attorney General thereof and has given all reasonable assistance to the immigration officers and the Attorney General in the apprehension of such alien seaman. Any such alien seaman may be arrested without warrant and taken into custody by any immigration officer or any officer authorized to make arrests for crimes against the United States, and may be detained pending a determination by the Attorney General as to whether he shall be deported. Pending such determination and the final disposition of the case, the Attorney General may, upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, release such alien seaman from detention upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of maintenance and passage to the country to which such alien seaman is to be deported, but such deposit shall not relieve the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel from any other duty or liability imposed by this Act or rules and regulations issued thereunder. Any such deposit shall be returned to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon the final disposition of the case. Any such alien seaman who shall have been ordered deported shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall prove to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that it was not reasonably practicable to deport such alien seaman on such vessel within a period of six months after the date of the final order of deportation, or unless such alien seaman shall be a member of the crew of any vessel bound for a port other than a port in the country to which such alien seaman is ordered deported and shall be required by the master of such vessel to return to such vessel and accompany her on her departure from the United States. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien seaman prior to the completion of any investigation or inquiry conducted by the Attorney General or his representative, or prior to the completion of any proceeding before any court in which the presence of such alien seaman may be required as a witness, or prior to his departure pursuant to the final order of the Attorney General.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall have been ordered deported shall be deported on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall prove to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that it was not reasonably practicable to deport such alien seaman on such vessel within a period of six months after the date of the final order of deportation, or unless such alien seaman shall be a member of the crew of any vessel bound for a port other than a port in the country to which such alien seaman is ordered deported and shall be required by the master of such vessel to return to such vessel and accompany her on her departure from the United States. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require the detention of any alien seaman prior to the completion of any investigation or inquiry conducted by the Attorney General or his representative, or prior to the completion of any proceeding before any court in which the presence of such alien seaman may be required as a witness, or prior to his departure pursuant to the final order of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman by reason of the treatment he would receive in the country to which he is ordered deported, or because of the recognized character of the work performed by such seaman on board merchant vessels during the present war, the Attorney General may, upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such seaman arrived in the United States, grant a conditional landing permit in accordance with such regulations as he may prescribe, for the period of the present war and for such period thereafter as the Attorney General deems necessary for the orderly liquidation of the activities of such seaman in the United States, upon the deposit by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which such seaman arrived in the United States of a sum sufficient in the opinion of the Attorney General to cover the cost of maintenance of such seaman pending his departure from the United States, and upon the furnishing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the departure of such seaman from the United States when required. Such bond shall be returned only upon the presentation of such seaman for departure on a vessel leaving a port of the United States for a port in the country to which such seaman was ordered deported, and upon the payment by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel of the cost of maintenance of such seaman from the date of the deposit of the sum sufficient to cover such cost to the date of departure of such seaman from the United States. Any such deposit may be applied by the Attorney General, upon the application of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, to the payment of such cost, and the deposit shall be increased by such additional amounts as may be necessary to pay such cost up to the date of departure of such seaman from the United States. Any such deposit, or any part thereof, shall be returned to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel upon the departure of such seaman from the United States, or upon the payment of such cost by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, if such payment is made after such departure. Any such deposit, or any part thereof, not returned within two years after the date of the final disposition of the case shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States. Any such bond shall be void upon the presentation for departure of such seaman and the payment of the cost of maintenance of such seaman from the date of the deposit of the sum sufficient to cover such cost to the date of departure of such seaman from the United States. Any such bond may be sued upon and recovered in the name of the United States in the event of the failure to present such seaman for departure and the payment of such cost of maintenance, or in the event of the failure to pay the cost of maintenance of such seaman from the date of the deposit of the sum sufficient to cover such cost to the date of departure of such seaman from the United States, in the amount of such cost of maintenance in excess of the amount of the deposit. Any such seaman who shall have been granted a conditional landing permit shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of this Act (8 U. S. C. 155) upon the termination of the period for which such landing permit was granted, or upon the failure of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel to comply with any of the conditions of such landing permit, or with any of the rules and regulations issued thereunder.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board vess vessel arriving in the United States from vess foreign ports, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the allowance thereof, and to the deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 163.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of vess vessel arriving in the United States from vess foreign ports shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, any alien seaman (which term includes a national of any country) employed on such vess vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, and (except as provided in subdivision (b)) has granted him a landing certificate, or has delivered to the master or agent of such vess vessel a certificate that such seaman has been found upon examination not to be entitled to land. Such certificate shall be delivered by the master or agent of such vess vessel to the immigration officer at the port of subsequent arrival in the United States of such seaman, unless he is sooner discharged from such vess vessel, and shall be surrendered by such seaman to the master or agent of such vess vessel upon his departure on such vess vessel from the United States. Any master or agent who fails to deliver any such certificate, or any seaman who fails to surrender any such certificate, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vess vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to pay any such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Front such fine in alien seaman did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vess vessel on which he arrived in the United States from vess a foreign place on the date of departure of such vess vessel, or if such vess vessel has been reported by the master in the United States as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to obtain a landing certificate from the immigration officer at the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vess vessel on which he arrived, but such vess vessel is detained to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vess vessel at the expense of the vess vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens on board vessels of the United States (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien arriving aboard is a "stowaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens aboard, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the alien's company, when and where they were respectively born, as far as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the last departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired or discharged, and of all persons who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, or any alien master, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be cleared pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of injury or peril of the vessel, while the vessel is in port, but in case of the failure of any such alien to depart from the United States from any place outside thereof on such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do or, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon deposit of such sum or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who does not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or appears to have been illegally landed, shall be arrested by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or customs officer and taken before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall be deported to the country to which he belongs unless the Attorney General shall otherwise direct.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Alfonso Espinosa, of the S.S. Ana, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien passengers or crewmen (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given it must be a definite "workaway," a definite to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens embarked on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively examined, and the names of all persons who have been taken from such vessel by legislation thereto; and after the arrival of such ship vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has disappeared or may disappear, and especially those to be held on the arrival of vessel at port of arrival; or there contained no such of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such ship vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall have been taken on board during the course of the voyage, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of all leave boat thereon at the time of not departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed: but in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such alien arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above as provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance beyond the determination of the duration of the limitis to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such duration upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 177), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of inability to the administrative officer prescribed by said section or to some prescribed by section 36 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 183) have been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively examined, and the names of all persons who have been taken from such vessel by legislation thereto; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has disappeared or may disappear, and especially those to be held on the arrival of vessel at port of arrival; or there contained no such of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such ship vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall have been taken on board during the course of the voyage, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and of all leave boat thereon at the time of not departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have deserted or landed: but in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such alien arriving and departing, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above as provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance beyond the determination of the duration of the limitis to the payment of such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such duration upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

ALIEN SEAMEN

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the sickness or injury of such seaman, or for the purpose of removal to a hospital or to such temporary refuge as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be required to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection at all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has caused such alien to be detained on board after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be taken before the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the case of any alien seaman who does not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport alien crewmember by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue detention of such vessel or expense not provided for by the master, he may cause such alien to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such deportation shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of aliens or other members of the crew (Form I–418) shall not be deemed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection, the "nationality" and not the "race" should be given.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no more of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and valid the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, master, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon such vessel at the time of the arrival but who may have been discharged, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired to fill vacancies, and the names, occupations, and last permanent addresses of all such persons. Any master, agent, consignee, or master or owner who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required by this section, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully any question relative to such aliens, or who shall refuse to allow the immigration officers access to the vessel for the purpose of examining the same, or who shall refuse to detain any such alien on board any vessel when ordered so to do by such officer, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall knowingly and willfully make any false statement or false report or shall knowingly and willfully fail to report the illegal landing of any alien shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who shall knowingly and willfully conceal, harbor, or shield from detection, or attempt to conceal, harbor, or shield from detection any such alien who shall have illegally landed from any vessel arriving at any port in the United States, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $2,000 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs, or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than one-half of the amount imposed by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all boarding stations subsequent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport after lawful entitlement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, he may, in his discretion, cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, or for such period as the master is required by the immediate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if ordered by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum if there is deposited with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all boarding stations subsequent to June 2, 1940.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete manifest of all persons on board such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed in the port of arrival; to list separately the citizens of the United States and aliens employed or carried in any capacity on such vessel, showing the names in full, ages, sex, and calling of each, the country of which they severally are citizens or subjects, the country from which they last came to the United States, and the intended future permanent or temporary residence or destination of each alien, the final port of discharge in the United States, and the name and address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came; to report to each immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien employed on such vessel, although having been duly shipped or engaged, fails to proceed on such vessel, or to leave the port in which such vessel arrives, or to leave the United States, or to perform the service agreed upon before the departure of any such vessel, giving a description of such alien, forwarding any money or baggage left by him, and stating the cause of his failure to proceed, so far as known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer in charge; and also to report the illness or injury of any alien employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at the port of destination, or the sickness or injury of any such alien occurring between the time of arrival and the time of departure therefrom: and also to report the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at any port of the United States, whether they have been shipped or signed on the articles of such vessel or not, and whether they have been discharged or not, and the cause of such discharge, and the amount of wages due to each such alien: and also to report the names of all aliens employed thereon at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port of the United States, whether they have been shipped or signed on the articles of such vessel or not, and whether they have been discharged or not, and the cause of such discharge, and the amount of wages due to each such alien: and also to report the name of every alien who shall have been a member of the crew of such vessel and who shall have deserted while in the United States, the amount of wages due to such alien, and a description of such alien: and also to report the name of every alien, if any, who may have been left behind on account of illness or injury or for any other cause, when such vessel departs from a port in the United States, and the cause or reason for such alien not proceeding to his destination: and also to report the name of every alien who may have been treated in a hospital or who may have died on board during the voyage, and the cause of death in each case: and also to report the name of every alien who may have been granted shore leave, the length of time for which granted, and the amount of money, if any, paid to each such alien for his expenses while on shore: and also to report the number of pieces and weight of the baggage of each alien, and the amount of money belonging to each which has been taken charge of by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or officer in charge of such vessel: and also to report the name of every alien who shall have been detained on board for special examination by the medical officer at the time of inspection, and the cause of such detention: and also to report the name of every alien who shall have been ordered to be detained on board by the surgeon of the vessel, and the cause of such detention: and also to report the name of every alien who shall have been ordered to be detained on board by the medical officer at the port of arrival, and the cause of such detention: and also to report the name of every alien who shall have been taken from such vessel in order that he might be treated in a hospital, and the name of the hospital to which he was taken: and also to report such other matters as may be required by the rules and regulations hereinafter prescribed for the proper execution of the provisions of this Act relating to the entry of aliens: Provided, That the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing to the United States any alien who has been refused a visa by the consular officer because such alien is ineligible to citizenship and does not fall within any of the classes enumerated in subdivisions (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h) of section 3 of this Act, shall report the name, nationality, and last permanent residence of such alien to the Commissioner General of Immigration and to the American consular officer who refused the visa.

SEC. 37. (a) Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel bringing an alien to any port of the United States who shall refuse or fail to deliver to the proper immigration officer at such port a complete list of all the persons on board such vessel, in accordance with the requirements of section 36 of this Act, or who shall refuse or fail to report, or to make any affidavit required by, the Commissioner General of Immigration or any of the boards of special inquiry, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien on board any vessel when ordered by the Commissioner General of Immigration or any of the boards of special inquiry, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver any such alien who has been certified for special inquiry at the request of the Commissioner General of Immigration or any of the boards of special inquiry, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with the regulations governing the admission of aliens to the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, while it remains unpaid: nor shall such sum be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum.

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, or entering the United States from any place outside the United States, or engaged on board any vessel leaving the United States for any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or hospitalization, or because of sickness, or injury certified by the medical examiner, or for the purpose of obtaining treatment or hospitalization, or pending arrangements for his departure, or when specifically certified by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, for the purpose of and during the period of his employment on board a vessel touching at ports of the United States and calling at foreign ports, or for the purpose of and during the period of his transit across the United States in pursuance of a bona fide contract with a vessel for his employment on board a vessel departing from a port of the United States: Provided, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is employed on board a vessel of the United States operating regularly between the United States and foreign contiguous territory: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman employed on board any vessel which shall touch at a port or place in the United States during the regular course of a voyage between foreign ports or places: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is employed on board a vessel of the United States engaged in trade between the United States and the Philippine Islands, Guam, Tutuila, or the Virgin Islands of the United States: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman employed on board any vessel which shall touch at a port or place in the United States during the regular course of a voyage between foreign ports or places, if such alien seaman is employed on board such vessel at the time of its last arrival at a port in the United States and has been certified for special inquiry at the request of the Commissioner General of Immigration or any of the boards of special inquiry: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is employed on board a vessel of the United States operating between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone, or between ports of the United States: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman employed on board any vessel which shall touch at a port or place in the United States during the regular course of a voyage between ports in the Panama Canal Zone: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is employed on board a vessel of the United States engaged in trade between the United States and the Republic of Panama: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is employed on board a vessel of the United States engaged in trade between the United States and the Republic of Cuba: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is employed on board a vessel of the United States engaged in trade between the United States and the Republic of Haiti: Provided further, That the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who is employed on board a vessel of the United States engaged in trade between the United States and the Dominican Republic.

(b) Any master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing into the United States from the aforesaid foreign territory, islands, and countries any alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or any alien seaman who has been certified for special inquiry at the request of the Commissioner General of Immigration or any of the boards of special inquiry, who shall refuse or fail to detain such seaman on board the vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have been notified and has had reasonable opportunity to make the inspection or examination provided for in this section, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any alien seaman ordered detained for special inquiry at the request of the Commissioner General of Immigration or any of the boards of special inquiry, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver any such seaman to the proper immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of inspection, or who shall refuse or fail to detain any such seaman after notice that the Commissioner General of Immigration has refused to admit such seaman, or who shall refuse or fail to remove any such seaman from the United States on the vessel bringing him to the United States, or on any vessel furnished by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel bringing such seaman to the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to remove any such seaman from the United States on the vessel on which he was employed at the time of his coming to the United States, or on any vessel furnished by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, or who shall refuse or fail to remove any such seaman from the United States on any vessel furnished by the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel on which such seaman was employed at the time of his coming to the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located a sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom any such failure occurs. No clearance shall be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or of a bond with security satisfactory to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or entered from foreign contiguous territory, or shall be taken from such vessel to a hospital before such vessel departs, shall be reported by the master of such vessel to the Commissioner General of Immigration, and such alien seaman shall be deported as an immigrant alien, unless he is found by the Commissioner General of Immigration to be entitled to some other status under this Act, or to be a bona fide resident of the United States who is returning from a temporary visit abroad.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the Attorney General as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deliver such certificate or such seaman be not then entered for deportation or another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pending the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes to alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be furnished or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Where an arriving seaman is a "transit" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all persons employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are sick or injured, and the nature of such injuries, and the names of all persons employed on such vessel who have been left behind in foreign countries, and the reasons therefor, and such other information as the Attorney General may require from time to time relative to the movements of alien seamen employed on such vessel; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien seaman employed on such vessel illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of a vessel from the port of arrival to any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port, and who have ceased to be employed on board, and the reasons therefor, so far as known or can be ascertained by the exercise of due diligence on the part of such owner, agent, consignee, or master: Provided, That a list or manifest shall be delivered by the Attorney General, by or to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the name of each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a transportation line prior to the departure of such vessel from a foreign port: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the delivery of any list or manifest required by this section in the case of any vessel plying regularly between ports of the United States and foreign contiguous territory: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the delivery of any list or manifest required by this section in the case of any vessel making frequent trips to the United States during a period of less than forty-eight hours: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the delivery of any list or manifest required by this section in the case of any vessel making a trip to the United States from a foreign port or place in the Western Hemisphere, but touching at a port or place in a territory or possession of the United States before entering the United States, if the master of such vessel shall certify that no seaman has been taken on board such vessel at such intermediate port or place, except seamen who have been previously reported to the immigration officers at the United States port of first arrival: And provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the delivery of any list or manifest required by this section in the case of any vessel making frequent trips across the Canadian border to ports of the United States, if such vessel is in charge of a master who has been previously approved by the Attorney General for the purpose of this proviso: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the delivery of lists or manifests in the case of any vessel touching at a port of the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board mail, passengers, or sailors, or any of them, destined to foreign ports.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deputies, foreman, or other lawful representative of such officer to go on board such vessel and inspect it and the manifest and other documents and examine any or all persons on board, in such manner as may be necessary to prevent the introduction of any alien who is excludable from admission into the United States under this Act or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, and such officers may also go on board any vessel at quarantine or at any other place designated by the boarding officer for the purpose of inspecting the crew and passengers, and may order such vessel to proceed to the proper place for the inspection of the same. Any person who refuses to submit to such inspection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

(b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Attorney General to do so shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a transportation line prior to the departure of such vessel from a foreign port: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the collection of the head tax in the case of any alien who has been in the United States for a period of less than sixty days, and who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, reentry permit, or other travel document, at the time of his last departure from the United States: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, refund the head tax in the case of any alien who has been in the United States for a period of less than one year, and who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, reentry permit, or other travel document, at the time of his last departure from the United States, if such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was unable to depart from the United States within the period of his admission or extension thereof because of illness contracted or accident suffered after such admission or extension was granted.

(c) If the Attorney General shall find that the immigration officer at the port of arrival has been guilty of misconduct in the performance of his duties, he may, after a hearing, impose upon him a penalty not exceeding $1,000 for each offense. Any such penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Attorney General upon such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and just.

(d) Except that an alien seaman shall not be admitted into the United States under the immigration visa presented by him, the provisions of this section requiring the delivery of lists or manifests in the case of any vessel shall apply to all seamen employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have completed the inspection of the crew and passengers, and may be applied until the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, and any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver any list or manifest required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to any immigration officer the right to go on board such vessel and to examine the crew and passengers thereof, or who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman on board when ordered so to do by such officer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel is essential to the interests of any vessel as a contractor, shall be liable to each seaman so taken on board such vessel for the full amount of wages due such seaman at the rate specified in his contract with the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and in addition thereto a sum sufficient to cover such time as may be required by the master to secure the permanent replacement of such seaman, not exceeding a period of two months, and shall be liable to the United States for the head tax required by this section to be paid for such seaman. Such wages and head tax may be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction. Such seaman shall be entitled to his wages in full at the time of his departure from the vessel, notwithstanding the provisions of any contract to the contrary.

(f) The Attorney General shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors as may be necessary to enforce the same.

(g) Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section, or any rule or regulation made pursuant thereto, for which a penalty is not otherwise prescribed, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deputies, foreman, or other lawful representative of such officer to go on board such vessel and inspect it and the manifest and other documents and examine any or all persons on board, in such manner as may be necessary to prevent the introduction of any alien who is excludable from admission into the United States under this Act or any other law or treaty now or hereafter in force, and such officers may also go on board any vessel at quarantine or at any other place designated by the boarding officer for the purpose of inspecting the crew and passengers, and may order such vessel to proceed to the proper place for the inspection of the same. Any person who refuses to submit to such inspection shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

(b) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Attorney General to do so shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a transportation line prior to the departure of such vessel from a foreign port: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the collection of the head tax in the case of any alien who has been in the United States for a period of less than sixty days, and who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, reentry permit, or other travel document, at the time of his last departure from the United States: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, refund the head tax in the case of any alien who has been in the United States for a period of less than one year, and who is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, reentry permit, or other travel document, at the time of his last departure from the United States, if such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was unable to depart from the United States within the period of his admission or extension thereof because of illness contracted or accident suffered after such admission or extension was granted.

(c) If the Attorney General shall find that the immigration officer at the port of arrival has been guilty of misconduct in the performance of his duties, he may, after a hearing, impose upon him a penalty not exceeding $1,000 for each offense. Any such penalty may be remitted or mitigated by the Attorney General upon such terms and conditions as he may deem reasonable and just.

(d) Except that an alien seaman shall not be admitted into the United States under the immigration visa presented by him, the provisions of this section requiring the delivery of lists or manifests in the case of any vessel shall apply to all seamen employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have completed the inspection of the crew and passengers, and may be applied until the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, and any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse to deliver any list or manifest required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to any immigration officer the right to go on board such vessel and to examine the crew and passengers thereof, or who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman on board when ordered so to do by such officer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel is essential to the interests of any vessel as a contractor, shall be liable to each seaman so taken on board such vessel for the full amount of wages due such seaman at the rate specified in his contract with the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel, and in addition thereto a sum sufficient to cover such time as may be required by the master to secure the permanent replacement of such seaman, not exceeding a period of two months, and shall be liable to the United States for the head tax required by this section to be paid for such seaman. Such wages and head tax may be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction. Such seaman shall be entitled to his wages in full at the time of his departure from the vessel, notwithstanding the provisions of any contract to the contrary.

(f) The Attorney General shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section, and may employ such additional inspectors as may be necessary to enforce the same.

(g) Any person who knowingly violates any of the provisions of this section, or any rule or regulation made pursuant thereto, for which a penalty is not otherwise prescribed, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or emergency, or to visit a consular officer in pursuance of the provisions of section 3 of the Act of May 26, 1924, or for deportation or other disposition as directed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such seaman who lands in the United States for any purpose shall be reported to the Secretary of Labor by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, and shall be deported on the vessel or another vessel in which he may be employed, or on the vessel on which he arrived, or in such other manner as may be directed by the Secretary of Labor, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be furnished or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Where an arriving seaman is a "transit" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all persons employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who are sick or injured, and the nature of such injuries, and the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel who have been left behind in foreign countries, and the reasons therefor, and such other information as the Attorney General may require from time to time relative to the movements of alien seamen employed on such vessel; and it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien seaman employed on such vessel illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of a vessel from the port of arrival to any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were employed thereon at the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port, and who have ceased to be employed on board, and the reasons therefor, so far as known or can be ascertained by the exercise of due diligence on the part of such owner, agent, consignee, or master: Provided, That a list or manifest shall be delivered by the Attorney General, by or to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the name of each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a transportation line prior to the departure of such vessel from a foreign port: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the delivery of any list or manifest required by this section in the case of any vessel plying regularly between ports of the United States and foreign contiguous territory: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the delivery of any list or manifest required by this section in the case of any vessel making frequent trips to the United States during a period of less than forty-eight hours: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the delivery of any list or manifest required by this section in the case of any vessel making a trip to the United States from a foreign port or place in the Western Hemisphere, but touching at a port or place in a territory or possession of the United States before entering the United States, if the master of such vessel shall certify that no seaman has been taken on board such vessel at such intermediate port or place, except seamen who have been previously reported to the immigration officers at the United States port of first arrival: And provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the delivery of lists or manifests in the case of any vessel making frequent trips across the Canadian border to ports of the United States, if such vessel is in charge of a master who has been previously approved by the Attorney General for the purpose of this proviso: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section requiring the delivery of lists or manifests in the case of any vessel touching at a port of the United States solely for the purpose of taking on board mail, passengers, or sailors, or any of them, destined to foreign ports.

SEC. 37. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or emergency, or to visit a consular officer in pursuance of the provisions of section 3 of the Act of May 26, 1924, or for deportation or other disposition as directed by the Secretary of Labor. Any such seaman who lands in the United States for any purpose shall be reported to the Secretary of Labor by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel, and shall be deported on the vessel or another vessel in which he may be employed, or on the vessel on which he arrived, or in such other manner as may be directed by the Secretary of Labor, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be furnished or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Where an arriving seaman is a "transit" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain tough white paper and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and no inspection shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, commander, or agent of such vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, showing the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped to engage, and where they were born; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, purser, commander, or agent, forthwith to report in writing to such immigration officer, in the case of the loss by death of any such alien employee, the fact and cause of such death, and the name of the vessel from which such alien was discharged; and in the case of the departure from the United States of any such alien employee, whether by desertion or otherwise, a like report shall be made to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered. All reports required of masters of vessels to reports of such immigration officers, or masters to vessels to immigration officers, shall be delivered to the proper officer at the time of the arrival but not more than twenty-four hours before the departure of the vessel; it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, commander, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien employee has deserted from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel it shall be the duty of the master of the vessel to cause to be delivered to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who may have been shipped or engaged thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of those who have been discharged, and the cause of such discharge, so far as known to the master, purser, commander, or agent thereof. Any master, purser, commander, or agent of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him by any immigrant inspector in relation to any alien employed on board of such vessel, or who shall knowingly make any false answer to any such question, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains pending the vessel shall not be permitted to depart: And provided further, That no such vessel shall be permitted to depart while any alien employed thereon is detained in custody for examination or otherwise, except upon the written permission of the immigrant inspector in charge of the port, and then only upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient sureties to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient sureties to secure the payment thereof, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of such question, or while the fine remains unpaid, except upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient sureties to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until such fine is collected or sufficient sureties are given for the payment thereof. The decision of the Attorney General in the premises shall be final. This section, as amended, shall apply to all hereafter arising penalties under section 2 of the act of February 5, 1917.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the onboard upon the arrival of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a taking to obtain a report after reimbursement by the immigration officer of the alien seaman on

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and not before that time. The list of changes to the immigration form (Form I-418) shall not be destroyed or removed from the vessel. The principal immigration officer at the port to which "MONTEREY" is assigned shall not be relieved by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I-418) shall not be destroyed or removed from the vessel. The list of changes to the immigration officer at the port of departure.

When an alternate manifest is prepared on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I-418) shall not be destroyed or removed from the vessel. The list of changes to the immigration officer at the port of departure.

SEC. 36. (a) That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from a foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry a complete list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether destined to the United States or not, and whether citizens of the United States or aliens, and whether entitled to admission or not, and to answer such questions touching the right of any person to enter the United States as may be prescribed by the Attorney General or any immigration officer. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in such manner as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, and shall contain such particulars as may be required by any immigration officer at the port of arrival, touching the right to admission of persons mentioned therein, and shall be subscribed by the master of such vessel, who shall make oath before the immigration officer to the truthfulness and accuracy of the statements therein contained. Any master who refuses to deliver such list or manifest, or who refuses to answer any question touching the right of any person to enter the United States, or who makes any false statement in connection therewith, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) Every alien arriving at a port within the United States from a foreign port or place in the Western Hemisphere, whether or not destined to the United States, shall be subject to the provisions of this section relating to the physical and mental examination of aliens arriving at ports of the United States, and to the certification of the result thereof, but no such alien shall be required to obtain a visa as a condition precedent to admission to the United States.

(c) The master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or operator of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the Western Hemisphere (other than an alien crewman employed on and arriving temporarily in the United States as a member of the crew of such vessel) who fails to deliver to the immigrant inspector at each port of entry and the port of final departure in the United States a complete and accurate list containing the name, age, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, and other required information regarding each such alien, or who fails to prevent the landing of any such alien in the United States at any port not designated by him for such landing, or who fails to report and detain any such alien for examination by the immigration officers at the port of arrival, or who fails to prevent any such alien from landing in the United States at any port of entry, or who lands or permits to land any such alien brought to the United States by him, except in accordance with the provisions of this Act or such rules, regulations, and orders as may be prescribed thereunder, or who refuses or fails to detain any such alien on board his vessel or other conveyance or to return him to the country whence he came or to deliver him to the custody of the immigration officer or other authorized officer for examination or for such other action as may be required with respect to any such alien under the provisions of this Act or such rules, regulations, and orders as may be prescribed thereunder, or who refuses or fails to remove any such alien who has been ordered excluded from the United States by the Attorney General, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel arrives at the port of entry a sum not exceeding $300 for each alien with respect to whom any such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while such sum remains unpaid, or while any such alien remains on board without the permission of the Attorney General, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum. (39 Stat. 898–901; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Western Hemisphere, except seamen employed on and arriving temporarily in the United States as members of the crew of such vessel, or unless such alien was lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence and is in possession of an unexpired immigration visa. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the Western Hemisphere any alien not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, or other document authorized by the Act or by the Secretary of Labor in pursuance thereof, or who fails to detain such alien on board such vessel at such place until the immigration officer has had opportunity to examine such alien, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the vessel arrives at the port of entry a penalty for each such alien in the sum of $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom any such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while such sum remains unpaid, or while any such alien remains on board without the permission of the Attorney General, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum. (39 Stat. 889–891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

(b) Every alien arriving at a port within the United States from a foreign port or place in the Western Hemisphere, whether or not destined to the United States, shall be subject to the provisions of this section relating to the physical and mental examination of aliens arriving at ports of the United States, and to the certification of the result thereof, but no such alien shall be required to obtain a visa as a condition precedent to admission to the United States.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a transportation company has been subject to fines in excess of $300 in any fiscal year because of violations of the immigration laws at any one port, he may, in his discretion, require such company thereafter to deposit with the collector of customs at such port a sum sufficient to cover the probable amount of such fines and penalties for such fiscal year, but not exceeding $900. The deposit required of any company may be increased or decreased within the discretion of the Attorney General. Deposits shall be refunded only upon order of the Attorney General and to the extent that they exceed the fines and penalties for the fiscal year. Interest shall not be allowed upon any deposit made hereunder. (43 Stat. 164–165; 44 Stat. 812; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien passengers (Form I–418) shall not be destroyed or mutilated, but shall be delivered by the master to the proper immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no such information as the case may be, as the Attorney General shall by regulations prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a written list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed when such vessel arrived at the port, and who have been discharged, and the cause, if any, why they were discharged; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, to be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to fines prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 168) previous penalty has been waived, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, other than Canada or Mexico, shall pay to the collector of customs or his deputy a tax of $8.50 for each alien passenger (which term shall include a person admitted physical examination by the medical officer in charge at the port of entry) for whom there is collected or required to be collected a tax under section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917, and for each alien seaman (which term shall include a person admitted upon the physical examination by the medical officer at the port of entry) for whom there is collected or required to be collected a tax under section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917, and for each alien seaman employed on board such vessel upon her departure from the United States who was not included in the manifest: Provided, That no tax shall be collected in respect of any alien passenger who is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, who has been in the United States for a period of less than twenty-four hours, who is in possession of a through ticket, who arrives in the United States by a railway train or railway ferry, and who does not leave the railway premises at the port of arrival. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, refund any head tax erroneously collected from any alien who is found by the Attorney General to have been admitted to the United States and who departs therefrom within one year from the date of such admission, if the vessel on which such alien departs from the United States is of the same ownership as the vessel on which he was originally brought to the United States, but no refund shall be made unless the claim therefor is filed with the Attorney General within two years after the payment of the tax.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart upon the discharge articles of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or shall be left behind by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain the certificate from the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be required to provide accommodations of other than steerage class.

(43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, whether such persons intend to land or not, and also lists containing the names of all aliens who intend to embark on such vessel for any foreign port or place, which lists shall be delivered to such immigration officer before the departure of such vessel. Such lists shall contain such information relative to each such alien, together with any additional information which may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, as can be ascertained from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel. Such information shall be given in relation to each alien employed on such vessel, whether a passenger or a member of the crew, and whether he intends to land or not, and also in relation to each alien who has been employed on such vessel and who has been left behind in any foreign port or place. It shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to each immigration officer, at the time of the departure of such vessel from each port in the United States, a list containing the names of all persons employed on such vessel who have been left behind in such port or place since the departure of such vessel from the last preceding port or place, and also the names of all persons employed on such vessel at the time of her departure from each port or place who are not then on board and who are not accounted for by the production of the certificate from the immigration officer at the port of arrival, or who have been reported to the Department of Labor as deserters from such vessel. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists as herein required, or who refuses or neglects to report to the proper immigration officer the illegal landing from his vessel of any alien, or who lands or permits to land any alien in any place in the United States, or who refuses or neglects to detain on board such vessel any alien ordered by the immigration officer in charge of the port to be detained on board such vessel, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so landed or permitted to land, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That clearance may be granted to any vessel prior to the delivery of the lists required by this section in the case of the failure of any master, agent, consignee, or owner to deliver such lists when it is impossible for him to do so, owing to the sickness or death of the person charged with the duty of preparing the same, or other cause beyond his control, upon satisfactory proof being furnished to the collector of customs that the vessel has on board a crew sufficient and sufficiently documented to operate the vessel, and that the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure has been informed by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel of the sickness or death of any member of the crew or other cause preventing the delivery of the lists required, and the name or names of the person or persons so sick or dead: Provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall furnish to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure a full and complete list of the crew members on board such vessel at the time of departure, which list shall be compared with the crew list delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure shall report to the Commissioner General of Immigration the name of any member of the crew who may have been left behind at such port of departure. The Attorney General may prescribe such rules and regulations governing the administration of the provisions of this section as he may deem necessary, and may impose such penalties for violations thereof, not inconsistent herewith, as he may deem proper.

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and for each alien employee for whom a complete list is not furnished the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel shall deposit $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, which deposit shall be remitted by the Attorney General, by or to whom the same have been paid, in the event such alien has been duly accounted for to the satisfaction of the Attorney General or a person designated by him: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 898–899; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or other casualty, until the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel in which he arrives has given a bond to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the vessel is located in such sum not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, as the Attorney General may prescribe to guarantee the return of such alien seaman on board such vessel when she departs, or the payment of the tax imposed by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, if any, and the expenses of maintenance and medical treatment of such alien seaman while in the United States, and the cost of his removal from the United States, if he is ordered removed, which bond shall not be terminated or canceled as to any such seaman during the period of his employment on board any vessel engaged in the coastwise trade of the United States, and shall be terminated as to any such seaman who shall leave the vessel with the consent of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof, and who shall be reported by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure, or who shall be reported by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival if such seaman shall not depart from the United States in such vessel, and who shall be found by such immigration officer to have complied with the conditions of his landing permit. Clearance shall not be granted to any vessel until the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall have deposited with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover each such seaman employed on such vessel who is not a native-born citizen of the United States, or who has not been admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or who has not been previously admitted to the United States for permanent residence and who is returning to a foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island after a temporary visit of not more than six months as a visitor, or who is not in possession of a permit to depart, or who is not in possession of a certificate of identification issued to him by the Attorney General, and who is not in possession of a certificate of identification issued to him by the Attorney General, and who is not in possession of a certificate of identification issued to him by the Attorney General, and

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman entering the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or account of the vessel entering the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory, or the inability of the master to secure a substitute, or for such other reasons as may be deemed sufficient by the Secretary of Labor, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, nor unless upon the departure of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or upon the departure of some other vessel he is master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer, or an employee of the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or of some vessel owned by the same interests, he delivers such alien to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure, or to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer, or employee of the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, for delivery to the principal immigration officer at the port of departure, and reports to such officer the name of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension as may be required by such officer. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer, or employee of the owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel shall first arrive after such violation the sum of $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom such violation occurs, which sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by the Attorney General in the name of the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of any fine, or suits for the fine remitted during the pendency of such determination, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties sued upon subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States with the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or with some other vessel within the period of time fixed by the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's arrival, as a condition precedent to a visit from any place outside thereof, or land in the United States from the vessel on which he arrived, shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws, except that the Secretary of Labor may extend the time for such departure for such length of time as he may deem necessary, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and discharged, the names of all members of the crew, the capacity in which each alien was employed, and such other information as may be required by such officer. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which such vessel shall first arrive after such violation the sum of $1,000 for each alien in respect of whom such violation occurs, which sum shall be a lien upon such vessel, and may be recovered by the Attorney General in the name of the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the liability to payment of any fine, or suits for the fine remitted during the pendency of such determination, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such violation occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all penalties sued upon subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be required to pay more than the cost of passage to the port to which the alien seaman was destined when he arrived in the United States. Any fine or penalty collected from the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel as a result of the application of the Attorney General shall be returned to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be later than the departure of the vessel. The list or manifest of passengers to be examined by the immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is signed on a vessel "outward bound" a duplicate of such list shall be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from the foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all persons, including those in the cabin, who are to be landed in the United States from the vessel, which list shall be prepared in the form and manner and contain such particulars as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be signed by the master, purser, or surgeon of the vessel, who shall make oath before the immigration officer to the correctness of the list in all particulars. The master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, when such visa is required by this Act, or who arrives at a port other than the port specified in his immigration visa without having obtained the consent of the Secretary of Labor to the change of destination, or who has been refused a landing permit by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall report the fact and the circumstances in writing to the Commissioner General of Immigration within twenty-four hours after the vessel's entry into port. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made thereunder shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each offense. The Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission of aliens coming to the United States from foreign contiguous territory. Such rules and regulations may provide for the examination at places other than ports of entry of aliens seeking admission to the United States, for the establishment of such places of examination, and for the detention at such places of aliens certified for special inquiry under the provisions of this Act. Such rules and regulations shall have the force of law when approved by the Secretary of Labor, and any person violating any such rule or regulation shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned for not more than one year, or both.

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the limitations imposed by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been fulfilled to the administrative satisfaction of the district director, but not then unless notice of intention to make such application, the deposit specified in § 150.15–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be permitted to land in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory and adjacent islands as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory and adjacent islands any seaman (alien immigration officer in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners) or any alien stowaway shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States, and for the removal therefrom, unless such seaman or alien stowaway is permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained by the immigration officers or the Attorney General, or is sooner removed therefrom on board the vessel bringing him to the United States or some other vessel, or otherwise. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(b) Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall refuse or fail to remove any such seaman or alien stowaway, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver on board such vessel such seaman or alien stowaway for removal, or who shall refuse or fail to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been notified of the intended departure of such seaman sufficiently in advance of the departure of the vessel to enable such officer to examine such seaman, or who shall refuse or fail to report the illness or hospitalization of any such seaman, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver such seaman to the immigration officer for examination or to the proper immigration officer at the time of the vessel's departure from a foreign port for the United States, or who shall refuse or fail to pay the cost of the maintenance of any such seaman, or who shall refuse or fail to pay any fine imposed upon him under the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such offense is committed, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the master has been given notice by the immigration officer in charge that the provisions of this section have been complied with. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a transportation company has failed to comply with the provisions of this section, he may refuse to grant clearance to any vessel of such company for a period of one year from the date of such refusal. Any person who knowingly violates any such refusal shall be fined not more than $2,000 for each offense. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 188.)

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart on a vessel may be made before any officer authorized to administer oaths for general purposes by the laws of the United States or of any State, Territory, or possession thereof, or the District of Columbia, or before any consular officer of the United States in the country in which the alien seaman was employed on the vessel. The Attorney General may prescribe the form of such proof. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportation orders outstanding on June 2, 1940.

(e) The Attorney General may, upon the recommendation of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, issue a permit to any alien seaman to enter the United States for a temporary period and under such conditions as he may prescribe, notwithstanding the provisions of this section, but no such permit shall be granted except upon a written finding by the Attorney General that the case is one wherein the seaman will be unable to depart from the United States because of the immediate necessity for the treatment of a serious injury or illness not due to his own culpable conduct, or to secure the presence of the seaman for the proper prosecution of any case in the courts, or for such other reason as may be deemed sufficient by the Attorney General. Nothing in this section shall be construed to amend, repeal, or affect the provisions of section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 171), nor shall anything in this section be construed to amend, repeal, or affect the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 173), relating to the refusal of clearance to vessels carrying passengers who are afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease. (43 Stat. 164–166; 43 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving at a port in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained on board on account of the certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor as provided in section 10 of this Act, or pending the decision on appeal from the decision of the Secretary of Labor, or pending the removal of such alien from the United States as the Attorney General may prescribe: Provided, That the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival may in his discretion parole into the United States temporarily under bond, in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, any alien seaman (master, officer, or member of the crew) who is not otherwise admissible, but not for a longer period than may be necessary to enable him to depart on board vessel or other transportation from the United States: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, parole into the United States temporarily, under such conditions as he may prescribe, any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service as requiring hospital treatment: Provided further, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any alien seaman who has served in the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or Coast Guard during the World War, and who has been honorably discharged therefrom.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside the Canal Zone, or the master, purser, or person in charge of any aircraft arriving in the United States from a place outside the United States, who knowingly brings to the United States any alien seaman (master, officer, or member of the crew) who is not lawfully entitled to be admitted to the United States, or who fails to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival each alien seaman on board at the time of such inspection or to deport such seaman by the vessel on which he arrived, or by some other vessel, or by such other means as the Attorney General may direct, or who fails to detain on board any vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman, or who fails to detain on board or on the premises designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival any alien seaman who has been certified by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service as requiring hospital treatment, shall be required to pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom any such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or reduce such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such seaman to the proper immigration officer, but such proof may be rebutted to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived is impracticable, shall be a deserter, shall be destitute, or for any cause shall not be allowed to land temporarily or permanently, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such deportation shall not be effected clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of persons or aliens embarked at ports of crewe (Form I–418) shall not be examined on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manner is a "waiver" a motion to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 28. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, showing the full name, nationality, last residence, and destination of every such person, whether he or she be a cabin passenger or member of the crew or an alien in immediate transit through the United States, and such additional information relative to such persons as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe; and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of every such vessel shall deliver with such list a certificate signed by him to the effect that no person other than those mentioned in such list has been taken on board his vessel while en route to the United States except as therein stated, and that no person mentioned in such list has been allowed to land from said vessel except as therein stated. Such certificate shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the consular officer of the United States viséing the same, if viséed at a foreign port, or before the immigration officer at the port of arrival, if not viséed at a foreign port. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who refuses to deliver such list or certificate, or who fails to include therein the name of any person destined to the United States who is on board his vessel at the time of its departure from a foreign port or place, or who includes therein the name of any person not destined to the United States who is not at the time of such departure on board his vessel, or who refuses to permit any immigration officer to enter upon his vessel for the purpose of examining the list delivered by him, or who refuses to deliver to such officer any person included in such list, or who refuses to detain any person on board his vessel when requested so to do by such officer, or who refuses to carry any person so detained from the port of arrival to the port where the inquiry or examination is to be held, or who refuses to pay the cost of detaining and maintaining any such person while detained, or who refuses to pay the cost of returning any such person to the port from which he came, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien so destined or concerned, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, authorize the discharge from custody of any alien arrested on board vessel after inspection or at any time thereafter on bond or undertaking, in such sum and with such sureties as he may require, conditioned for the production of such alien for examination, hearing, or departure from the United States whenever required to the end that any alien who may be found to be unlawfully in the United States or who may be excluded therefrom for any reason shall be produced for deportation or exclusion, as the case may be, and that all the conditions of the bond are complied with, and upon the performance of all such conditions as may be required or upon a determination by the Secretary of Labor that the immediate deportation of such alien is not practicable or proper, such bond shall be canceled: Provided further, That clearance may be granted any vessel prior to the determination by the Secretary of Labor whether or not the aliens on board shall be allowed to land, upon the filing of a bond or undertaking approved by the Attorney General, in such amount not exceeding $1,000 for each alien as may be required by the Attorney General, conditioned for the payment to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located of the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom a certificate is not delivered, or a lesser sum if imposed, while it remains pending: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886–888; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 150.15. Limit of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 28 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative authorities prescribed by said section or to such prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 198) pursuant to such notice, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to the extent necessary for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the sole purpose of departing on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel. Such alien shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws in the case of aliens employed on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign countries. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States and who shall not depart therein as a member of the crew of such vessel, or who shall land in violation of any of the provisions of this section, shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws in the case of aliens employed on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign countries.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport an alien on board such vessel when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor or any immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspection of such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance papers may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. This section, as amended, shall apply to all deportable aliens employed on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign countries on and after the date of the enactment of this amendment.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrives in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be taken into custody by the master of such vessel and delivered to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such alien seaman shall be deported in the manner provided by the immigration laws in the case of aliens employed on board vessels arriving at ports of the United States from foreign countries, unless such alien seaman shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he entered the United States prior to July 1, 1924.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, shall be prima facie evidence to a finding to deport such alien seaman on such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a finding that such alien seaman has deserted, and such vessel shall be liable to the penalty provided by the immigration laws in the case of deserting seamen. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be furnished on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector stationed at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest shall not be changed or altered in form (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is so entered, a notation to that effect should be made on the list to facilitate inspection of the alien seamen, including names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, purser, or other person in charge of the vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the object which they have in view in coming to the United States, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, which lists shall be verified by the oath of the master or purser of such vessel, and shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States. The Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: the form of such lists; the number of copies thereof; the information to be furnished thereon; and the manner in which the same shall be verified. Any master, agent, consignee, owner, or purser of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver such lists, or who refuses to permit any immigrant inspector to come on board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same, or to answer truthfully questions propounded to him concerning the same, or who refuses to detain such vessel for a sufficient length of time to permit the inspection of the same, or who refuses to detain any alien on board thereof who is certified to be detained for special inquiry, or who refuses to permit the removal of such alien for such inspection, or who refuses to detain such vessel after such inspection or to detain such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General, or who refuses to comply with any of the provisions of this section, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each offense. Any master, agent, consignee, owner, or purser of any vessel who refuses or neglects to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States any alien seaman employed on such vessel, or who refuses to permit any such alien seaman to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or detained to assist in the administration of the quarantine laws, or who refuses to detain any such alien seaman when directed so to do by the Attorney General, may be arrested upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be deported to the country to which the master, agent, consignee, owner, or purser refuses to permit the return of such alien seaman, and shall be liable to the penalty of $1,000 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any case arising hereunder, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof in the penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of any case arising hereunder, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the filing of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof in the penalty to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deductions which may be made from the wages of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman duly accounted for by the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States from such place.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver such alien seaman duly accounted for by the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States from such

(43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands (except Cuba, Newfoundland, Bermuda, the British West Indies, Mexico, Central America, South America, and the Republic of Haiti), shall cause such alien to be examined by the United States immigration officers at the port of entry (Form I–410) and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer has been notified by the immigration officers that such examination has been completed and that no such alien is affected with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities specified in subdivision (a) of section 3 of this Act, or that no such alien has been found upon examination to be so affected. Such examination shall be completed prior to the departure of such vessel from the last port outside the United States, except that in case of vessels putting in from the sea, the examination shall be completed as soon after arrival as possible. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the sanity and freedom from mental defect of any alien, or the result of any test as to whether any alien has a physical defect, disease, or disability other than those specifically mentioned in this Act, likely to endanger the health of citizens of the United States, if such examination or test is not made as soon as practicable after the arrival of such vessel.

(b) Every alien who shall be brought to the United States by any vessel and who shall not be in possession of a valid immigration visa, or, if not required to obtain a visa, who shall not be in possession of a valid passport, or other travel document, if required by the Secretary of State, at the time of application for admission, or who is found to be unable to establish to the satisfaction of the immigration officers that he is entitled to a nonquota immigration visa if such be required by this Act, or who is found to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities specified in subdivision (a) of section 3 of this Act, or who is found to be an anarchist, or who is found to be coming to perform skilled or unskilled labor unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that labor of the character which the alien seeks to perform is not then being performed by workmen in the locality in which he seeks to perform it, shall be taken into custody and returned to the vessel or other transportation line which brought him to the United States. The cost of detention and the return of such alien shall be borne by the owner or owners of the vessel or transportation line on which he arrived. Pending the return of any such alien, he may be detained on board or at quarantine or in such other place as may be designated by the immigration officers. If any such alien is returned on board the vessel on which he arrived, the master of such vessel shall deposit with the immigration officers at the port of arrival the sum of $200 for each such alien, to be used to pay the cost of his maintenance while detained and the cost of his return, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the decision as to the landing of such alien or the return of the money deposited in lieu of his return. Any such alien may be detained on board or at quarantine or in such other place as may be designated by the immigration officers until the final action in his case, but not more than five days unless the case is certified to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry, and his decision thereon is pending. Any such alien may, pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor, be released from detention upon the deposit of $500 with the immigration officers, or upon the filing of a bond in such amount with sufficient surety, and in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, conditioned upon the production of such alien to the immigration officers when required for further action in his case, or upon his departure from the United States, or upon his admission as a citizen of the United States. Any such alien who shall be returned to the port from which he came to the United States, or to the country from which he came to such port, shall be returned to the port at which he was originally taken on board the vessel bringing him to the United States, and the transportation line bringing him to the United States shall be responsible for his return to such port. Any such alien who shall be returned to a port in the United States shall be deemed to be entering the United States for the purposes of this Act. Any such alien who shall be returned to a port in the United States shall be deemed to be entering the United States for the purposes of this Act. Any such alien who shall be returned to a port in the United States shall be deemed to be entering the United States for the purposes of this Act.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien cannot be effected within six months after the entry of the final order of deportation, because of the refusal of any foreign government to accept such alien after due notice, or because of the inability to obtain passports, or because of unusual delay in obtaining passports, or for other reasons beyond the control of the United States or the alien, he may, in his discretion, extend the time for such reasonable period or periods as may be necessary to secure the alien's departure. Pending such departure, he may release such alien under such conditions and upon such notice as he may prescribe. Any alien who shall willfully fail or refuse to depart within the time allowed for his departure, or who shall connive or conspire, or take any action designed to prevent or hamper or with intent to prevent or hamper his departure for which conspiracy or action he shall be convicted in a court of record, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than five years. Any alien who, after once landed, shall depart from the United States while proceedings are pending under this Act, or while the question of his deportation is undetermined by the Secretary of Labor, shall be deemed to have been deported in pursuance of law, irrespective of the fact that he may have departed voluntarily, and he shall not thereafter be admitted to the United States, nor shall he thereafter be naturalized, unless prior to his application for admission to the United States or for naturalization he shall have received from the Secretary of Labor a special written permit to reapply for admission or for naturalization. Any alien who shall enter the United States after the issuance of a warrant of deportation against him and before his deportation shall be deported in addition to the penalty prescribed by section 37 of this Act. (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), (b), (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like counterpart of the manifest required to be delivered to the collector of customs, and it shall be the duty of each alien seaman employed on such vessel, arriving from foreign ports, to present himself to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like counterpart of the portion of the crew list which relates to himself, and to subscribe thereto in the port of arrival; or like counterpart of such portion of the crew list as may be required by the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and failure to present himself and subscribe as aforesaid, unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that such failure was reasonably excusable, shall be deemed a violation of section 2 hereof: Provided, That the Attorney General may, in his discretion, waive the requirement that any alien seaman shall subscribe the crew list before the departure of the vessel from the port of arrival, and in lieu thereof require the master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as practicable, the name of any such alien seaman who has failed to subscribe the crew list before the departure of the vessel from such port, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension of such alien seaman, and to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the departure of the vessel from such port a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to the identification of such alien seaman as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: And failure to report as herein required shall render the master, agent, consignee, or master liable to the penalties provided in section 2 hereof in the case of the failure to report the illegal departure of any alien seaman: And provided further, That the master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving from a foreign port shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, arriving from foreign ports, who were discharged from the vessel, stating the cause, time, and place of such discharge, and the intended destination of such alien seamen so discharged, and shall report the desertion of any alien seaman employed on such vessel, stating the name, nationality, last known address, and such description of such alien seaman as may be required by the Attorney General, and shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival like counterpart of the portion of the crew list which relates to each alien seaman employed on such vessel who shall have been left behind at any foreign port or place on account of illness or injury or for any other cause, and produce to such inspector such certificate of the reason for the failure of each such alien seaman to proceed to the United States with the vessel as the master, agent, consignee, or master may be able to procure from the proper officials of the country in which such port or place is situated, and deposit with such inspector the wages and effects of each such alien seaman.

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board a vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical examination, or to secure clothing or other necessaries not obtainable on board such vessel, unless a certificate from the medical officer of the port of arrival has been obtained to the effect that the case of such alien seaman is not one which would be likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, and a permit to land issued to him by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival. Such certificate, permit, bond, or money deposit required of such alien seaman shall be delivered by the master, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel to the immigrant inspector, and by him to the Attorney General if and when required. Any such alien seaman who has been granted a permit to land temporarily and fails to depart with the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel within the period fixed by the immigrant inspector, or within such extended period as may be allowed by the Attorney General, may be arrested without warrant and taken on board such vessel or other vessel upon the warrant of the Attorney General, and the cost of his maintenance while detained and of his deportation shall be paid by the master, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which he arrived. Any such alien seaman who has been granted a permit to land temporarily and who fails to report for deportation at the time and place specified in his permit without good cause shall be deemed to be unlawfully in the United States and may be arrested without warrant and deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except foreign-built vessels documented under the laws of the United States and belonging wholly to citizens of the United States, shall before such vessel departs from the port of arrival, and before the customs entry of such vessel is granted, deposit with the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port of arrival is located the sum of $8,000 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section shall be enforced regardless of whether such vessel shall depart before the application for mitigation is passed upon by the Attorney General. Such deposit may be remitted or refunded, in whole or in part, as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of relieving undue hardship, or may be applied to the payment of any fine or penalty which may be imposed upon such vessel or master thereof under the provisions of this section.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States on board any vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or who shall depart from the United States on board any vessel from any port or place in the United States to any place outside thereof, shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

(c) If the Attorney General shall not require the deportation of any such alien seaman, he may, in his discretion, permit such alien seaman to depart from the United States under bond in such amount and with such surety or security as he may require, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart from the United States within such period as may be allowed by the Attorney General, and will not become a public charge, and will comply with such other conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe, or in lieu of requiring such bond or security the Attorney General may accept a deposit of money sufficient in amount to provide for the maintenance of such alien seaman while detained and for his deportation, and such deposit shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States and shall be refunded to the depositor or his legal representatives upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States or upon his deportation, as the case may be. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board a vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who has been employed on board any vessel engaged in the transportation of merchandise or passengers between ports of the United States, or between the United States and any foreign port or place, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical examination, or to secure clothing or other necessaries not obtainable on board such vessel, unless a certificate from the medical officer of the port of arrival has been obtained to the effect that the case of such alien seaman is not one which would be likely to endanger the health of the people of the United States, and a permit to land issued to him by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner). Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer or the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman on board such vessel upon such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer or the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman, or master of any vessel who shall violate the provisions of this section relating to such seamen, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the application, as hereinafter provided, upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section shall be enforced regardless of whether such vessel shall depart before the application for mitigation is passed upon by the Attorney General. Such deposit may be remitted or refunded, in whole or in part, as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of relieving undue hardship, or may be applied to the payment of any fine or penalty which may be imposed upon such vessel or master thereof under the provisions of this section.

(a) Every alien seaman who shall depart from the United States on board any vessel other than that on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or who shall depart from the United States on board any vessel from any port or place in the United States to any place outside thereof, shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law.

(b) If the Attorney General shall not require the deportation of any such alien seaman, he may, in his discretion, permit such alien seaman to depart from the United States under bond in such amount and with such surety or security as he may require, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart from the United States within such period as may be allowed by the Attorney General, and will not become a public charge, and will comply with such other conditions as the Attorney General may prescribe, or in lieu of requiring such bond or security the Attorney General may accept a deposit of money sufficient in amount to provide for the maintenance of such alien seaman while detained and for his deportation, and such deposit shall be covered into the Treasury of the United States and shall be refunded to the depositor or his legal representatives upon the departure of such alien seaman from the United States or upon his deportation, as the case may be. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector posted at the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned in section 4 (Form I–418) shall not be destroyed or posted, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "non-key" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of arriving seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held for examination in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of the vessel at least at one such vessel or the duly authorized representative shall illegally landed from the vessel, arrive a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any such owner, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing any such alien who may have been hid on board, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind, in such cases, and the cause of the failure to report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, if any, duly sworn to before the master and deputy, respectively, or to a report such cases of desertion or landing, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be cleared or granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid; nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–892; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such temporary illness as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be responsible for the payment of the cost of maintenance and treatment while in hospital and burial in case of death of any alien seaman (whether immigrant or nonimmigrant) employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen and certified in writing that such seaman is found upon examination by the medical examiner(s) to be free from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities for the exclusion of which the immigration laws provide, and has been granted a landing certificate or permit. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond as to any such alien who departs from the United States within the period for which such bond was given, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. Any such bond may be sued for and recovered by any person injured by the breach thereof in his own name, without assignment, in the district court of the district in which the port is located for the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond as to any such alien who departs from the United States within the period for which such bond was given, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. Any such bond may be sued for and recovered by any person injured by the breach thereof in his own name, without assignment, in the district court of the district in which the port is located for the collector of customs. The Attorney General may prescribe the manner in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such sum, or while the sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for the purpose of obeying a summons of a court of the United States or of any State, Territory, or District thereof, or because the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization finds that the seaman is needed as a witness in any criminal case pending in the United States, or for such other cause as he may deem sufficient, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe: Provided, That the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, permit the temporary landing of any such seaman for the purpose of receiving medical treatment, under such conditions as he may prescribe, but the cost of maintenance while in a hospital and of transportation to and from the hospital shall be borne by the master, agent, owner, or consignee of the vessel on which the seaman arrived.

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection it shall cause shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to deport on board such vessel any alien seaman who has been certified to the Attorney General by the medical examiner, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit all or any part of such fine if he is satisfied that the vessel has been operated in good faith and with due diligence to prevent the illegal landing of such seaman, and may upon like terms and conditions cancel any such bond. The provisions of this section as to the liability of vessels for the payment of fines imposed for the deportation of aliens shall not apply to the deportation of any alien seaman who shall have been a member of the crew of any vessel during the war in which the United States was engaged against Germany, or to any vessel employed by the Government of the United States.

(b) Fines shall be collected under the direction of the Attorney General in the district where such fines were incurred, or where the vessel may be found, but shall be delivered by the master from the vessel. The list of crewmen to be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is employed in the place of a seaman who has been certified by the medical examiner for medical treatment, the name of such alternate seaman shall be added to the list of crewmen to be furnished by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Any alien seaman who refuses to be treated in a hospital or who refuses to be removed from the vessel when ordered by the medical examiner shall be reported by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and such refusal shall be noted on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those going to be paid off at the port of arrival; or lists containing as much of such information as may be required by regulations hereafter; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver lists of the aliens employed on board such vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his identification; and before the departure of any such vessel from the port of arrival to furnish information touching the movements of such aliens employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who subsequently shall leave port thereon at the time of the departure; and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind in a hospital; and such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall furnish such information and render such lists as often as required so to do by any immigrant inspector. Any such owner, agent, consignee, or master who refuses or neglects to furnish such lists, or to furnish correct lists as to the movements of such aliens employees, or who refuses to allow any immigrant inspector to board such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same and the persons thereon, or to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge all questions propounded to him touching such aliens employees, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien employee; and the vessel shall not be granted clearance until such fine is paid or sufficient sum deposited to pay the same, and such fine shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in any district court of the United States within the district in which the vessel may be found. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port has been notified by the master, agent, consignee, or owner that all the requirements of this section have been complied with: Provided, That the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization may, in his discretion, permit the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The line described below shall be preprinted on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The line of character of alien members of the crew (Form I–418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival. When an alternate manifest is used, "MONKEMAN" in addition to that should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like information concerning the seamen of all classes employed on such vessel, relative to the boarding thereof by the immigration officers as is required by section 33 of this Act in the case of passengers, and it shall be the duty of the master of any such vessel, before the departure of any seaman for any foreign port, to report the name of such seaman, the cause of his departure, and the intended destination, to the principal immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien seaman shall have been left behind, and also the names of those, if any, who have been signed on board to replace them, and the circumstances connected therewith. Any master who shall fail to comply with the requirements of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each such offense; and any person who shall knowingly bring into the United States any alien seaman who has been left behind in violation of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 for each alien seaman so brought, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any alien seaman who shall come into the United States in violation of this section shall be deported to the country whence he came, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, in the manner provided in section 20 of this Act, and shall not be admitted to the United States unless he shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he did not desert with intent to abandon permanently the vessel on which he arrived. (39 Stat. 878; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has been employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the sickness, temporary detention, or removal of such alien, from the United States from any place outside thereof, or pursuant to section 30 of this Act (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 136).

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing into the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman (which term includes a person employed on such vessel) shall, before the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection is to be made before or at the time of inspection of the crew), deposit with such immigration officer, or some person designated by him, a sum sufficient to cover the expense of returning such alien seaman to the country whence he came, or to the country to which he may be entitled to return under the provisions of section 33 of this Act, and a sum sufficient to pay for his maintenance for a period not exceeding five days, at the rate prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, but not exceeding $3 per day, and such deposit shall be held to cover the cost of the return of such alien seaman and his maintenance as aforesaid. Such deposit shall not be required from any vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is informed by the medical examiner of the condition of such alien seaman, or a request is made by the master of such vessel for the removal of such alien seaman for medical treatment, or for the purpose of obtaining a substitute for such alien seaman, or such alien seaman is certified by the medical examiner to be helpless or destitute, or likely to become a public charge, or afflicted with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or has been in the service of any vessel which has been ordered in quarantine because of the presence of such disease on board, or has been found to be a stowaway, or has been ordered deported by the Secretary of Labor. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand for a deposit in any case in which he is satisfied that the cost of the return of such alien seaman will not be incurred by the United States. The Attorney General is authorized to prescribe the terms and conditions upon which such deposits may be withdrawn by the collector of customs

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector pending the vessel at the port of arrival, but shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of chargee of alien members of the crew (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 20. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry list or manifest of all persons, including the members of the crew, on board such vessel, whether the destination there be to the United States or to some foreign country, which list or manifest shall be prepared in the form and manner and contain the information required by the Attorney General, and shall be subscribed by the master, agent, consignee, or master thereof to such immigration officer, at such time as the Attorney General may prescribe: and such master, agent, consignee, or master thereof shall furnish to such immigration officer such additional information relative to the persons named in such list as said officer may require. Such list or manifest shall be delivered before the departure of the vessel from the port: Provided, That in case of the sickness or death of any officer of the vessel before the departure of the vessel from the port, or in case any member of the crew or other person shall be taken sick or die after the departure of the vessel from the port and before the arrival at the first port in the United States, the master shall report in writing the sickness or death, with the cause thereof if known, to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and deliver to him a list containing the names of and other required information concerning any such members of the crew or other persons so sick or dying. Any master, agent, consignee, or master thereof who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such list or manifest, or to furnish any such additional information relative to the persons named therein as may be required as aforesaid, or who shall refuse or neglect to report, record, or deliver, as required by rules, regulations, and instructions of the Attorney General, any such sick or injured member of the crew or other person so sick or dying, or the cause of death thereof, shall pay to the collector of customs at the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each and every such person concerning whom such correct list or manifest is not delivered or such report not made, recorded, or delivered as required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such sum, and in the event such sum is imposed, suits if remission thereof: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such sum. (39 Stat. 886–887; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for the purpose of obtaining the necessary documents from the consular officer of the country to which he belongs, or in which he last resided, for the purpose of proceeding to such country, or pending the departure of the vessel on board which he arrived, or pending the departure of some other vessel to the port from which he arrived, or pending the departure of some vessel to a port in the country to which he belongs, or in which he last resided, or to a port in some adjacent country, or pending the transportation of such alien seaman to such port, or pending the settlement of any question affecting his right to land, or pending the adjudication of the case of such alien seaman by a board of special inquiry, or pending an appeal to the Secretary of Labor from the decision of such board of special inquiry, or pending the decision of the Secretary of Labor on such appeal. Any alien seaman who shall be permitted to land temporarily as provided in this section shall at such time and place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully. The deportation of such alien seaman shall be a condition precedent to the granting of clearance papers to the vessel on board which he arrived, unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall give a bond in the sum of $300 for each such alien seaman, conditioned upon the departure of such alien seaman on board such vessel or upon another vessel or in some other manner within such period of time as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and upon the payment of the hospital dues and other charges, if any, provided by law. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such case upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety or security therefor, in such form and amount as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and upon the payment of the hospital dues and other charges, if any, provided by law. Any alien seaman who shall remain in violation of any of the provisions of this section for a period of more than five years shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States unlawfully, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such case upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 186.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except foreign ports in contiguous territory, who shall fail to deport on board such vessel any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection he shall make as soon as practicable), or who shall refuse to deport any such alien seaman on board such vessel when required so to do by such immigration officer, or who shall fail to pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located the sum of $10 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety or security approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate or remit such fine. (43 Stat. 164–165, 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

(b) Proof shall be filed as above required of each alien seaman who shall depart from the United States, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers or the equivalent thereof, or the consular certificate of its master, unless such proof has been filed or the master produces the certificate of the proper officer that such proof has been filed, or unless the master shall give a bond in the sum of $300 for each alien seaman, conditioned upon the delivery of such proof as soon as practicable. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate or remit such forfeiture. (43 Stat. 165, 8 U. S. C. 191 (b).)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States will be unreasonably delayed or cannot be effected without expense which, in the opinion of the Attorney General, is unreasonable, he may cause such alien seaman to be detained on board such vessel or at such other place as he may designate pending the departure of such vessel from the United States, and the cost of such detention shall be paid by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel. (43 Stat. 165, 8 U. S. C. 191 (d).)

(d) Proof shall be filed as above required of each alien seaman who shall depart from the United States, and no vessel shall be granted clearance papers or the equivalent thereof, or the consular certificate of its master, unless such proof has been filed or the master produces the certificate of the proper officer that such proof has been filed, or unless the master shall give a bond in the sum of $300 for each alien seaman, conditioned upon the delivery of such proof as soon as practicable. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate or remit such forfeiture. (43 Stat. 165, 8 U. S. C. 191 (d).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of first arrival in the United States. The list or manifest (Form I–418) shall not be detached or removed, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "transit" to a location in a foreign country, such alien must be listed on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include seamen signing articles either as new seamen or as crew as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port or his assistant duly authorized in writing to receive the same, a complete and accurate list, or manifest, in triplicate, and typewritten or printed in the English language, containing the name, age, sex, calling or occupation, and last permanent residence of all persons, including cabin passengers, who may be brought to the United States on such vessel, whether they are citizens of the United States or aliens, and whether they intend to become residents or temporary visitors, and the final destination of all such persons, whether they have been in the United States previously or not, and whether they have been in prison or in almshouses or institutions for the care of the insane, or supported by charity, or have been deported, or have come in violation of any law, and whether they are in possession of money and how much, and whether they are connected with any anarchistic society or organization, and whether they are coming under contract or agreement, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and if so what kind of labor or service, and for how long a period, and whether they intend to become citizens of the United States, and whether they have ever been in the United States before, and if so when and where, and whether they have been refused admission or deported, and if so why, and whether they have ever been in prison or almshouses or institutions for the care of the insane, or supported by charity, and whether they are coming to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends and their complete address, and whether they have the money with which to pay their railroad fare and other transportation charges, and who paid their passage, and whether they have been guilty of any crime or misdemeanor, and what their occupation is, and whether they are going to the United States to labor, and if so what their condition of health, mental and physical, is at the time of examination, and whether they are deformed or crippled, and if so how long they have been deformed or crippled, and whether they are blind, deaf and dumb, or otherwise physically defective, and whether they are under sentence of death for any crime or offense of a political nature, or otherwise, and whether they have been convicted of any crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and whether they are coming in pursuance of a previously existing labor contract, and such other facts as may be required as to their admissibility to the United States as immigrants under the provisions of this Act or any amendatory thereof or additional thereto, which said list or manifest shall be prepared under the direction of the Secretary of Labor and in such form as he may prescribe, and shall be verified by the oath of the master or agent of such vessel, taken before an immigrant inspector, which oath may be administered by any such master or agent to any such alien: Provided, That the master or agent of any vessel arriving at a seaport of the United States from a foreign port shall not be required to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of arrival at such port a list containing the names of any cabin passengers who have been duly entered and inspected at the port of initial embarkation in the United States and who are destined to remain therein, but in lieu thereof shall deliver to such inspector a list containing the names of such cabin passengers, and shall be required to deliver to such inspector at the time of departure from the United States of any cabin passengers a list containing the names of those departing. Any master or agent who shall refuse to deliver such list or lists, or who shall refuse to answer any question touching the information required to be contained therein, or who shall make, or cause to be made, any false statement in such list or lists in relation to the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 for each and every such offense.

SEC. 39. (a) That the master, charterer, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than an alien seaman employed on such vessel) shall be required to pay a tax of $8 for each such alien, which shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of first arrival is located at the time of inspection of such alien by the immigrant inspectors, and no such alien shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of actual emergency, or for the proper discharge of the duties of the vessel on which he arrived, until the tax imposed by this section has been paid to the collector of customs or his deputy. Any tax paid by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel for any alien who is not lawfully admitted to the United States shall be refunded to the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel if such alien is refused a visa by the consular officer or is refused admission to the United States by the immigrant inspectors, unless such master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel shall have failed to comply with any of the provisions of this Act or any rule or regulation made thereunder

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty to such vessel, or for such other reasons as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the alleviation of distress, and then only under such regulations as he may prescribe, to be enforced by the immigration officers of the United States at the port of arrival and the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing any alien from any place outside thereof to the United States shall be responsible for the proper care while in the United States of such alien and his departure therefrom on such vessel or some other vessel.

SEC. 30. (a) Any owner, operator, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from foreign contiguous territory) or any person (except a citizen of the United States) in charge of any railroad or other conveyance arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except from foreign contiguous territory) shall be required to take on board before departure from the United States any alien ordered to be deported from the United States under any provision of this Act, and to transport such alien to the country whence he came, or to the country from which he sailed, or to such other country as may be designated by such alien and which will receive him, the cost of such transportation to be borne by the owner of such vessel or by the person in charge of such railroad or other conveyance: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in favor of any such alien who is in transit through the United States to a foreign country, and may make such provisions and regulations governing the detention, removal, maintenance, and care of such aliens while in the United States as he may deem necessary, and as to all persons, entering in the United States prior to the enactment of this Act.

(d) Section 23 of the Immigration Act of 1917 is repealed, but shall remain in force as to all persons, except owners, agents, consignees, and masters of vessels, who shall have violated the provisions of such section prior to the enactment of this Act.

(e) It shall be the duty of the master or commanding officer, or the agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of any vessel transporting any alien to the United States, to prevent any such alien from landing at any port in the United States at which such alien is not entitled to land under the provisions of this Act, and any such master, commanding officer, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee who knowingly fails to prevent any such alien from landing at any such port, or who knowingly lands or permits to land any such alien at any such port, except as provided by this Act, or who refuses or fails to remove any such alien from the United States to the country whence he came or to the country from which he sailed or to such other country as may be designated by such alien and which will receive him, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit by the master, commanding officer, agent, owner, charterer, or consignee of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof thereafter imposed by the collector of customs.

(f) Every alien who shall enter the United States in violation of any of the provisions of this Act shall be taken into custody and deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended by section 1 of the Act of May 10, 1920, and by section 14 of the Act of May 26, 1924, as amended by section 2 of the Act of May 29, 1928, and by section 1 of the Act of March 4, 1929, and by section 1 of the Act of March 2, 1931, and by section 1 of the Act of June 21, 1932, and by section 1 of the Act of June 26, 1934, and by section 1 of the Act of June 28, 1935, and by section 1 of the Act of August 9, 1937, and by section 1 of the Act of June 23, 1938, and by section 1 of the Act of June 5, 1939, and by section 1 of the Act of June 16, 1941, and by section 1 of the Act of December 17, 1942, and by section 1 of the Act of December 29, 1945, and by section 1 of the Act of June 25, 1948, and by section 1 of the Act of June 16, 1950, and by section 1 of the Act of September 23, 1950, and by section 1 of the Act of September 26, 1961, and by section 1 of the Act of October 3, 1961, and by section 1 of the Act of July 14, 1962, and by section 1 of the Act of October 24, 1962, and by section 1 of the Act of October 3, 1965, and by section 1 of the Act of October 20, 1965, and by section 1 of the Act of October 20, 1965, and by section 1 of the Act of October 20

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or entered, and specifying those, if any, who have been employed in the port of arrival; to make corrections in such lists as to the above matters, and to report the names of any such aliens who may be discovered in the port of arrival; to furnish such information in addition to such lists in relation to such aliens as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and also to deliver to the master of any such vessel at the time of the departure therefrom from the port of arrival a list containing the names of all such aliens employed on such vessel, and specifying those, if any, who have been discharged from the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and to deliver to the master of any such vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port in the United States to any foreign port a list containing the names of all such aliens employed on such vessel, and specifying those who have been employed from the time of the arrival of such vessel at such port; and also to deliver to the master of any such vessel at the time of the departure of such vessel from any port in the United States to any foreign port a list containing the names of all such aliens employed on such vessel, and specifying those who have been discharged, and the cause of their discharge, so far as known to the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to permit any immigration officer to go on board of such vessel for the purpose of inspecting the same or who shall refuse to answer truly any question relative to such vessel and the persons on board thereof which may be put by any such officer, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to a time therein specified, or if no time is specified, within one hour after the vessel shall have been duly admitted to entry, and $10 for each alien concerning whom any other omission or violation occurs: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the uniform deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deposit on board such alien seaman employed on such vessel duly inspected and admitted by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and who fails to deposit or to deposit such inspection or to deport such seaman shall be required by such immigration officer or the commissioner of immigration and naturalization to pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the question whether a penalty is incurred hereunder, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The provisions of this section, as amended, shall apply to all deportations arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a failure to deposit or deport such seaman as required by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived will be unduly burdensome because of the inadequacy of the vessel's facilities, or because of the lack of space, or for any other reason, he may cause such seaman to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived or the owner thereof or the master thereof, such expenses and fines to be collected as provided by law. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of which refuses to pay the expenses of deportation of any alien seaman as provided by this section, or has failed to pay any fine or penalty imposed by this section within the time specified herein, or within one hour after the vessel shall have been duly admitted to entry, if no time is specified herein.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plain white paper only by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall not be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no alien is carried (Form 688) shall not be required or delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 688) shall not be required or delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no alien is carried, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position therein; and after the arrival of such vessel at the first port of arrival: or list containing so much of such information as can be ascertained, and specifying those to be held for further inquiry, and the reasons therefor, and such other information likely to lead to the detection of any violation of the immigration laws as the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel at each port of the United States from which any alien employed thereon is to be landed he shall deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port a supplemental list containing the names of all aliens employed who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival at the previous port, and who have been discharged or who have died since the departure from such previous port, and the cause of the discharge or death of each such alien, so far as known to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver any list required of him by this section, or who shall refuse to answer any question concerning any such alien put to him by any officer charged with the administration of the immigration laws touching the information required to be contained in such list, or who shall knowingly make a false answer to any such question, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien concerning whom such refusal or false answer is made, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(b) Every alien who shall depart or attempt to depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section may be prevented from so doing and shall be deported in the same manner as provided for the deportation of aliens who may be found in the United States in violation of this Act.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any master has failed to comply with the requirements of this section as to any alien on board his vessel, or has refused to permit any immigration officer to go on board his vessel for the purpose of inspecting the crew or any part thereof, or to detain any alien on board, or has refused or failed to deliver on demand to the proper immigration officer any such list required of him, or has connived at or colluded with any alien to enable such alien to come to the United States in violation of law, such master shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared while any fine imposed by this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the liability of the master to pay such fine upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien who shall not be admitted or who shall be adjudged unlawfully in the United States or who shall not comply with the requirements of the immigration laws at the time of application for admission or who shall enter the United States in violation of law, and every alien who becomes a public charge within three years after his entry into the United States from causes existing prior to his entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by this Act to the country whence he came, at any time upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts regarding the cause and manner of the entry of any alien into the United States, the time he has been in the United States, whether he entered at a proper time and place, and as to the regularity of the proceedings and of any warrant of arrest. Any alien arrested within one year after his entry and deported shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation by which the expenses of the immigration service are paid, unless the Secretary of Labor shall direct otherwise. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this Act shall be deported as provided in this section upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor at any time thereafter.

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone, or any territory, island, or insular possession of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, and when specifically authorized by the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe, but such alien seamen employed on such vessel shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners).

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone shall be required to pay a tax of $8 for each alien seaman employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners). Such tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer is located and shall be refunded by the Secretary of Labor to the master of such vessel at the time of the departure of such seamen on board such vessel from the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the liability of the master to pay such fine upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien who shall not be admitted or who shall be adjudged unlawfully in the United States or who shall not comply with the requirements of the immigration laws at the time of application for admission or who shall enter the United States in violation of law, and every alien who becomes a public charge within three years after his entry into the United States from causes existing prior to his entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by this Act to the country whence he came, at any time upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts regarding the cause and manner of the entry of any alien into the United States, the time he has been in the United States, whether he entered at a proper time and place, and as to the regularity of the proceedings and of any warrant of arrest. Any alien arrested within one year after his entry and deported shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation by which the expenses of the immigration service are paid, unless the Secretary of Labor shall direct otherwise. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this Act shall be deported as provided in this section upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor at any time thereafter.

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone, or any territory, island, or insular possession of the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of an emergency, and when specifically authorized by the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside the Panama Canal Zone shall be required to pay a tax of $8 for each alien seaman employed on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners). Such tax shall be paid to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such immigration officer is located and shall be refunded by the Secretary of Labor to the master of such vessel at the time of the departure of such seamen on board such vessel from the United States, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the liability of the master to pay such fine upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien who shall not be admitted or who shall be adjudged unlawfully in the United States or who shall not comply with the requirements of the immigration laws at the time of application for admission or who shall enter the United States in violation of law, and every alien who becomes a public charge within three years after his entry into the United States from causes existing prior to his entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by this Act to the country whence he came, at any time upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts regarding the cause and manner of the entry of any alien into the United States, the time he has been in the United States, whether he entered at a proper time and place, and as to the regularity of the proceedings and of any warrant of arrest. Any alien arrested within one year after his entry and deported shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation by which the expenses of the immigration service are paid, unless the Secretary of Labor shall direct otherwise. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this Act shall be deported as provided in this section upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor at any time thereafter.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor shall be satisfied that any master has failed to comply with the requirements of this section as to any alien on board his vessel, or has refused to permit any immigration officer to go on board his vessel for the purpose of inspecting the crew or any part thereof, or to detain any alien on board, or has refused or failed to deliver on demand to the proper immigration officer any such list required of him, or has connived at or colluded with any alien to enable such alien to come to the United States in violation of law, such master shall pay to the immigration officer at the port of arrival $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared while any fine imposed by this section remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question of the liability of the master to pay such fine upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Every alien who shall not be admitted or who shall be adjudged unlawfully in the United States or who shall not comply with the requirements of the immigration laws at the time of application for admission or who shall enter the United States in violation of law, and every alien who becomes a public charge within three years after his entry into the United States from causes existing prior to his entry, shall be deported in the manner provided by this Act to the country whence he came, at any time upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor. The decision of the Secretary of Labor shall be final as to the facts regarding the cause and manner of the entry of any alien into the United States, the time he has been in the United States, whether he entered at a proper time and place, and as to the regularity of the proceedings and of any warrant of arrest. Any alien arrested within one year after his entry and deported shall be deported at the expense of the appropriation by which the expenses of the immigration service are paid, unless the Secretary of Labor shall direct otherwise. Any alien who shall enter the United States in violation of this Act shall be deported as provided in this section upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor at any time thereafter.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form 598) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the immigration officer or the Secretary of Labor.

When an arriving alien is a "nonquota" alien as defined in section 4 (a) of the Immigration Act of 1924, as amended by section 2 (c) of the Act of May 29, 1928, the immigration officer at the port of arrival is authorized to issue a nonquota immigrant visa in duplicate, which shall be delivered to the alien at the time of his examination. Such visa shall be void if not presented to the immigration officer at the port of entry within four months from the date of issuance.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all persons, including the members of the crew, on board such vessel, whether they were then destined to the United States or not, and whether they were then citizens or subjects of the United States or not, and whether they were then in possession of valid passports or not, and such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor made pursuant to law, which lists shall be prepared by the direction of the master of such vessel, and shall be subscribed and sworn to by him before the immigration officer at the port of arrival; or lists containing such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor made pursuant to law, which lists shall be prepared by the direction of the master of such vessel, and shall be subscribed and sworn to by him before the immigration officer at the port of arrival: Provided, That the master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, touching at a port in the United States, except temporarily for medical attendance, to obtain a clearance for the vessel, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical attendance, or because of illness, or other cause beyond his control, any alien employed on board as a member of the crew of such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have granted such alien permission so to do; and any alien so employed who shall leave the vessel without such permission shall be deemed unlawfully in the United States and shall be reported and deported as provided in this Act to the same extent as if he had been originally examined and admitted: Provided, That the master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, touching at a port in the United States, except temporarily for medical attendance, or because of illness, or other cause beyond his control, shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of every alien who may be employed on board such vessel at such port and who may be a member of the crew of such vessel when she departs from the United States, and such alien shall be detained on board the vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have granted such alien permission to go ashore or to depart and assumes responsibility for such alien's maintenance while in the United States: Provided further

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector portside the vessel at the port of arrival, and no inference be taken from the vessel's failure to be ready for delivery at the time of arrival. Any list of changes or alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. Words in ordinary English shall be used, and a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of ordinary American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or from one if bound for the ultimate destination of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a complete list of all the persons employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, where born and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who sign articles in a foreign port and those who sign articles in the United States; and no master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall allow any person employed on such vessel to land in the United States from such vessel at any port until the immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival shall have granted a permit for such landing, except in the case of the crew of a vessel touching at such port in the regular course of her voyage from one foreign port to another, and except in the case of the crew of a vessel touching at such port for the purpose of shipping a crew, and except in the case of the crew of a vessel which has been in distress and has been reported as such to the immigration officer at the port of arrival: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall, when required by the immigration officer at the port of arrival, report at the office of such immigration officer the name of every person employed on such vessel, and shall furnish such information in regard to each and every person employed on such vessel as may be required by the rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall detain on board or at such other place as may be designated by such immigration officer any person employed on such vessel concerning whom the master, agent, consignee, or owner of such vessel knows or has reason to believe that the presence in the United States of such person is unlawful, or that such person belongs to any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States by this Act, until a permit for the landing of such person has been granted by the Secretary of Labor or by such person or persons as he may designate for the purpose, or by the boards of special inquiry hereinafter provided for: Provided, That the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall not be required to detain on board or at such other place as may be designated by such immigration officer any such person for more than three days after the vessel on which he arrived shall have been admitted to entry or after notice that such vessel has been refused admission to entry, unless the case of such person is certified by such officer to the Secretary of Labor for special inquiry, or unless such person is detained under the provisions of section 20 of this Act. (39 Stat. 886–888; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative officer described by this section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 168) pertaining to the aliens employed, the aforesaid objection in 8 CFR 150.11–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory, or islands adjacent thereto, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of illness not discovered until after the vessel has left her last foreign port, or for such time as may be necessary to enable the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel to comply with the requirements of this section, or to secure other seamen in his place, or because, in the opinion of the Secretary of Labor, the refusal to land any such alien seaman would result in unusual hardship. Any alien seaman who shall land temporarily in the United States under the provisions of this section shall be deported as a condition precedent to the granting of a visa and admission to the United States, and the cost of his deportation to such alien's home or place of residence at the time of his entry into the United States shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs, conditioned to cover each and every alien seaman employed on board such vessel, in the penal sum of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, shall have been given as the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize and approve. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize the substitution of a deposit of cash or bonds of the United States in the amount of the bond required by this section, and upon the deposit of such cash or bonds the same shall be held and disposed of in the same manner as provided for the disposition of such bonds. Any bond given pursuant to this section, as amended, shall apply to all seamen employed on such vessel during the period of her stay in the United States, whether or not the names of such seamen were listed in the application therefor.

(b) Every alien seaman shall be deported as a condition precedent to his landing in the United States, unless he is in possession of a valid unexpired visa, or unless he is a person not required by this Act to obtain a visa as a condition precedent to his admission to the United States, or unless he is a person with respect to whom the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall certify in writing that he is in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa and is not known or believed to be afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disorders set forth in section 2 of this Act, or to be a member of any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States by section 3 of this Act, or to be ineligible to citizenship, unless application for the bar from entry of any such alien seaman has been specially waived by the Attorney General prior to the departure of such vessel from a foreign port or place or her arrival at a port of the United States. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act, and shall be deported as a condition precedent to the granting of a visa and admission to the United States, and the cost of his deportation to such alien's home or place of residence at the time of his entry into the United States shall be borne by the master, agent, consignee, or owner of the vessel on which he arrived. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until a bond with sufficient surety approved by the collector of customs, conditioned to cover each and every alien seaman employed on board such vessel, in the penal sum of $300 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, shall have been given as the Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize and approve. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, authorize the substitution of a deposit of cash or bonds of the United States in the amount of the bond required by this section, and upon the deposit of such cash or bonds the same shall be held and disposed of in the same manner as provided for the disposition of such bonds. Any bond given pursuant to this section, as amended, shall apply to all seamen employed on such vessel during the period of her stay in the United States, whether or not the names of such seamen were listed in the application therefor.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States is impracticable or inconvenient by reason of the vessel on which he arrived not being scheduled to depart therefrom within a reasonable time or to be obtained on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, he may cause such alien seamen to be taken from the United States to a foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island, to be designated by the Attorney General, and there detained at the expense of the vessel on which they arrived pending their deportation. Any such alien seamen who shall enter the United States in violation of the terms of this subdivision shall be deported as provided in subdivision (b) of this section. (43 Stat. 164–165, as amended by 43 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (a), 161 (c).)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, THOMAS HAMILTON MORRIS, of the SS. EDENTON ROAD, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew brought in such vessel from and boy or piece goods per thereon voyage. SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury certified by the medical officer in charge of the port of deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deport on board thereof any alien seaman employed on such vessel shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court, and such alien seaman shall be deported as provided by law. Such fine may be remitted or refunded, and such imprisonment may be terminated, in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such deportation.

(b) Every such alien seaman shall be examined by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and by the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, except temporarily for such immigration officer or the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to certify that such alien seaman is suffering from a contagious disease, and every such alien seaman certified to be suffering from such disease shall be detained on board or at quarantine as directed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall not be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury certified by such immigration officer or the medical officer of the United States Public Health Service to the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be required to pay the transportation of such seaman to a greater distance than to the port at which such seaman was originally shipped.

(d) Every such alien seaman who does not depart from the United States as required by this section shall be deported at any time within five years after arrival in the United States upon the warrant of the Attorney General, in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law, and the cost of such deportation shall be a lien against the vessel on which he arrived, and shall be collected by the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such disposition upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be required to pay the transportation of such seaman to a greater distance than that to the port at which such seaman was originally shipped.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival in the United States from any foreign port of a vessel in the port of entry the master, purser, or agent of every vessel, including vessels solely navigating the waters of the United States and foreign vessels touching at ports of the United States, before any passenger is landed from such vessel, shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry a complete list or manifest of all persons on board such vessel, whether cabin passengers or those in the steerage, including the name and nationality of every alien, his last permanent residence, his final destination, whether he has a ticket through to such destination, whether he has been assisted in coming by any person or society, what amount he has with him, whether he is in possession of a railroad or steamship ticket, whether he has been in the United States before, if so, when and how long ago, whether he is going to join any relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend and where, whether he has ever been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or is opposed to organized government, or is a member of any organization entertaining such belief, whether he is coming pursuant to previous promise or agreement to perform labor in this country, and if so, what kind of labor he is coming to perform, whether he has a ticket to the place to which he is destined, and if not who paid for it, whether he has been deported before, and if so, why, whether he has a trade or profession, and what is his age, sex, nationality, race, and last occupation, and whether going to join a husband, father, wife, child, mother, grandfather, or grandmother, and if so, their names and relationship, and whether he is married or single, and the name and address of the nearest relative or friend in the country whence he came, and whether in possession of $50 in money, and if not the amount he has with him not exceeding $50, and whether ever before in the United States or ever before arrested or deported from the United States or excluded and the reason therefor, and whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, express or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what is the nature and duration thereof, and whether the alien intends to return to his native country after performing such labor, and whether the alien is a skilled laborer or not, and if so, what is his occupation, and whether he has paid his own passage or whether it was paid by others, and what amount he has paid for such passage, whether he is in good health, mentally and physically, and any other facts which may be required as to the right of any such alien to enter the United States under the law. The master, purser, or agent of every vessel shall also report the sex, age, and nationality of all aliens who may be allowed to land temporarily from his vessel, and the reasons therefor, and shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of entry a list containing the names of all aliens who have been ordered deported from the United States while on board such vessel, and the cases in which such aliens were ordered deported. Any master, purser, or agent of any vessel who refuses or neglects to perform any of the duties required of him by this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom he refuses or neglects to furnish the information required of him by this section, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(a) The master, purser, or agent of every vessel bringing aliens to the United States shall before any such alien lands furnish to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival a bond in the penal sum of $300 for each such alien, conditioned that such alien shall not become a public charge within five years after the date of his entry into the United States, and that if such alien becomes a public charge within such time the cost of his maintenance and support shall be paid, or in default thereof the amount expended for such purpose may be recovered jointly and severally from the master, purser, agent, owner, charterer, and consignee of the vessel in any court of competent jurisdiction in a civil action.

(b) Every alien arriving at a seaport of the United States from foreign contiguous territory by water, not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, or other document which may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor in lieu thereof, shall be detained on board or at the option of the master, purser, or agent of the vessel on which he arrives at the expense of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel, and such vessel shall not be allowed to land any passengers in the United States, except in the case of accident, illness, or stress of weather, until the examination of such alien has been completed and he has been allowed to land by the immigrant inspector, unless such alien is a member of the crew of a vessel which shall depart from a port of the United States within twenty-four hours after its arrival and such alien is certified by the immigrant inspector in charge to the proper officer of the vessel as not likely to become a public charge, and is in possession of a return ticket over a definite route and within a definite period to a country foreign to the country from which he came to the United States, and has the means and intention to depart immediately from the United States.

(c) If the master, purser, or agent of any vessel violates any of the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment thereof of the fine imposed for such violation, nor shall such clearance be granted if application for review of such decision has been taken as provided for in subdivision (e) of this section within the time prescribed for the payment of such fine, unless a bond in the penal sum of the fine imposed, with sureties approved by the collector of customs, conditioned upon the payment of such fine if sustained on review, shall be deposited with the collector of customs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the decision on appeal taken as provided for in subdivision (e) of this section from the action of the Commissioner General of Immigration in imposing a fine for violation of this section, unless a bond in the penal sum of the fine imposed, with sureties approved by the collector of customs, conditioned upon the payment of such fine if sustained on review, shall be deposited with the collector of customs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the decision on appeal taken as provided for in subdivision (e) of this section from the action of the Commissioner General of Immigration in refusing to remit or mitigate a fine imposed for violation of this section unless the Secretary of Labor shall certify that the remission or mitigation of such fine is recommended on the ground that the vessel was not at fault in connection with the violation for which the fine was imposed, or on the ground that the violation was inadvertent or excusable or was cured promptly upon discovery, and that the vessel has been operated in good faith.

(d) Every alien arriving at a seaport of the United States from foreign contiguous territory by land, not in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, or other document which may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor in lieu thereof, shall be detained on board or at the option of the master, purser, or agent of the vessel on which he arrives at the expense of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel, and such vessel shall not be allowed to land any passengers in the United States, except in the case of accident, illness, or stress of weather, until the examination of such alien has been completed and he has been allowed to land by the immigrant inspector, unless such alien is a member of the crew of a vessel which shall depart from a port of the United States within twenty-four hours after its arrival and such alien is certified by the immigrant inspector in charge to the proper officer of the vessel as not likely to become a public charge, and is in possession of a return ticket over a definite route and within a definite period to a country foreign to the country from which he came to the United States, and has the means and intention to depart immediately from the United States.

(e) If the master, purser, or agent of any vessel refuses or neglects to perform any duty required of him by any provision of this section, or refuses or neglects to comply with any order or regulation made thereunder, or makes any misrepresentation or false statement with reference to the performance of any such duty or compliance with any such order or regulation, or attempts to do any of such things, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such offense, and not more than one such offense shall be charged in any one information or indictment. Such fine shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by libel in rem, and clearance may be withheld or granted upon the filing of a bond sufficient to cover such fine. Pending the payment of such fine or the giving of such bond the vessel may be libeled and seized by any collector of customs or any immigrant inspector. Such fine shall be remitted or mitigated by the Secretary of Labor upon the recommendation of the Commissioner General of Immigration if it be established to his satisfaction that the master, purser, or agent was without fault in connection with the violation, or that the violation was inadvertent or excusable, and that the vessel has been operated in good faith. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel upon which a fine has been imposed, pending decision by the Secretary of Labor, if application for remission or mitigation has been made within the time prescribed by this section.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms obtained by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and shall not be removed or boarded, put ashore, or allowed to leave the vessel. The list of aliens or alien members of crews (Form 598) shall not be removed or taken from the vessel in the absence of the immigration officer, and the master will be required to deliver the list to the principal immigration officer at the port. When no aliens are carried, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be held on board while in the ports of the United States; and it shall be the duty of such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to deliver to such immigration officer, at the time of the entry of such vessel or if full compliance with such duty cannot be had at such time, then as soon as discovered, all cases in which any alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and permit the deportee of any such alien to return to the vessel for the purpose of proceeding to the port for which such vessel is cleared, and the cost of the maintenance of such alien, together with the cost incident to his return, shall be paid by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel bringing such alien to the United States. Any such master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each such alien in respect of whom such default occurs, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, the sum so deposited shall be applied to the payment of such fine, and the residue, if any, shall be returned to the depositor: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover the fine, unless the master or owner shall have been notified that such question has been decided adversely: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 2. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, has been delivered, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said act hereof served, the deposit effected in rule 53 has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to obtain on board such vessel before departure, a certificate from a consular officer of the United States, except Canadians, Mexicans, and natives of the West Indies, adjacent islands, Central and South America, and Newfoundland, or temporarily to such seaman as is a bona fide member of the crew of a vessel regularly engaged in trade between foreign ports and ports of the United States, and who is in possession of a valid seaman's identification certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor, or by such other officer as he may designate, and who is otherwise admissible under the immigration laws, or who fails to obtain such certificate upon arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States, or who fails to obtain on board any vessel prior to departure therefrom a certificate from a consular officer of the United States, or who fails to present such certificate upon demand of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, shall be deported in the manner provided in section 19 of the Act of February 5, 1917, to the country in which he was born or to the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, at the option of the Secretary of Labor, and at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless such seaman is in possession of a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor under the provisions of section 3 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and is otherwise admissible under the immigration laws. Upon the payment of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel shall be granted clearance for the vessel from any port of the United States, notwithstanding the default of such seaman to report for deportation or the refusal of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer to pay the hospital dues, if any, who have deserted or landed, or who have been ordered on board for examination by the immigration officer at the time of the vessel's departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been left behind on account of illness, and a certificate of the cause of such illness signed by the medical officer of the vessel, and the amount of the hospital dues, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens entitled to demand their deportation, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or illness, such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall, if required by the Secretary of Labor, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance before the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, and, in the event such fine is imposed, the sum so deposited shall be applied to the payment of such fine, and the residue, if any, shall be returned to the depositor: And provided further, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not obtain upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was refused by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to obtain or deport alien seaman specified by the master pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port to a place if shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens who are to be landed at the port of arrival; to list contributing to much of such information as is to be required by regulations prescribed and which may be required by the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and which list shall be subscribed and sworn to before the master by the said alien seaman, relative to such matters. Any master who refuses to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or to any person duly authorized by the Attorney General to receive the same, the list required by this section, or who refuses to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching the said matters which may be put to him by the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or by any person duly authorized by the Attorney General to put the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who refuses to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or to any person duly authorized by the Attorney General to receive the same, a complete and accurate list of all the crew members who were not included in the lists required to be delivered before the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who refuses to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching the said matters which may be put to him by the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or by any person duly authorized by the Attorney General to put the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master who refuses to deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival, or to any person duly authorized by the Attorney General to receive the same, a complete and accurate list of all the crew members who were not included in the lists required to be delivered before the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place touched at, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 150.1. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative time prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 191) prevails, nor unless vessel, the deputy specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the minimum depletion of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory and bringing any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall deliver to each such alien seaman a permit (which immediate shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), and no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land in the United States except upon such immigration officer or the Assistant General to do so, and then by the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located and only at such time and place as may be designated by the said immigration officer. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the inability to pay the amount of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or to a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof shall be filed as shall be prescribed by the Attorney General of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to establish to the satisfaction of the immigration officer or the Attorney General, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport such seaman on board such vessel, and the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel shall be liable to a fine of $1,000 for each such failure occurred. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination as to whether or not such seaman has been so detained or deported, or while any such seaman is employed on such vessel, except upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the production of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof, approved by the collector of customs.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such seaman may be permitted to depart from the United States on board any vessel other than the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its payment satisfactory to the Attorney General.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew, brought in said vessel from any port or place during her present voyage. I have stated the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 24 and 25, Act of May 26, 1924, printed above.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from part foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, surgeon, or person in charge in the absence of the master, and each and every person in charge of any vessel or vehicle bringing an alien to the United States from any foreign port or place, to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they intend to leave the vessel; the intended length of their stay in the United States; the cities, towns, villages, or states to which they severally intend to go; whether they have been in the United States before, and if so, when, where, and how long they resided there; whether they have a ticket through to their ultimate destination; whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity; whether they are coming under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States; whether they have been deported or excluded from the United States and the cause therefor; whether they are polygamists; whether they believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law; whether they are anarchists; whether they have ever been connected with any society, association, or combination of persons which believes in, advises, advocates, or teaches the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials; whether they have a final certificate of naturalization, and if so, the number, date, and place of issuance thereof; whether they are married or single; the age, sex, nationality, race, and last occupation of each alien; the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each; whether any alien has been in receipt of or has applied for relief or support from any charitable institution or society in any country; whether any alien has a ticket or money with which to pay his passage to his ultimate destination, and who provided him with such ticket or money; whether any alien is coming to the United States in pursuance of a promise or agreement to labor for any person or organization in the United States; the location, nature, and amount of property owned by each alien; the relationship, if any, existing between the alien and the person who provided the ticket or money for his passage; whether any alien has been deported at the expense of the United States, or of any State or municipality within the United States, and if so, when; whether any alien has ever been refused admission to the United States, or deported therefrom, and if so, when; whether any alien is a stowaway; whether any alien is under sentence of death or has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, the name of the crime and the punishment inflicted; whether any alien is a person who has been or is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose; whether any alien is a professional beggar; whether any alien is coming to the United States in consequence of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States; the future intended permanent or temporary residence in the United States of each alien; whether each alien is willing to be finger-printed; and such other information regarding the movements of aliens coming to and departing from the United States as the Commissioner General of Immigration may from time to time prescribe. (43 Stat. 154, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside foreign contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical examination or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, only at a port of entry designated by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and at such time and place as an immigrant inspector may be present for the inspection of the vessel and the aliens thereon. Such inspection shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners, but any alien so designated may be detained on board or at such other place as may be designated by the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival for further examination by special boards of medical examiners. Such boards shall be appointed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, and shall consist of not less than three nor more than five members, at least one of whom shall be a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service, if such an officer is available. Such boards shall have authority to determine whether aliens detained for medical reasons shall be allowed to land or shall be deported, and their decision shall be final as to rejection unless reversed on appeal to the Secretary of Labor within such time and in accordance with such rules as may be prescribed by him. Pending the final determination of the case of any alien detained for medical reasons, the Commissioner General of Immigration may, in his discretion, permit such alien to be cared for and maintained at the expense of the owner of the vessel on which he arrived, or of the agent or consignee of such vessel, in a hospital or elsewhere. Such owner, agent, or consignee shall furnish a bond in such amount as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, conditioned upon the return of such alien for deportation if he is not found to be entitled to land. Any alien who shall land in the United States, except temporarily for medical examination, or who shall remain in the United States for a longer period than permitted by the terms of his admission or any extension thereof granted by the Secretary of Labor, shall, upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, be taken into custody and deported to the country whence he came, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws, unless the Secretary of Labor shall adjudge that the cost of such deportation should be borne wholly or in part by the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel bringing such alien to the United States, in which case the Secretary of Labor may order that such cost be collected by the collector of customs from such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master, and paid into the Treasury of the United States. EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of vessel in the United States from part foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, purser, surgeon, or person in charge in the absence of the master, and each and every person in charge of any vessel or vehicle bringing an alien to the United States from any foreign port or place, to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the ports at which they intend to leave the vessel; the intended length of their stay in the United States; the cities, towns, villages, or states to which they severally intend to go; whether they have been in the United States before, and if so, when, where, and how long they resided there; whether they have a ticket through to their ultimate destination; whether they have been in prison or almshouse or supported by charity; whether they are coming under contract or agreement to perform labor in the United States; whether they have been deported or excluded from the United States and the cause therefor; whether they are polygamists; whether they believe in or advocate the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law; whether they are anarchists; whether they have ever been connected with any society, association, or combination of persons which believes in, advises, advocates, or teaches the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials; whether they have a final certificate of naturalization, and if so, the number, date, and place of issuance thereof; whether they are married or single; the age, sex, nationality, race, and last occupation of each alien; the number of pieces of baggage belonging to each; whether any alien has been in receipt of or has applied for relief or support from any charitable institution or society in any country; whether any alien has a ticket or money with which to pay his passage to his ultimate destination, and who provided him with such ticket or money; whether any alien is coming to the United States in pursuance of a promise or agreement to labor for any person or organization in the United States; the location, nature, and amount of property owned by each alien; the relationship, if any, existing between the alien and the person who provided the ticket or money for his passage; whether any alien has been deported at the expense of the United States, or of any State or municipality within the United States, and if so, when; whether any alien has ever been refused admission to the United States, or deported therefrom, and if so, when; whether any alien is a stowaway; whether any alien is under sentence of death or has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and if so, the name of the crime and the punishment inflicted; whether any alien is a person who has been or is coming to the United States for an immoral purpose; whether any alien is a professional beggar; whether any alien is coming to the United States in consequence of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States; the future intended permanent or temporary residence in the United States of each alien; whether each alien is willing to be finger-printed; and such other information regarding the movements of aliens coming to and departing from the United States as the Commissioner General of Immigration may from time to time prescribe. (43 Stat. 154, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien as an expense to the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws would be unjustified or impracticable due to the lack of passport or other travel document or the refusal of the government of a foreign country to accept the alien, or for other reasons, he may cause such alien to be deported to any country which is willing to accept him, and may pay the transportation and other expenses incident thereto from any appropriation available for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Aliens who are subject to deportation under more than one provision of this section may be deported in accordance with any such provision selected by the Attorney General. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the discretion of the Attorney General to deport any alien at any time and to any country in accordance with any provision of law. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 137 (a), 137 (c).)

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, [illegible], of the 22nd District, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly in such vessel from and port or place qualified per foreign voyage. I have noted the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, supra hereof.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR
Immigration Service

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be preserved on board foreign merchant vessels and shall be kept for readily ready to the immigration officer at the port of arrival and at all ports where the vessel may call thereafter before clearance is granted by the immigration officer. The list of persons on board must be corrected by the master to show the additional persons who may join the vessel at each port. Failure to produce the list may result in a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien not listed. The master is required to deliver a copy of the list to the immigration officer at the last port of departure from the United States. (See section 251 of the Immigration and Nationality Act (8 U.S.C. 1281).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 38. That it shall be unlawful for any master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of any vessel to bring it, or cause it to be brought, into any port of the United States from any foreign port or place in which the yellow fever is prevalent, or to allow any person to leave or depart from such vessel, except for quarantine purposes, before the vessel shall have been properly inspected by the medical officers of the United States Public Health Service, and shall have been given a bill of health by said officers to the effect that said vessel is at the time of inspection free from infection and that all persons on board have been properly inspected, and that no sick person is on board, except as stated in such bill of health. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

Par. 6. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the data required by section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished, and not then unless notice of compliance with the requirements has been transmitted by said section or in that prescribed by section 32 of said Act insofar as such requirements are applicable to the vessel concerned.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for medical treatment, or hospital relief, unless a sufficient number of such seamen, as determined by the Commissioner of Immigration, to replace him, shall be employed on board the vessel on which he arrived, or unless the consul who issued the certificate of identification of such alien shall certify in writing that the reason for the refusal of such certificate has been removed. Any alien seaman who shall land in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of the immigration laws. Any person who shall violate any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States shall be responsible for the safekeeping on board such vessel of all aliens brought to the United States for whom a certificate of identification as the Secretary of Labor may require has been issued in accordance with the provisions of section 10 of this Act, and for their detention on board such vessel, whether such aliens are passengers or members of the crew, or stowaways, until a physician designated by the Secretary of Labor shall have had an opportunity to examine them. Such physician shall examine all aliens detained on board such vessel within five days after the date of arrival of such vessel at a port of the United States, unless such period is extended by the Secretary of Labor in his discretion for an additional period not exceeding five days. Such physician shall report to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival the name of each alien detained on board such vessel, and shall certify whether or not, in his opinion, such alien is afflicted with any contagious disease, mental defect, or physical defect of such character as to make it likely that the alien will become a public charge, and whether or not, in his opinion, such alien is otherwise inadmissible under the immigration laws. Such physician shall make such physical and mental examination of aliens detained on board such vessel as may be necessary to enable him to certify to the facts required by this section to be certified by him. Such examination shall be conducted in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is authorized to administer oaths for the purposes of such examinations, and to take and consider evidence concerning any matter which is material or relevant to a determination of the admissibility of any alien examined. Any alien detained on board such vessel who is certified by such physician to be afflicted with any such disease or defect, or who is otherwise inadmissible under the immigration laws, shall be detained on board such vessel, pending a final determination of the case by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, unless such vessel shall be required by such immigration officer to proceed to a hospital designated by the Secretary of Labor for the detention of such aliens for observation and treatment, or unless such alien shall be required by such immigration officer to be detained in some other place designated by him for the detention of such aliens pending a determination of the case. Any alien who shall land from any vessel at any port in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of the immigration laws. Any person who shall violate any provision of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the onboard manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected upon the subsequent examination or is found upon shore after such inspection or is to depart as a seaman shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien seamen. (Medical inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical officers of the Secretary of Labor to determine the mental and physical condition of each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be cleared while any such immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival is in doubt as to the determination of such physical and mental condition of any such alien seaman, but the decision of such immigration officer in charge shall be subject to review by the Secretary of Labor.)

(c) It the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport alien seamen by any master, owner, agent, charterer, or consignee of such vessel, which may cause suspension of clearance of such vessel until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival. Data shall be in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form 948) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival.

SEC. 36. (a) Upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing such particulars as to all persons embarked on such vessel, whether the destination of such persons be the United States or elsewhere, and whether such persons be passengers or members of the crew, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and such other information relative to such persons as may be prescribed by him in the form and manner and at the time so prescribed. Such lists shall be signed by or on behalf of the master of such vessel and by each person included therein, who shall write his name in the presence of the master or of the person signing on behalf of the master. The master shall also deliver to such officer a list of all persons employed on such vessel who have been employed on board thereof but who will not leave the vessel at the port of arrival, stating their respective duties during such employment, and the ports at which they were so employed. If any such person shall die during the period between the time of the arrival of the vessel at such port and the time when the list required by this subdivision is delivered, the master shall state in the list the fact of such death, the cause thereof, if known, and the circumstances connected therewith, if any. If any person is discovered on board after the list has been delivered, the master shall report such person, stating the particulars required in the list in respect of persons on board at the time of arrival, and shall deliver a list containing such particulars to the immigrant inspector at the first port at which the vessel shall thereafter arrive. The master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any foreign port or place any alien who is not in possession of a valid unexpired immigration visa, if required by this Act or regulations made thereunder, or other document required by this Act, and who is not entitled under this Act to enter the United States without such visa or document, shall detain such alien on board such vessel, and shall report the presence of such alien and the circumstances connected therewith to the immigrant inspector at the first port at which such vessel shall arrive after the discovery of such alien, and shall deliver to such inspector a list containing such particulars in regard to such alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or items omitted from the original (Form I–418) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving alien is a "worker" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those so to be landed and those discharged in the port of arrival; to list contained on board of such vessel, and specifying those who have been treated on board for any infectious or contagious disease during the voyage, and the name of the physician who attended them, and to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has become ill, and to furnish information in relation thereto as may be required by such officer. Such lists shall be in the form prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, or the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, and shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of first arrival in the United States. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to such immigration officer such lists, or who shall refuse or neglect to furnish in writing such information in relation thereto as may be required by any such officer, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which such port is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or to whom report is not made as aforesaid, or for each alien concerning whom correct information is not furnished: Provided, That clearance shall not be granted to any vessel until the penalties imposed by this section have been paid or secured to be paid to the satisfaction of the collector, but clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886–891; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 169) has been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, inc., been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

• SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman immediately upon the determination of the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance until the payment thereof is approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section, as amended, shall apply to all deportations either independent of or pursuant to Act of June 2, 1840.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of any vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of any vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 163 (a), 163 (c).)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival such manifest and other documents, and to render such certificates, and to make such payments as may be required by law or by regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers by the collector of customs or other officer authorized to grant clearance papers until the master thereof has obtained from the immigrant inspector a certificate that such requirements have been complied with. Before any vessel shall be granted clearance papers the master thereof shall deliver to the collector of customs a list, certified by the master, of all aliens employed on such vessel, and the wages they were respectively entitled to demand, and respectively shall have received, and the nationality of each such alien, and the amount of wages due to each, and the reasons why any such wages remain unpaid. No such vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master thereof has produced to the collector of customs a certificate from the immigrant inspector that all aliens employed on such vessel have been duly accounted for in accordance with the provisions of law. Before any vessel shall be granted clearance papers the master thereof shall deliver to the collector of customs a list of all aliens employed on such vessel who have been discharged from such vessel in a foreign port or place since the last previous arrival of such vessel at a port in the United States, specifying the cause of discharge of each such alien, the amount of wages due to each, and the amount thereof retained by the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and the reasons for such retention. The master of every vessel bringing aliens to the United States who shall fail to deliver such list, or who shall refuse to make oath to the same when required, or who shall fail to report, deliver, or pay any such sum of money so retained for the period and to the person directed by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall violate any of the provisions of this section relating to the shipping, signing, discharging, or paying off of seamen in a foreign port, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers during the pendency of any such default or violation of law. Nothing in this section shall be construed to annul, modify, or impair in any way the provisions of section 4281 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, or any other act relating to the shipping, signing, discharging, or protection of seamen.

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.13. Limit of alien employees: navy clearance or vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention by section 36 of the immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 1e3) have been complied with in the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to the fine prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 1e3).

ALIEN SEAMEN

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and solely for medical treatment, or because of marine accident, or for such other cause as may be certified by the Secretary of Labor, and the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall require such seamen to be returned on board such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure of such vessel from the United States shall have been notified of the presence of such seamen and certified that they have been returned on board. Such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers until such seamen have been returned on board, or the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel has given a bond in such amount as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman, conditioned upon the return of such seamen on board such vessel before her departure from the next port or place in the United States at which she may call, or within such other time as may be specified by the Secretary of Labor, and upon the compliance with all the requirements of this section. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act, and at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, shall be deported to the country whence he came, to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or to the country in which he resided before coming to the United States. Any master who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each offense, or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers during the pendency of any such default or violation of law. Nothing in this section shall be construed to annul, modify, or impair in any way the provisions of section 4281 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, or any other act relating to the shipping, signing, discharging, or protection of seamen.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall desert while his vessel is in any port of the United States shall be deported on the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, unless he shall prove to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he was unable to remain with his vessel without serious injury to himself or unless the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or some vessel of the same line is available to take him to the country whence he came, or to the country of which he is a subject or citizen, or to the country in which he resided before coming to the United States, and pays the cost of his transportation and that of the officer detailed to accompany him, and the Secretary of Labor is satisfied that he will depart as soon as practicable.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or to a country from which a vessel can be obtained would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally determined or remitted by the Secretary of Labor.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, possibly the master is asked at the port to arrive, and shall be filed on the arrival of the vessel. The list is to change or alien members of the crew (Form 1–418) shall not be detained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien seaman is to be "transferred" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection by alien seamen, include names of entering American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, possible the vessel is ready to depart from a port in the United States, and in all cases before the departure of the vessel. The list or manifest must be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, who must make oath to the correctness of the manifest before the proper immigration officer at the port of departure. Where no alternative manifest is provided, a duplicate of the list will be required. Where a "transfer" is necessary, a duplicate list must be prepared.

(1) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that the master of any vessel or agent of the owner of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States from any place outside the United States has refused to permit any immigration officer to go on board such vessel for the purpose of examining the manifest of aliens destined to the United States, or has refused to answer truthfully any question touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, or has failed to detain any alien on board such vessel when ordered so to do by such immigration officer, or has refused to deliver to such immigration officer any such alien when ordered so to do by such officer, or has refused to detain any such alien on board such vessel after the same has been ordered so detained by such officer, or has refused to comply with any of the provisions of the immigration laws relating to the bringing of aliens into the United States, or has refused or failed to comply with any of the rules and regulations of the Secretary of Labor governing the admission of aliens to the United States, such master or agent shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of first arrival is located (or, if there is no collector at such port, then to the collector of customs for the district in which is located the customs port of entry designated by the master or agent of the vessel) the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any of the violations mentioned occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(2) Every such master or agent shall report to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of every alien, or member of a family some one of whom is an alien, who may be found on board, before any such alien shall be landed or allowed to depart from the vessel, and shall detain on board or in such vessel at such port every such alien or family until a certificate has been issued by the immigration officer in charge at such port or by the Secretary of Labor, or by such officer as he may authorize, permitting the landing of such alien, except in the case of aliens admitted in transit through the United States under contracts with transportation lines. Such masters or agents shall furnish to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens on board the vessel, which list or manifest shall contain such information regarding each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared on the forms furnished by the Department of Labor, and the entries thereon shall be completed to the time the vessel is ready to depart from the last port outside the United States. Such masters or agents shall also deliver to each alien a identification card furnished by the Secretary of Labor, and shall take from each alien a receipt for the card delivered to him, which receipt shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the inspection of the alien. Such masters or agents shall also report the illness or death of any alien on board vessel, and the cause thereof, and shall deliver the certificate of death, if any, issued by the attending physician, or a statement in lieu thereof, if no physician was in attendance, and shall also report the cause of death of any stowaway whose body is found on board after departure from any port, and shall deliver to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival in the United States the certificate of death, if any, issued by the attending physician, or a statement in lieu thereof, if no physician was in attendance, and shall also report the name of any alien who shall have been granted shore leave and who fails to return to the vessel within the period of such leave. Such masters or agents shall also report the name of any alien who shall have been ordered deported from the United States who shall secure his discharge from custody or detention and fail to depart on the vessel or other vessel or vessels within the period fixed by the Secretary of Labor, and the steps taken to secure his departure. Such masters or agents shall also report the presence on board vessel of any stowaway, and shall detain such stowaway on board until the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States, when such stowaway shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival in the United States, unless security be furnished for the return of such stowaway, in such sum, not exceeding $300, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such stowaway is admissible and shall be allowed to land, and in default of the production of such stowaway in accordance with the provisions of this section the master or agent of the vessel shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of first arrival is located the sum of $300 for each stowaway not produced in accordance herewith, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance may be withheld or the vessel may be refused a clearance from any port while such sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(3) Every such master or agent who shall refuse to deliver on demand to any immigration officer any list or manifest required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver on demand to any immigration officer any certificate, list, or manifest required by this section, or who shall refuse or fail to report, deliver, or procure any such certificate, list, or manifest at the time required by this section, or who shall report, deliver, or procure for delivery any such certificate, list, or manifest which is false or incorrect, or who shall refuse or fail to deliver to any such immigration officer any person stowed away on such vessel, or who shall refuse or fail to detain on board any alien when ordered so to do by such immigration officer, or who shall refuse or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this section or with any of the rules and regulations of the Secretary of Labor governing the admission of aliens to the United States, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of first arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each such offense, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance may be withheld or the vessel may be refused a clearance from any port while such sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(4) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that the master of any vessel or agent of the owner of any vessel has failed to comply with any of the provisions of this section, or with any of the rules and regulations governing the admission of aliens to the United States, he may, in addition to the penalties hereinbefore prescribed, refuse clearance to such vessel from any port while such default continues.

Sec. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of entry of each alien a list or manifest of all such aliens, arranged and numbered as directed by the Secretary of Labor, and containing such information as may be required by him as to the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last residence of each such alien, whether he has an immigration visa, and if so, the number and date thereof, the port at which application was made for such visa, whether in transit through the United States to some foreign country, whether he has been in the United States before, if so, when and how long prior thereto, whether he has been in prison or in almshouse or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously formed contract or intending to perform labor if admitted, whether he has a ticket or sufficient money to pay his way to his ultimate destination, whether he has been deported, whether he is coming in response to advertisement, whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, whether he is going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and their addresses, whether he is a skilled laborer, and if so what his occupation is, whether he is a stowaway, whether he is ever afflicted with tuberculosis or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and whether he has ever been in a penal institution or reformatory or supported by charity, and shall furnish such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws. Such list or manifest shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possible the vessel is ready to depart from a port in the United States, and in all cases before the departure of the vessel. The list or manifest must be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, who must make oath to the correctness of the manifest before the proper immigration officer at the port of departure. Where no alternative manifest is provided, a duplicate will be required. Where a "transfer" is necessary, a duplicate list must be prepared.

(1) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that the master of any vessel or agent of the owner of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States from any place outside thereof, or because of any rejection of aliens by the United States immigration officers at the port of arrival, or for any other reason, refuses to land any such aliens, or any of them, at any port of the United States, such master or agent shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of first arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any of the violations mentioned occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(2) Every such master or agent shall report to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of every alien, or member of a family some one of whom is an alien, before any such alien or family shall be landed or allowed to depart from the vessel, and shall detain on board or in such vessel at such port every such alien or family until a certificate has been issued by the immigration officer in charge at such port or by the Secretary of Labor, or by such officer as he may authorize, permitting the landing of such alien, except in the case of aliens admitted in transit through the United States under contracts with transportation lines. Such masters or agents shall furnish to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens on board the vessel, which list or manifest shall contain such information regarding each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared on the forms furnished by the Department of Labor, and the entries thereon shall be completed to the time the vessel is ready to depart from the last port outside the United States. Such masters or agents shall also deliver to each alien a identification card furnished by the Secretary of Labor, and shall take from each alien a receipt for the card delivered to him, which receipt shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the inspection of the alien. Such masters or agents shall also report the illness or death of any alien on board vessel, and the cause thereof, and shall deliver the certificate of death, if any, issued by the attending physician, or a statement in lieu thereof, if no physician was in attendance, and shall also report the cause of death of any stowaway whose body is found on board after departure from any port, and shall deliver to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival in the United States the certificate of death, if any, issued by the attending physician, or a statement in lieu thereof, if no physician was in attendance, and shall also report the name of any alien who shall have been granted shore leave and who fails to return to the vessel within the period of such leave. Such masters or agents shall also report the name of any alien who shall have been ordered deported from the United States who shall secure his discharge from custody or detention and fail to depart on the vessel or other vessel or vessels within the period fixed by the Secretary of Labor, and the steps taken to secure his departure. Such masters or agents shall also report the presence on board vessel of any stowaway, and shall detain such stowaway on board until the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States, when such stowaway shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival in the United States, unless security be furnished for the return of such stowaway, in such sum, not exceeding $300, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such stowaway is admissible and shall be allowed to land, and in default of the production of such stowaway in accordance with the provisions of this section the master or agent of the vessel shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of first arrival is located the sum of $300 for each stowaway not produced in accordance herewith, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance may be withheld or the vessel may be refused a clearance from any port while such sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

ALIEN SEAMEN

Sec. 13. (a) No alien seaman entering United States under the immigration visa may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring his detention for such purpose, or for the purpose of obtaining supplies for the vessel, or for repairing the same, or because of quarantine, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

Sec. 28. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who shall bring to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than from foreign contiguous territory) any alien (other than a bona fide member of the crew who shall land temporarily in ports of the United States during the period his vessel remains in port) who is afflicted with any of the mental or physical defects or diseases which would be a ground for the exclusion of such alien under section 3 of this Act, or who is found to be afflicted with any such defect or disease at the time of application for admission, or who is found to be a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, shall be required to pay a tax of $200 for each such alien, unless it appears to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master did not know and could not have known by the exercise of reasonable care that such alien was afflicted with such defect or disease, or was a member of such class, at the time of the departure of such vessel from the last port outside the United States, and that the return of such alien in such vessel is impracticable or inhumane because of the sickness or injury of such alien during the voyage.

(b) The tax imposed by this section shall be a lien upon the vessel on which such alien arrives, and shall be paid to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located before such vessel shall be granted clearance, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance while such tax remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the payment of such tax upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such tax, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(c) The Secretary of Labor shall prescribe rules and regulations for the enforcement of this section, and for the payment to the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel of the tax imposed by this section in any case in which it is thereafter determined that such tax was improperly collected.

(d) The decision of the Secretary of Labor as to the application of the provisions of this section shall be final.

Sec. 32. That no alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of sickness or injury requiring his detention for such purpose, or for the purpose of obtaining supplies for the vessel, or for repairing the same, or because of quarantine, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 161, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

Sec. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge at the port of entry of each alien a list or manifest of all such aliens, arranged and numbered as directed by the Secretary of Labor, and containing such information as may be required by him as to the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last residence of each such alien, whether he has an immigration visa, and if so, the number and date thereof, the port at which application was made for such visa, whether in transit through the United States to some foreign country, whether he has been in the United States before, if so, when and how long prior thereto, whether he has been in prison or in almshouse or supported by charity, whether he is a polygamist, whether he is an anarchist, whether he believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, whether he is coming in pursuance of a previously formed contract or intending to perform labor if admitted, whether he has a ticket or sufficient money to pay his way to his ultimate destination, whether he has been deported, whether he is coming in response to advertisement, whether he intends to become a citizen of the United States, whether he is going to join relatives or friends, and if so what relatives or friends, and their addresses, whether he is a skilled laborer, and if so what his occupation is, whether he is a stowaway, whether he is ever afflicted with tuberculosis or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, and whether he has ever been in a penal institution or reformatory or supported by charity, and shall furnish such other information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor for the proper administration of the immigration laws. Such list or manifest shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector possible the vessel is ready to depart from a port in the United States, and in all cases before the departure of the vessel. The list or manifest must be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, who must make oath to the correctness of the manifest before the proper immigration officer at the port of departure. Where no alternative manifest is provided, a duplicate will be required. Where a "transfer" is necessary, a duplicate list must be prepared.

(1) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that the master of any vessel or agent of the owner of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States from any place outside thereof, or because of any rejection of aliens by the United States immigration officers at the port of arrival, or for any other reason, refuses to land any such aliens, or any of them, at any port of the United States, such master or agent shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of first arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any of the violations mentioned occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(2) Every such master or agent shall report to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of every alien, or member of a family some one of whom is an alien, before any such alien or family shall be landed or allowed to depart from the vessel, and shall detain on board or in such vessel at such port every such alien or family until a certificate has been issued by the immigration officer in charge at such port or by the Secretary of Labor, or by such officer as he may authorize, permitting the landing of such alien, except in the case of aliens admitted in transit through the United States under contracts with transportation lines. Such masters or agents shall furnish to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens on board the vessel, which list or manifest shall contain such information regarding each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared on the forms furnished by the Department of Labor, and the entries thereon shall be completed to the time the vessel is ready to depart from the last port outside the United States. Such masters or agents shall also deliver to each alien a identification card furnished by the Secretary of Labor, and shall take from each alien a receipt for the card delivered to him, which receipt shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the inspection of the alien. Such masters or agents shall also report the illness or death of any alien on board vessel, and the cause thereof, and shall deliver the certificate of death, if any, issued by the attending physician, or a statement in lieu thereof, if no physician was in attendance, and shall also report the cause of death of any stowaway whose body is found on board after departure from any port, and shall deliver to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival in the United States the certificate of death, if any, issued by the attending physician, or a statement in lieu thereof, if no physician was in attendance, and shall also report the name of any alien who shall have been granted shore leave and who fails to return to the vessel within the period of such leave. Such masters or agents shall also report the name of any alien who shall have been ordered deported from the United States who shall secure his discharge from custody or detention and fail to depart on the vessel or other vessel or vessels within the period fixed by the Secretary of Labor, and the steps taken to secure his departure. Such masters or agents shall also report the presence on board vessel of any stowaway, and shall detain such stowaway on board until the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States, when such stowaway shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival in the United States, unless security be furnished for the return of such stowaway, in such sum, not exceeding $300, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such stowaway is admissible and shall be allowed to land, and in default of the production of such stowaway in accordance with the provisions of this section the master or agent of the vessel shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of first arrival is located the sum of $300 for each stowaway not produced in accordance herewith, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance may be withheld or the vessel may be refused a clearance from any port while such sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector, possible the vessel is ready to depart from a port in the United States, and in all cases before the departure of the vessel. The list or manifest must be signed by the master or commanding officer of the vessel, who must make oath to the correctness of the manifest before the proper immigration officer at the port of departure. Where no alternative manifest is provided, a duplicate will be required. Where a "transfer" is necessary, a duplicate list must be prepared.

(1) If the Secretary of Labor shall find that the master of any vessel or agent of the owner of any vessel bringing aliens to the United States from any place outside thereof, or because of any rejection of aliens by the United States immigration officers at the port of arrival, or for any other reason, refuses to land any such aliens, or any of them, at any port of the United States, such master or agent shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of first arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any of the violations mentioned occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while any such fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(2) Every such master or agent shall report to the immigration officer at the port of arrival the name of every alien, or member of a family some one of whom is an alien, before any such alien or family shall be landed or allowed to depart from the vessel, and shall detain on board or in such vessel at such port every such alien or family until a certificate has been issued by the immigration officer in charge at such port or by the Secretary of Labor, or by such officer as he may authorize, permitting the landing of such alien, except in the case of aliens admitted in transit through the United States under contracts with transportation lines. Such masters or agents shall furnish to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a list or manifest of all aliens on board the vessel, which list or manifest shall contain such information regarding each alien as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. Such list or manifest shall be prepared on the forms furnished by the Department of Labor, and the entries thereon shall be completed to the time the vessel is ready to depart from the last port outside the United States. Such masters or agents shall also deliver to each alien a identification card furnished by the Secretary of Labor, and shall take from each alien a receipt for the card delivered to him, which receipt shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the time of the inspection of the alien. Such masters or agents shall also report the illness or death of any alien on board vessel, and the cause thereof, and shall deliver the certificate of death, if any, issued by the attending physician, or a statement in lieu thereof, if no physician was in attendance, and shall also report the cause of death of any stowaway whose body is found on board after departure from any port, and shall deliver to the immigration officer at the first port of arrival in the United States the certificate of death, if any, issued by the attending physician, or a statement in lieu thereof, if no physician was in attendance, and shall also report the name of any alien who shall have been granted shore leave and who fails to return to the vessel within the period of such leave. Such masters or agents shall also report the name of any alien who shall have been ordered deported from the United States who shall secure his discharge from custody or detention and fail to depart on the vessel or other vessel or vessels within the period fixed by the Secretary of Labor, and the steps taken to secure his departure. Such masters or agents shall also report the presence on board vessel of any stowaway, and shall detain such stowaway on board until the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States, when such stowaway shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of first arrival in the United States, unless security be furnished for the return of such stowaway, in such sum, not exceeding $300, as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, or unless such stowaway is admissible and shall be allowed to land, and in default of the production of such stowaway in accordance with the provisions of this section the master or agent of the vessel shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the port of first arrival is located the sum of $300 for each stowaway not produced in accordance herewith, which sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, and clearance may be withheld or the vessel may be refused a clearance from any port while such sum remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit with the collector of customs of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be delivered on board, but shall be delivered upon the vessel. The list of changes to other than permanent residence (Form I–408) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered upon the vessel. The list of changes to other than permanent residence is a "workpaper," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the proper immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like counterpart lists as to the persons employed on such vessel, showing the additions to the crew, respectively, made in the port or ports from which the vessel last sailed, and specifying those who have been discharged in the port of arrival, and such other information relative to the crew as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival or place contiguous thereto, and before the departure of any such vessel from such port, it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival, or place contiguous thereto, a list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been discharged from employment since the last preceding arrival of such vessel at a port in the United States, and the cause of such discharge, and the destination of such aliens so discharged, and to report the additions, if any, which have been made to the crew since the vessel left the last port, and the reasons therefor, and to report the names of those, if any, who have deserted the vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival or since the vessel left the last port, and the reasons therefor, as far as known, and to report the names of those, if any, who have been left behind on account of illness or injury or for any other cause, and the intended movements of such persons so left behind, and to report the names of those, if any, who have been shipped from any vessel or other place in the United States to fill vacancies, and to report the movements of the vessel in the United States from port to port, and to report the number of passengers carried between ports of the United States, and to report such other facts regarding the vessel, its crew, passengers, and cargo as may be required by the Attorney General for the proper execution of the immigration laws of the United States, and to make oath to the truth of the statements contained in the reports required by this section before any immigration officer authorized to administer oaths to immigrants. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver the lists required by this section, or refuses or fails to report, or to make oath to any report required by this section concerning the crew or passengers, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the vessel arrives or departs a sum not exceeding $300 for each offense. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine and costs, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The words "vessel arriving" in this section, as amended, shall apply to all persons arriving independent wherever the vessel on which they arrived in the United States may have arrived from any place outside thereof, or to any vessel arriving from the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands. (8 U. S. C. 136.)

(b) Proof shall be filed by the master of the vessel or other person in charge thereof with the collector of customs at the port of arrival in the case of each alien seaman who did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to determine if such alien seaman is admissible under the immigration laws. Such proof shall be in addition to any other proof required to establish the admissibility of such alien seaman. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine and costs, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. (As amended by act of May 26, 1924, 43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 163 (a), 163 (c).)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 163 (a), 163 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the port of the United States from any place outside thereof, or any person acting for the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the adjudication of such seaman's claim to admission, or for such other cases as the Attorney General may by regulation make and prescribe. The list of changes to other than permanent residence (Form I–408) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered upon the vessel. The list of changes to other than permanent residence is a "workpaper," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival like counterpart lists as to the persons employed on such vessel, showing the additions to the crew, respectively, made in the port or ports from which the vessel last sailed, and specifying those who have been discharged in the port of arrival, and such other information relative to the crew as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of such vessel at the port of arrival or place contiguous thereto, and before the departure of any such vessel from such port, it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival or place contiguous thereto, a list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been discharged from employment since the last preceding arrival of such vessel at a port in the United States, and the cause of such discharge, and the destination of such aliens so discharged, and to report the additions, if any, which have been made to the crew since the vessel left the last port, and the reasons therefor, and to report the names of those, if any, who have deserted the vessel at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of arrival or since the vessel left the last port, and the reasons therefor, as far as known, and to report the names of those, if any, who have been left behind on account of illness or injury or for any other cause, and the intended movements of such persons so left behind, and to report the names of those, if any, who have been shipped from any vessel or other place in the United States to fill vacancies, and to report the movements of the vessel in the United States from port to port, and to report the number of passengers carried between ports of the United States, and to report such other facts regarding the vessel, its crew, passengers, and cargo as may be required by the Attorney General for the proper execution of the immigration laws of the United States, and to make oath to the truth of the statements contained in the reports required by this section before any immigration officer authorized to administer oaths to immigrants. Any master, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel who refuses or fails to deliver the lists required by this section, or refuses or fails to report, or to make oath to any report required by this section concerning the crew or passengers, shall pay to the collector of customs for the district in which the vessel arrives or departs a sum not exceeding $300 for each offense. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine and costs, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all persons arriving independent wherever the vessel on which they arrived in the United States may have arrived from any place outside thereof, or to any vessel arriving from the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 163 (a), 163 (c).)

(b) Proof shall be filed by the master of the vessel or other person in charge thereof with the collector of customs at the port of arrival in the case of each alien seaman who did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to determine if such alien seaman is admissible under the immigration laws. Such proof shall be in addition to any other proof required to establish the admissibility of such alien seaman. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine and costs, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all persons arriving independent wherever the vessel on which they arrived in the United States may have arrived from any place outside thereof, or to any vessel arriving from the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands. IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on plank forms supplied by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspectors pending the arrival of the boat to which it relates, but shall not be delivered by the master to the immigration officer at the port of arrival (from USA ports) until not less than 1 hour after the vessel is docked, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a "notice" is addressed to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of a vessel in the United States from a foreign port at the first port of the coast, each alien passenger, including those in the cabin, shall be examined by the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of the vessel, and no such alien passenger shall be allowed to land in the United States unless and until he shall have been duly admitted by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port or his assistant: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may prescribe the ports at which such examinations shall be made and the method of conducting the same, and may detail for the purpose of such examinations any officer of the United States Government, or any State, county, or municipal officer who may be willing to perform the duty, and may also authorize the employment of such other persons as may be necessary, and may prescribe the compensation of those employed, and all such examinations shall be conducted under such rules, regulations, and instructions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and all such officers or persons so detailed or employed shall have power to administer oaths and to take and consider evidence touching the right of any alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States, and shall exercise such power wherever they were transferred, and shall perform such duties as may be required by the Secretary of Labor in connection therewith; and any person who knowingly makes a false statement or false presentation concerning the right of any alien to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and may be arrested either before or after he shall have entered the United States, and may be returned to the country whence he came at any time within one year after such entry at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the application of the provisions of this section requiring an examination of aliens seeking admission to the United States at the ports of such contiguous countries to the United States as in his judgment may be reached conveniently by such aliens for examination at such ports, and may make all needful rules and regulations for the protection of the United States during such waiver: Provided further, That no alien shall be admitted into the United States who is afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease: Provided further, That no alien who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude shall be admitted into the United States, but this provision shall not apply to a political offense: And provided further, That no person who has been convicted or who admits the commission of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who admits the essential elements of such crime, or who admits being a prostitute or procurer, is subject to deportation after entering the United States unless the Secretary of Labor shall, in his discretion, deem deportation necessary.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, excepting transportation of such alien from the United States, shall be required to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens, including those in transit through the United States, destined to any country other than the United States, and full information required by such lists or manifests concerning each such alien, and shall pay a tax of $8 for each such alien, which tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, and shall not be granted clearance until such tax is paid: Provided, That no tax shall be collected for any alien who is in transit through the United States and who shall depart on the vessel bringing him to the United States, or who is a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and who is to depart on another vessel within the period of time prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or who is in possession of a round-trip ticket or an unlimited ticket to a country adjacent to the United States, or who is in possession of a ticket entitling him to passage to a country adjacent to the United States and to a country not adjacent thereto, if the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe: And further, That the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe such rules governing the admission of aliens employed on such vessel, aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who are returning from a temporary visit abroad, and aliens entitled to enter the United States solely in pursuance of treaties between the United States and foreign states guaranteeing rights as to residence and trade within the United States, as he may deem necessary, and may exempt from the payment of such tax any such alien or class of aliens as to whom he finds such action is consistent with the treaty or treaties entered into between the United States and the country to which such alien belongs.

(b) Upon the refusal of the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or any person who has been charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel to deliver lists or manifests, or any part thereof, or to pay the tax herein provided, or upon the refusal of any such person to furnish information in relation to the same required by the Secretary of Labor or any person authorized to administer the provisions of this section, the vessel shall be refused clearance by the collector of customs, and if such vessel shall depart without clearance the collector of customs shall forward by mail to the Secretary of Labor a certified copy of the vessel's manifest and such other documents as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the Secretary of Labor shall certify the facts of such refusal and of such departure to the proper authorities of the United States at any port to which such vessel may thereafter proceed, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers in any port of the United States until the Secretary of Labor shall notify the collector of customs that such conditions have been complied with, and such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs a penalty of $300 for each and every alien on board thereof who has not been listed, inspected, and certified in accordance with the provisions of this section, unless it be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that any such alien had been duly admitted to the United States or had the right to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States without inspection and certification by reason of the provisions of any treaty or convention between the United States and any foreign power, or that such alien was in transit through the United States and had in his possession an unlimited ticket to a country adjacent to the United States and to a country not adjacent thereto, if the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe such exemption, or that such alien was a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and was discharged in the port of arrival and was in possession of a certificate from the master of the vessel stating the cause of the discharge of such alien and the fact that such alien had been inspected by the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival and had been found not to be within any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, and that such certificate had been indorsed by the United States consul for the country to which such alien is destined, if a consul be stationed at the port of foreign departure, and that such alien had been given a identification card similar to that described in section 2 of this act. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission of such aliens from the United States.

SEC. 21. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except transportation of such alien from the United States, shall be required to deliver to each immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens on board such vessel, which lists or manifests shall state the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether in possession of a ticket through to such destination, whether in possession of money and how much, whether going to join a relative or friend and if so what relative or friend and his name and complete address, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity and if so what, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, whether having a ticket or passage paid for by any person or corporation, society, or board, and if so by whom, whether the alien has been deported before and if so when and why, whether the alien has a passport and if so by what government issued and who vised it and where and when, and whether the alien is going to join a husband or other relative and if so what relative and his name and complete address, and such other information regarding the history, character, and identity of such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The said lists or manifests shall be prepared at the time of embarkation of such aliens at the last port of departure from foreign countries, except that in the case of aliens in transit through the United States the said lists or manifests shall be prepared at the time of departure from the last port of arrival in the United States, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and no alien shall be allowed to land in the United States if the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or person charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel shall refuse to deliver such lists or manifests, or any part thereof, or shall refuse to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching the same propounded to him by any immigrant inspector, or shall refuse to indorse the certificate hereinafter provided for, or shall refuse to pay the tax imposed by this section, or shall refuse to detain any alien on board when ordered by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port, or shall refuse to deliver any such alien duly certified by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port to the proper immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival after such alien shall have been ordered detained, or shall refuse to comply with the provisions of section 2 of this act relating to the manifesting of aliens in transit through the United States, or shall refuse to comply with such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, or shall refuse to comply with such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe governing the admission of aliens coming to the United States from foreign contiguous territory, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every violation, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, and may also be refused clearance papers by the collector of customs.

(b) Upon the refusal of the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or any person who has been charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel to deliver lists or manifests, or any part thereof, or to pay the tax herein provided, or upon the refusal of any such person to furnish information in relation to the same required by the Secretary of Labor or any person authorized to administer the provisions of this section, the vessel shall be refused clearance until such time as the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or person charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel shall have complied with the requirements of the Secretary of Labor or the person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section, and in the event such time as the vessel is to depart from the port is sufficient to prevent the inspection of the alien passengers before departure, the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or person charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such inspection, which sum may be refunded in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor, the commissioner of immigration, the assistant commissioner of immigration, or the Secretary of Labor shall have reasonable cause to believe that any vessel arriving in the United States has on board any alien who is afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is a polygamist, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates the assassination of public officials, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the doctrines above mentioned, or who is a prostitute or has been connected with the management of prostitutes or women for immoral purposes, or who is a contract laborer, or who has come in consequence of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, or who is a person likely to become a public charge, or who has a mental or physical defect of such a character as to affect his ability to earn a living, or who has been deported, or who has come in consequence of the importation of any such person by any person, company, partnership, or corporation, or who has come in violation of any of the provisions of this act, or who is likely to become a charge upon the public for support until it can be determined by the Secretary of Labor whether or not such vessel should be allowed to land its passengers, and pending such determination, may refuse clearance to such vessel, and shall have the right to take possession of the vessel and detain it for such length of time as may be necessary for the purpose aforesaid.

(d) Every alien who shall not be duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or the Secretary of Labor shall forthwith be returned to the country whence he came, and it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, and consignee of the vessel in which he arrived to return him to the port from which he came, and the said master, owner, agent, and consignee shall pay any expenses and furnish any bond incident to the detention and return of such alien that may be required by the Secretary of Labor or by any person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section, and no such master, owner, agent, or consignee shall be granted clearance papers for his vessel while any such alien remains on board thereof, but clearance papers may be granted upon the landing of such alien if the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel shall have complied with the requirements of the Secretary of Labor or of the person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section.

SEC. 22. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity for the alien's presence as a witness on behalf of the United States, or for such other reasons as may be satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor or the person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 23. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except transportation of such alien from the United States, shall be required to deliver to each immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens, including those in transit through the United States, destined to any country other than the United States, and full information required by such lists or manifests concerning each such alien, and shall pay a tax of $8 for each such alien, which tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, and shall not be granted clearance until such tax is paid: Provided, That no tax shall be collected for any alien who is in transit through the United States and who shall depart on the vessel bringing him to the United States, or who is a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and who is to depart on another vessel within the period of time prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or who is in possession of a round-trip ticket or an unlimited ticket to a country adjacent to the United States and to a country not adjacent thereto, if the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe such exemption, or that such alien was a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and was discharged in the port of arrival and was in possession of a certificate from the master of the vessel stating the cause of the discharge of such alien and the fact that such alien had been inspected by the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival and had been found not to be within any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, and that such certificate had been indorsed by the United States consul for the country to which such alien is destined, if a consul be stationed at the port of foreign departure, and that such alien had been given a identification card similar to that described in section 2 of this act. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission of such aliens from the United States.

(b) Upon the refusal of the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or any person who has been charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel to deliver lists or manifests, or any part thereof, or to pay the tax herein provided, or upon the refusal of any such person to furnish information in relation to the same required by the Secretary of Labor or any person authorized to administer the provisions of this section, the vessel shall be refused clearance by the collector of customs, and if such vessel shall depart without clearance the collector of customs shall forward by mail to the Secretary of Labor a certified copy of the vessel's manifest and such other documents as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the Secretary of Labor shall certify the facts of such refusal and of such departure to the proper authorities of the United States at any port to which such vessel may thereafter proceed, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers in any port of the United States until the Secretary of Labor shall notify the collector of customs that such conditions have been complied with, and such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs a penalty of $300 for each and every alien on board thereof who has not been listed, inspected, and certified in accordance with the provisions of this section, unless it be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that any such alien had been duly admitted to the United States or had the right to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States without inspection and certification by reason of the provisions of any treaty or convention between the United States and any foreign power, or that such alien was in transit through the United States and had in his possession an unlimited ticket to a country adjacent to the United States and to a country not adjacent thereto, if the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe such exemption, or that such alien was a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and was discharged in the port of arrival and was in possession of a certificate from the master of the vessel stating the cause of the discharge of such alien and the fact that such alien had been inspected by the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival and had been found not to be within any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, and that such certificate had been indorsed by the United States consul for the country to which such alien is destined, if a consul be stationed at the port of foreign departure, and that such alien had been given a identification card similar to that described in section 2 of this act. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission of such aliens from the United States.

SEC. 24. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity for the alien's presence as a witness on behalf of the United States, or for such other reasons as may be satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor or the person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity for the alien's presence as a witness on behalf of the United States, or for such other reasons as may be satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor or the person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except transportation of such alien from the United States, shall be required to deliver to each immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens, including those in transit through the United States, destined to any country other than the United States, and full information required by such lists or manifests concerning each such alien, and shall pay a tax of $8 for each such alien, which tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, and shall not be granted clearance until such tax is paid: Provided, That no tax shall be collected for any alien who is in transit through the United States and who shall depart on the vessel bringing him to the United States, or who is a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and who is to depart on another vessel within the period of time prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or who is in possession of a round-trip ticket or an unlimited ticket to a country adjacent to the United States and to a country not adjacent thereto, if the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe such exemption, or that such alien was a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and was discharged in the port of arrival and was in possession of a certificate from the master of the vessel stating the cause of the discharge of such alien and the fact that such alien had been inspected by the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival and had been found not to be within any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, and that such certificate had been indorsed by the United States consul for the country to which such alien is destined, if a consul be stationed at the port of foreign departure, and that such alien had been given a identification card similar to that described in section 2 of this act. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission of such aliens from the United States.

(b) Upon the refusal of the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or any person who has been charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel to deliver lists or manifests, or any part thereof, or to pay the tax herein provided, or upon the refusal of any such person to furnish information in relation to the same required by the Secretary of Labor or any person authorized to administer the provisions of this section, the vessel shall be refused clearance by the collector of customs, and if such vessel shall depart without clearance the collector of customs shall forward by mail to the Secretary of Labor a certified copy of the vessel's manifest and such other documents as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the Secretary of Labor shall certify the facts of such refusal and of such departure to the proper authorities of the United States at any port to which such vessel may thereafter proceed, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers in any port of the United States until the Secretary of Labor shall notify the collector of customs that such conditions have been complied with, and such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs a penalty of $300 for each and every alien on board thereof who has not been listed, inspected, and certified in accordance with the provisions of this section, unless it be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that any such alien had been duly admitted to the United States or had the right to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States without inspection and certification by reason of the provisions of any treaty or convention between the United States and any foreign power, or that such alien was in transit through the United States and had in his possession an unlimited ticket to a country adjacent to the United States and to a country not adjacent thereto, if the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe such exemption, or that such alien was a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and was discharged in the port of arrival and was in possession of a certificate from the master of the vessel stating the cause of the discharge of such alien and the fact that such alien had been inspected by the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival and had been found not to be within any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, and that such certificate had been indorsed by the United States consul for the country to which such alien is destined, if a consul be stationed at the port of foreign departure, and that such alien had been given a identification card similar to that described in section 2 of this act. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission of such aliens from the United States.

SEC. 21. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except transportation of such alien from the United States, shall be required to deliver to each immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens on board such vessel, which lists or manifests shall state the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether in possession of a ticket through to such destination, whether in possession of money and how much, whether going to join a relative or friend and if so what relative or friend and his name and complete address, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity and if so what, whether a polygamist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, whether having a ticket or passage paid for by any person or corporation, society, or board, and if so by whom, whether the alien has been deported before and if so when and why, whether the alien has a passport and if so by what government issued and who vised it and where and when, and whether the alien is going to join a husband or other relative and if so what relative and his name and complete address, and such other information regarding the history, character, and identity of such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The said lists or manifests shall be prepared at the time of embarkation of such aliens at the last port of departure from foreign countries, except that in the case of aliens in transit through the United States the said lists or manifests shall be prepared at the time of departure from the last port of arrival in the United States, and shall be delivered by the master to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, and no alien shall be allowed to land in the United States if the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or person charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel shall refuse to deliver such lists or manifests, or any part thereof, or shall refuse to answer truthfully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching the same propounded to him by any immigrant inspector, or shall refuse to indorse the certificate hereinafter provided for, or shall refuse to pay the tax imposed by this section, or shall refuse to detain any alien on board when ordered by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port, or shall refuse to deliver any such alien duly certified by the immigrant inspector in charge of the port to the proper immigrant inspector at the port of first arrival after such alien shall have been ordered detained, or shall refuse to comply with the provisions of section 2 of this act relating to the manifesting of aliens in transit through the United States, or shall refuse to comply with such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the enforcement of the provisions of this section, or shall refuse to comply with such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe governing the admission of aliens coming to the United States from foreign contiguous territory, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every violation, or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court, and may also be refused clearance papers by the collector of customs.

(b) Upon the refusal of the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or any person who has been charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel to deliver lists or manifests, or any part thereof, or to pay the tax herein provided, or upon the refusal of any such person to furnish information in relation to the same required by the Secretary of Labor or any person authorized to administer the provisions of this section, the vessel shall be refused clearance until such time as the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or person charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel shall have complied with the requirements of the Secretary of Labor or the person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section, and in the event such time as the vessel is to depart from the port is sufficient to prevent the inspection of the alien passengers before departure, the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or person charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such inspection, which sum may be refunded in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor, the commissioner of immigration, the assistant commissioner of immigration, or the Secretary of Labor shall have reasonable cause to believe that any vessel arriving in the United States has on board any alien who is afflicted with tuberculosis in any form or with a loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who is a polygamist, or who has been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who is an anarchist, or who believes in or advocates the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States, or of all forms of law, or who disbelieves in or is opposed to organized government, or who advocates the assassination of public officials, or who advocates or teaches the unlawful destruction of property, or who is a member of or affiliated with any organization entertaining, advocating, or teaching any of the doctrines above mentioned, or who is a prostitute or has been connected with the management of prostitutes or women for immoral purposes, or who is a contract laborer, or who has come in consequence of any offer, solicitation, promise, agreement, or assistance of any kind to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, or who is a person likely to become a public charge, or who has a mental or physical defect of such a character as to affect his ability to earn a living, or who has been deported, or who has come in consequence of the importation of any such person by any person, company, partnership, or corporation, or who has come in violation of any of the provisions of this act, or who is likely to become a charge upon the public for support until it can be determined by the Secretary of Labor whether or not such vessel should be allowed to land its passengers, and pending such determination, may refuse clearance to such vessel, and shall have the right to take possession of the vessel and detain it for such length of time as may be necessary for the purpose aforesaid.

(d) Every alien who shall not be duly admitted by an immigrant inspector or the Secretary of Labor shall forthwith be returned to the country whence he came, and it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, and consignee of the vessel in which he arrived to return him to the port from which he came, and the said master, owner, agent, and consignee shall pay any expenses and furnish any bond incident to the detention and return of such alien that may be required by the Secretary of Labor or by any person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section, and no such master, owner, agent, or consignee shall be granted clearance papers for his vessel while any such alien remains on board thereof, but clearance papers may be granted upon the landing of such alien if the master, owner, agent, or consignee of the vessel shall have complied with the requirements of the Secretary of Labor or of the person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section, and in the event such time as the vessel is to depart from the port is sufficient to prevent the inspection of the alien passengers before departure, the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or person charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel shall deposit with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to cover the cost of such inspection, which sum may be refunded in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor.

SEC. 22. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty, or by reason of the necessity for the alien's presence as a witness on behalf of the United States, or for such other reasons as may be satisfactory to the Secretary of Labor or the person authorized by him to administer the provisions of this section, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States.

SEC. 23. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except transportation of such alien from the United States, shall be required to deliver to each immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival lists or manifests of all aliens, including those in transit through the United States, destined to any country other than the United States, and full information required by such lists or manifests concerning each such alien, and shall pay a tax of $8 for each such alien, which tax shall be a lien upon the vessel, and shall not be granted clearance until such tax is paid: Provided, That no tax shall be collected for any alien who is in transit through the United States and who shall depart on the vessel bringing him to the United States, or who is a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and who is to depart on another vessel within the period of time prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, or who is in possession of a round-trip ticket or an unlimited ticket to a country adjacent to the United States and to a country not adjacent thereto, if the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe such exemption, or that such alien was a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and was discharged in the port of arrival and was in possession of a certificate from the master of the vessel stating the cause of the discharge of such alien and the fact that such alien had been inspected by the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival and had been found not to be within any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, and that such certificate had been indorsed by the United States consul for the country to which such alien is destined, if a consul be stationed at the port of foreign departure, and that such alien had been given a identification card similar to that described in section 2 of this act. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission of such aliens from the United States.

(b) Upon the refusal of the master, owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or any person who has been charged with the duty by the master, owner, charterer, agent, or consignee of the vessel to deliver lists or manifests, or any part thereof, or to pay the tax herein provided, or upon the refusal of any such person to furnish information in relation to the same required by the Secretary of Labor or any person authorized to administer the provisions of this section, the vessel shall be refused clearance by the collector of customs, and if such vessel shall depart without clearance the collector of customs shall forward by mail to the Secretary of Labor a certified copy of the vessel's manifest and such other documents as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and the Secretary of Labor shall certify the facts of such refusal and of such departure to the proper authorities of the United States at any port to which such vessel may thereafter proceed, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance papers in any port of the United States until the Secretary of Labor shall notify the collector of customs that such conditions have been complied with, and such vessel shall pay to the collector of customs a penalty of $300 for each and every alien on board thereof who has not been listed, inspected, and certified in accordance with the provisions of this section, unless it be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that any such alien had been duly admitted to the United States or had the right to enter, reenter, pass through, or reside in the United States without inspection and certification by reason of the provisions of any treaty or convention between the United States and any foreign power, or that such alien was in transit through the United States and had in his possession an unlimited ticket to a country adjacent to the United States and to a country not adjacent thereto, if the Secretary of Labor shall by regulation prescribe such exemption, or that such alien was a bona fide seaman employed on such vessel and was discharged in the port of arrival and was in possession of a certificate from the master of the vessel stating the cause of the discharge of such alien and the fact that such alien had been inspected by the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival and had been found not to be within any of the classes excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws, and that such certificate had been indorsed by the United States consul for the country to which such alien is destined, if a consul be stationed at the port of foreign departure, and that such alien had been given a identification card similar to that described in section 2 of this act. The Secretary of Labor may prescribe rules and regulations governing the admission of such aliens from the United States.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes and additions may be typewritten (Form I–418) shall not be retained on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection as the vessel is entering harbor, a notation should be made on the manifest as to the location of each alien seaman, including names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master, thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and describing such those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or into confusion as much of such information as may be obtained by reasonable diligence in making such examination, as to the nationality, last permanent residence, destination, and purpose of each such alien; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has fallen sick or been injured, stating the name of such alien, the hospital with which information likely to lead to his apprehension; and any alien employed on such vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to the apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed upon vessels that were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who shall leave port thereon at the time of such departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been so employed and discharged, and of those, if any, who have died, and the names of those, if any, who have been left behind sick in hospital, respectively, or as to report such cases of desertion or inquiry, such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver either of the said lists of such aliens arriving and departing, respectively, as to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as aforesaid, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: not shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws has employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the contiguous territory, or adjacent islands as defined in section 2 of the Immigration Act of 1917, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or temporarily for the purpose of and while in transit to secure passage to a foreign port or for the purpose of rendering assistance in the case of epidemic of contagious disease, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the control of seamen generally, or to such special inquiry officer as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor to conduct hearings upon the cases of alien seamen who have been temporarily permitted to land under the provisions of this section, and who have been certified by the medical officer in charge of the port as suffering from a disease or condition which requires hospital treatment, or who are certified by the Attorney General to be insane, or who are certified by the Attorney General to be afflicted with a contagious disease which will endanger the public health if they are permitted to land, or who are certified by the Attorney General to be destitute or likely to become a public charge, or who are certified by the Attorney General to be suffering from a mental or physical defect of such a character as to affect the ability of such alien seaman to earn a living, or who are certified by the Attorney General to be illiterate, unless such alien seaman is in possession of a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor showing that he has been found admissible to the United States under the provisions of section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917, or has been granted a visa by a consular officer as provided in section 4 of said Act, or is in possession of a certificate issued by the Secretary of Labor showing that he has been found admissible to the United States under the provisions of section 13 of the Immigration Act of 1924, or has been granted a nonquota immigration visa by a consular officer as provided in section 6 of said Act. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by section 19 of the Immigration Act of 1917, as amended by section 14 of the Immigration Act of 1924, and any such alien seaman who shall be deported to a foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island shall be deported to the country in which he shall have been born or to the country in which he last had a residence for a period of two years, unless the Secretary of Labor shall in his discretion direct deportation to some other country.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported at any time within five years after such landing upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be deported to the country in which he shall have been born or to the country in which he last had a residence for a period of two years, unless the Secretary of Labor shall in his discretion direct deportation to some other country. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported at any time within five years after such landing upon the warrant of the Secretary of Labor, and shall be deported to the country in which he shall have been born or to the country in which he last had a residence for a period of two years, unless the Secretary of Labor shall in his discretion direct deportation to some other country.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman to the vessel on which he arrived has been contrary to the provisions of this section, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a foreign port or place outside contiguous territory

The list described below shall be prepared on plain forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding any vessel at the port of arrival. The list is arranged to show the name of each alien, the number in the group, the country of which he is a citizen or subject, the country from which he last came, the race to which he belongs, his last residence, his destination, whether he has a ticket through to destination, whether any person paid his passage, whether he has in his possession $50 or more, whether he is going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his age, sex, marital condition, occupation, and whether he can read or write. The last 11 columns are to be filled in by the immigrant inspector. Any error in the list or omission of any of the required information may be cause for a fine of not more than $100 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or both, in addition to the return of the alien. Every alien must be listed, and the ages must be given in every case. Infants must be entered as such in the column provided. Write plainly. Do not abbreviate.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That from and after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seventeen, every alien physically able to read who can not read the English language or some other language or dialect including Hebrew or Yiddish, or Polish, or Bohemian or Magyar, or Roumanian or Lithuanian, or Bulgarian or Slovenian, or Finnish or Russian, or Scandinavian, or German or French, or Dutch or Flemish, or Spanish or Portuguese, or Italian or Japanese, or Chinese, or Hebrew or Syrian, or Greek or Armenian, or Turkish, or Servian or Croatian, or Ruthenian, or Albanian, or Georgian or Russian Polish, or Syrian, who can not first read the prescribed literacy test, shall not be permitted to enter the United States: Provided, That nothing contained in this section shall apply to the wife or parent, grandparent, wife, child over sixteen or under twenty-one years of age, or father or grandfather over fifty-five years of age, of any admissible immigrant who is not otherwise inadmissible, who are accompanying or coming to join such immigrant in the United States: Provided further, That any admissible immigrant who is the husband of a woman who is not otherwise inadmissible, and who is accompanying or coming to join such husband in the United States, shall be admitted regardless of the literacy test provided for in this section: Provided further, That nothing contained in this section shall exempt from the literacy test any alien who has been lawfully admitted to the United States and who returns to the United States after a temporary absence abroad: Provided further, That for the purpose of ascertaining whether aliens can read the immigrant inspectors shall be furnished with slips containing not less than twenty nor more than forty words in ordinary use, printed in plainly legible type in the various languages or dialects of immigrants. Each alien may designate the language or dialect in which he desires to be examined, and the test shall be made by reading to him one or more of the words printed in the language or dialect designated by him. The person reading the words shall be an immigrant inspector, who shall certify the result of the test in the case of each alien examined and the certificate shall be delivered to the immigrant board of special inquiry before which the alien appears for examination. Any alien who can not read as provided herein shall be detained and shall be given a reasonable opportunity to receive assistance from friends, and to communicate with friends by mail, and to send for a special inquiry officer of his own selection who can read to him the words printed in the language or dialect designated by him, and shall be given a reasonable time, not exceeding three days, in which to secure such assistance, and if at the end of such time he shall fail to pass the test he shall be deported to the country whence he came at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this act: Provided, That any alien who shall have been admitted to the United States and shall have resided therein for five years shall not be deported by reason of his inability to read and write: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to any person who is duly and regularly admitted into the United States as a nonimmigrant under the provisions of subdivision (a) or (b) of section three of this act, and who has been lawfully in the United States for a period not exceeding one year, and who has not remained in the United States for a longer period than one year from the date of his admission: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not apply to any person who is otherwise exempted by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 37. (a) That the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, shall prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this act relating to the entry of aliens into and their removal from the United States, including the form and contents of manifests required to be delivered by masters or commanding officers of vessels, and the number of copies thereof and the time within which the same shall be delivered prior to the arrival of such vessels at ports of entry in the United States, and the records to be kept by such masters or commanding officers of the aliens carried to the United States by them, and the form and contents of such records, and the information to be furnished by masters or commanding officers of vessels concerning such aliens, and the examination of such aliens prior to embarkation, and the certificates to be issued by the consular officers in such cases, and the fees to be charged therefor, and the refunding of such fees in case certificates are not issued, and the form and contents of the lists of aliens required to be delivered to immigrant inspectors at the ports of arrival of vessels, and the number of copies thereof, and the information to be given by masters or commanding officers of vessels with respect to aliens who may be refused admission to the United States, and such other matters as may be necessary and proper to carry into effect the provisions of this act relating to the entry of aliens into the United States, and the form and contents of the certificates to be issued by consular officers in such cases, and the fees to be charged therefor, and the refunding of such fees in case certificates are not issued, and the information to be given by masters or commanding officers of vessels with respect to aliens who may be refused admission to the United States, and such other matters as may be necessary and proper to carry into effect the provisions of this act relating to the entry of aliens into the United States, and the form and contents of the certificates to be issued by consular officers in cases where aliens are refused visas

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of aliens mentioned is to be delivered on board, but shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival (Form I–418) shall not be removed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alien arrives seaman at a "motor vessel," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of aliens seamen, include names of returning American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively born as far as the aforesaid owner, agent, consignee, or master is able to ascertain the same, and the intended final destination of each alien. Immediately upon the arrival of such vessel it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel at the time of the arrival but who have been before that portion of the journey completed, and also the names of those who have been employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of per departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been hired but not discharged, and of those, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver either of the lists mentioned, if any, who have deserted or landed; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver either of the lists aforesaid, if required by the Attorney General, due to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located, he shall pay a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered or a true report is not made as above required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty; and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains pending: nor shall such fine be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888, 893; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15. Lists of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 38 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 171), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to any fine prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 169) penalty been waived, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or distress, or for such length of time as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, except temporarily in the case of the port of arrival and inspected such seamen (which inspection it is the duty of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to provide for), or who fails to detain on board such alien seamen employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seamen (which inspection it is the duty of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival to provide for), or who fails to detain such seamen on board after such inspection or to report such detention to the proper immigration officer at the port, shall be liable to a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect to whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient sureties to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The masters, as amended, shall apply to all branches arising subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, and that he was reported by the master, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport under regulations by the immigration officer in the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck or other casualty or for the sole purpose of changing to another vessel or for such other cause as may be approved by the Secretary of Labor, under such conditions as he may prescribe, but no such alien seaman shall be permitted to land temporarily as above provided unless the master, purser, or agent of the vessel on which he arrived shall have given a bond in such sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman, and with such sureties as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration, conditioned that such alien seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such alien seaman. The Commissioner of Immigration may, in his discretion, waive the requirement for the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or the requirement for a bond with sufficient sureties, or both, in the case of any seaman who is a national of a country the government of which has a treaty or convention in force providing for the return to its territory at the expense of the owner of any national of such country who may be found in the United States, and may accept in lieu thereof the bond of the owner of the vessel on which such seaman arrived, or of the owner of any other vessel owned by the owner of the vessel on which such seaman arrived, or of the owner of any other vessel which may be found in the United States, which will be responsible for the return of such seaman to the territory of the country of which he is a national. Any seaman who shall have been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided and who shall fail to depart on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel within the period for which he was granted permission to land, or who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to him, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, and in addition shall be subject to a penalty of $500 for each and every violation of any of the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to him. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(b) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman on board such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall have the right to go on board such vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the said list, and, in the event such alien seaman is found to have violated the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond with respect to any seaman who has been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the deposit of such bond with sufficient sureties as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such seaman. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(c) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman on board such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall have the right to go on board such vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the said list, and, in the event such alien seaman is found to have violated the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond with respect to any seaman who has been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the deposit of such bond with sufficient sureties as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such seaman. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(d) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman on board such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall have the right to go on board such vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the said list, and, in the event such alien seaman is found to have violated the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond with respect to any seaman who has been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the deposit of such bond with sufficient sureties as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such seaman. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that a deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be allowed as a credit in favor of the vessel in the settlement of the Attorney General's claim for wages of deserting seamen.

(f) Clearance of vessels may be withheld pending the settlement of the Attorney General's claim for wages of deserting seamen.

(g) Any seaman who shall have been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided and who shall fail to depart on the vessel on which he arrived or on some other vessel within the period for which he was granted permission to land, or who shall fail to comply with any of the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to him, shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof, and in addition shall be subject to a penalty of $500 for each and every violation of any of the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to him. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(h) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman on board such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall have the right to go on board such vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the said list, and, in the event such alien seaman is found to have violated the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond with respect to any seaman who has been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the deposit of such bond with sufficient sureties as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such seaman. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(i) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman on board such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall have the right to go on board such vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the said list, and, in the event such alien seaman is found to have violated the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond with respect to any seaman who has been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the deposit of such bond with sufficient sureties as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such seaman. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(j) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman on board such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall have the right to go on board such vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the said list, and, in the event such alien seaman is found to have violated the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond with respect to any seaman who has been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the deposit of such bond with sufficient sureties as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such seaman. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(k) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman on board such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall have the right to go on board such vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the said list, and, in the event such alien seaman is found to have violated the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond with respect to any seaman who has been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the deposit of such bond with sufficient sureties as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such seaman. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(l) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman on board such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall have the right to go on board such vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the said list, and, in the event such alien seaman is found to have violated the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond with respect to any seaman who has been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the deposit of such bond with sufficient sureties as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such seaman. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any seaman who shall have been granted a visa as a nonquota immigrant by the consular officer to whom he applied therefor in accordance with the provisions of section 13 (c) hereof, nor to any seaman who is in possession of a valid nonquota immigration visa.

(m) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States from any place outside thereof, it shall be the duty of the master, purser, or agent of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a list or manifest containing the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and final destination of each alien seaman on board such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall have the right to go on board such vessel at any time for the purpose of examining the said list, and, in the event such alien seaman is found to have violated the provisions of this section, he shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each and every such violation. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such bond with respect to any seaman who has been granted permission to land temporarily as above provided, upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or upon the deposit of such bond with sufficient sureties as he may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart on said vessel or some other vessel within the period for which he is granted permission to land, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such seaman. EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That from and after the expiration of one year from the foregoing date it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master of foreign to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, before any of the passengers shall be landed, a complete list or manifest of all aliens who have been taken on board at any foreign port or place, whether destined to the United States or not, and of all aliens who shall be on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place, which list or manifest shall state the full name, age, sex, calling or occupation, nationality, last permanent residence, final destination, whether in the United States or not, whether married or single, whether in possession of money and how much, whether in possession of a railroad or steamship ticket, whether going to join relatives or friends and if so what relatives or friends and their names and complete addresses, whether ever before in the United States and if so when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether an anarchist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement to perform labor or service of any kind in the United States, whether having a ticket or passage paid for by any person or corporation, society, or boarding house in the United States, or by any society, corporation, or foreign government, and whether having been deported or excluded from the United States and if so, the cause for deportation, and whether coming by reason of deportation, whether they have been convicted of or admit having committed a felony or other infamous crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, and whether coming for an immoral purpose, and whether they are in possession of and are carrying any gold, silver, coin, currency, or other money, and the amount so carried, which list or manifest shall be sworn to before the master or commanding officer or the first or second officer having charge of the list or manifest, who shall certify his compliance with this section by indorsing and signing his certificate on the list or manifest in the following form: "I certify that the within list contains the name of every alien who has been taken on board this vessel at any foreign port or place, and every such alien now on board this vessel, and that no information required by section 36 of the immigration act of 1917 has been withheld." Before any alien is granted admission to the United States he may be required to present a certificate from the consular officer at the port of departure, or other proper officer, showing compliance by the master with the provisions of section 36 of the immigration act of 1917. Masters will be required to exercise due diligence in the production of aliens for examination.

SEC. 37. (a) That the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing an alien to the United States from any place outside the United States shall be responsible for the proper care of such alien while on board such vessel and for his maintenance while in transit through the United States in case he is not entitled to land, and for his removal from the United States if he is refused admission to the United States, except as provided in subdivision (b) of this section. Such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master shall deposit with the immigrant inspector in charge at the port of arrival a sum sufficient in the opinion of such inspector to defray the cost of maintenance and removal of such alien, based upon the circumstances of each case, but not exceeding $300 in any case, unless a bond in such sum is required by the Secretary of Labor. Such deposit shall be refunded or the bond canceled when such alien has been admitted to the United States or has been removed at the expense of such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master, or when he has departed from the United States within the period allowed by the Secretary of Labor for his departure at the expense of such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master. Such deposit or bond shall not be required in the case of any alien in transit through the United States to a foreign country who has been admitted to a foreign country within four months prior to his arrival at a port of the United States, and who is in possession of a ticket entitling him to transportation therein, and who is not an alien of a class excluded by section 3 of this act.

(b) Every alien in transit through the United States to a foreign country who has been admitted to a foreign country within four months prior to his arrival at a port of the United States, and who is in possession of a ticket entitling him to transportation therein, may be admitted to the United States without deposit or bond for a period not exceeding ten days, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any transportation company has failed or refused to take back any alien who has been refused admission to the United States, who was brought to the United States by such company, from any foreign contiguous territory or adjacent island, or who has been allowed to enter the United States temporarily under bond, or if the master of any vessel has failed to comply with the provisions of this section, such company, master, agent, consignee, or charterer shall pay to the Attorney General a penalty of $200 for each such alien, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such penalty, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such penalty or upon the giving of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof.

(d) Every alien who shall come to the United States by land shall be inspected by an immigrant inspector at the port of entry, or at such other place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, unless specially exempted therefrom by the Secretary of Labor or by such agent as he may designate for the purpose.

SEC. 38. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof (other than from Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico, Cuba, Panama, the Canal Zone, the islands adjacent to the United States and possessions thereof, and other islands adjacent thereto not separated by the high seas from the United States) any alien shall cause such alien to be detained on board such vessel at the port of arrival pending inspection by the medical examiner, or, if such alien is destined to a port other than the port of arrival, pending inspection by the immigrant inspector at such destination, unless such alien is destined to a port in foreign contiguous territory and will be inspected by the immigrant inspector at the port of entry for the district in which is located the port to which such vessel is destined, or unless such alien is destined to a port in adjacent island and will be inspected by the immigrant inspector at the port of entry for the district in which is located the port to which such vessel is destined, or unless such alien is in possession of a permit issued by the Secretary of Labor authorizing the landing of such alien elsewhere than at a port of entry, or unless such alien is a member of the crew of such vessel and is employed on such vessel in the discharge of his duties as such member of the crew, or unless such alien is a stowaway, in which case the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall cause such alien to be detained in such place on board or otherwise as the Secretary of Labor may direct pending the action of the Secretary of Labor in the case of such stowaway. Any alien who shall come to the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by law for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of law. Any master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien with respect to whom such violation occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the same remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien who shall come to the United States by land shall be inspected by an immigrant inspector at the port of entry, or at such other place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, unless specially exempted therefrom by the Secretary of Labor or by such agent as he may designate for the purpose.

SEC. 39. (a) If the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be prevented from having any alien on board the vessel who is destined to the United States from such place and who is not subject to detention by the medical officer at the port of arrival, or who has been certified by the medical officer at the port of arrival for special inquiry by the Board of Special Inquiry, or who has been ordered by the Secretary of Labor to be landed in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe for the safekeeping of such alien while on board such vessel, such alien shall be detained on board such vessel or on such other place as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel shall pay to the Secretary of Labor for each such alien the sum of $1,000, unless such alien is a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country adjacent to the United States, or of the country from which such alien last came to the United States, or of the country to which such alien is destined, or unless such alien is a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country which refuses to receive such alien back, or unless such alien is destined to or is a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country which refuses or fails within a reasonable time to issue such passport as is required by the immigration laws of the United States, or unless such alien is destined to or is a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country which refuses or fails within a reasonable time to grant admission to such alien, or unless such alien is destined to or is a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country which refuses or fails within a reasonable time to grant admission to such alien after the receipt of a passport issued by the government of such country, or unless such alien is destined to or is a native, citizen, subject, or resident of a country which refuses or fails within a reasonable time to issue such passport or

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be retained on board the vessel after the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate manner is authorized by the Commissioner, in addition to that specified, the master of each vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a complete list of all persons on board, including members of the crew and all other persons carried on such vessel, whether they are to land at such port or are in transit through the United States to some foreign country, and whether they are citizens of the United States or aliens, and shall answer such questions relative to such persons as may be required by the immigration officer. The master shall also deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a complete list of all persons who have been landed or have died on board such vessel during the voyage, and shall report the cause of death of each person who died during the voyage. The master shall also report the illness of any person on board such vessel during the voyage, whether or not such illness resulted in death, and shall deliver to the immigration officer at the port of arrival a certificate of the medical officer of such vessel, if any there be, showing the sanitary history and condition of such vessel during the voyage, the cases of illness on board during the voyage, and the cause of death in each case.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry, agent, or employee or such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the said vessel, and the names they were respectively known as on the passenger list or crew list or other document in the form prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, which list or document shall be prepared by the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, and shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration touching each and every person who may be on board such vessel at the time of the entry thereof into the United States from any foreign port or place, or who may have been taken on board such vessel from any other vessel or in any manner during the journey, whether such persons be passengers, members of the crew, or stowaways, or otherwise, and touching each and every person who may have been landed or have died on board such vessel during the voyage, and the cause of death of each person who died during the voyage, and touching the sanitary condition of the vessel and the health of each person on board during the voyage, and such other information touching each person described in the list or manifest as the Commissioner General of Immigration may prescribe, and shall subscribe and verify the correctness of such list or manifest by his oath or affirmation administered by any immigrant inspector or other officer of the United States authorized to administer oaths to passengers arriving in the United States, and deliver the same to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States. Any master, agent, consignee, or purser of any such vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States the list or manifest required by this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to answer truthfully and fully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching each person described in the list or manifest which may be asked by any immigrant inspector, shall pay to the collector of customs of the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival in the United States, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid no clearance shall be granted such vessel from any port in the United States to any foreign port or place. It shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States a true report in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or purser to deliver such list or manifest, or any part thereof, as required by the Attorney General, by regulations prescribed by him, and also the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon as the time of the vessel's departure, and the cause of the absence from the vessel of each such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and if any such alien employee is concealed on board such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigrant inspector a written statement containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon as the time of the vessel's departure, and also the names of such aliens, if any, who have been secreted on board; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver such list of the aliens employed, or to report the absence from the vessel of any such alien employee, or to report the names of such aliens secreted on board, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival in the United States, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid no clearance shall be granted such vessel from any port in the United States to any foreign port or place. It shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States a true report in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or purser so to deliver such list of the aliens employed, or to report the absence from the vessel of any such alien employee, or to report the names of such aliens secreted on board, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival in the United States, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid no clearance shall be granted such vessel from any port in the United States to any foreign port or place. It shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival at the port of first arrival in the United States a true report in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or purser so to deliver such list or manifest, or any part thereof, as required by the Attorney General, by regulations prescribed by him, and also the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon as the time of the vessel's departure, and the cause of the absence from the vessel of each such alien employee, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and if any such alien employee is concealed on board such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigrant inspector a written statement containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon as the time of the vessel's departure, and also the names of such aliens, if any, who have been secreted on board; and in case of the failure of such owner, agent, consignee, or master so to deliver such list of the aliens employed, or to report the absence from the vessel of any such alien employee, or to report the names of such aliens secreted on board, he shall pay to the collector of customs of the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered to the immigrant inspector at the time of the vessel's arrival in the United States, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid, the clearance of the vessel may be withheld, and such vessel may be detained at the port until such fine is paid or remitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, or his decision thereon is rendered: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. SEC. 150.15. Liens of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via seaport other than the port of arrival in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such vessel's inability to go on, shall pay to the collector of customs of the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each alien seaman employed on such vessel and failing to be immediately physically examined by the medical examiner(s), or who fails to depart on board the vessel on which he arrived or on such other vessel as the Attorney General may designate, within 5 days after such inspection or to depart on such vessel at such time as the medical examiner(s) may determine, unless such seaman is granted permission to remain longer by the Attorney General. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand for payment of $10 for each alien seaman, or may reduce the amount to cover such time or to a sum sufficient to cover the expenses of such alien seaman or the cost of his maintenance at a hospital or elsewhere pending his departure, or may cause him to be detained on board the vessel at the expense of the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, and such vessel may be detained at the port until such fine is paid or remitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, or his decision thereon is rendered: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–890; 8 U. S. C. 191.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws may be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such vessel's inability to go on, shall pay to the collector of customs of the port of arrival the sum of $10 for each alien seaman employed on such vessel and failing to be immediately physically examined by the medical examiner(s), or who fails to depart on board the vessel on which he arrived or on such other vessel as the Attorney General may designate, within 5 days after such inspection or to depart on such vessel at such time as the medical examiner(s) may determine, unless such seaman is granted permission to remain longer by the Attorney General. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand for payment of $10 for each alien seaman, or may reduce the amount to cover such time or to a sum sufficient to cover the expenses of such alien seaman or the cost of his maintenance at a hospital or elsewhere pending his departure, or may cause him to be detained on board the vessel at the expense of the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, and such vessel may be detained at the port until such fine is paid or remitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, or his decision thereon is rendered. (42 Stat. 464, 8 U. S. C. 160.)

SEC. 20. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof, (except from foreign contiguous territory), to any port in the United States, or arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof (except foreign contiguous territory), to any port in the United States, shall be responsible for the proper maintenance while in the United States, including the return transportation to the country whence he came, of any alien seaman employed on board such vessel and entering the United States for the purpose of performing labor thereon, and shall deposit with the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, at the port of entry, a bond or undertaking in such amount, not exceeding $300 for each seaman, as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, conditioned for the proper maintenance while in the United States, including the return transportation to the country whence he came, of each such alien seaman employed on board such vessel and entering the United States for the purpose of performing labor thereon, and for the payment of a sum not exceeding $300 for each such alien seaman who shall be found at any time within five years after the entry of such vessel to have remained in the United States in violation of the immigration laws, such sum to be recovered as a penalty from the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of such vessel. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand for payment of $300 for each alien seaman, or may reduce the amount to cover such time or to a sum sufficient to cover the expenses of such alien seaman or the cost of his maintenance at a hospital or elsewhere pending his departure, or may cause him to be detained on board the vessel at the expense of the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, and such vessel may be detained at the port until such fine is paid or remitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, or his decision thereon is rendered. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such demand for payment of $300 for each alien seaman, or may reduce the amount to cover such time or to a sum sufficient to cover the expenses of such alien seaman or the cost of his maintenance at a hospital or elsewhere pending his departure, or may cause him to be detained on board the vessel at the expense of the master, agent, consignee, or purser of such vessel, and such vessel may be detained at the port until such fine is paid or remitted by the Secretary of the Treasury, or his decision thereon is rendered. (42 Stat. 164–165, 22 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 161 (d), 161 (e).)

(b) Proof shall be filed in behalf of all beneficiaries stating approximately the time, place, and manner of their arrival in the United States, whether they arrived as immigrants or visitors, and whether they have been lawfully admitted to the United States or have remained therein unlawfully. The affidavit shall also show the date of the filing of the petition, the approximate present address of the beneficiaries, and whether they have been employed in the United States and, if so, by whom. The affidavit shall be executed before the consular officer abroad who is to act upon the petition, and shall be forwarded by him to the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C., for the information of the Secretary of State. The affidavit shall be executed by the petitioner, if he resides in the United States, or by a responsible person having knowledge of the facts, if the petitioner resides abroad.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that a petition is made for the purpose of evading the immigration laws, or that fraud was committed in connection therewith, or that a material change has occurred in the relationship between the petitioner and the beneficiary since the petition was approved, he may, at any time before the beneficiary has been admitted to the United States, revoke the approval of the petition. Upon the revocation of the approval of any petition, the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization shall immediately notify the petitioner of the revocation and the reasons therefor, and shall forward a copy of the notification to the consular officer with whom the petition was originally filed. The decision of the Attorney General shall be final.

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of the list or manifest of all the persons, whether passengers or members of the crew, employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, which list shall be signed by the master thereof, and specifying those to be held on board the vessel when she departs from the port. The master of any such vessel shall report and deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of entry the list or manifest of all aliens employed on such vessel, and shall report the additions, changes, or omissions which may have occurred in the list or manifest of such aliens since the last previous report was made, and the reasons therefor, and shall furnish such information with respect to such aliens as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. The master of any such vessel shall not permit any alien employee to land from such vessel at any port until the inspection of such alien has been completed and the master has been given a permit to land such alien, except in case of sickness or emergency, and then only under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Any master who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such violation occurs, and may be arrested either before or after he shall have departed from the United States or any port thereof, and shall be prosecuted and punished in the district in which he may be found as the court before which the case is tried may direct, and may be held liable to the payment of the head tax of any alien employee who has illegally landed from the vessel. Every person who knowingly makes any false statement in the manifest concerning any alien employed on such vessel, or who refuses to deliver to any such immigrant inspector a complete list of such employees, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any person who knowingly secures or attempts to secure the permit provided for the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The master, as amended, shall not be relieved from the obligations mentioned in this section by reason of the absence from the vessel of any alien employee who has been left behind in a foreign port or place, unless the immigration officer at the port of arrival is satisfied that the master has complied with the provisions of law and regulations in regard to the presentation of such alien for examination, and has delivered to the proper officer a certificate from the consular officer of the United States at the port where such alien was left behind, stating that such alien has been granted a visa to return to the United States, and the date when such visa was granted, and the name of the vessel in which such alien has engaged or intends to engage in returning to the United States. Any person who knowingly forges, counterfeits, alters, or falsely makes any certificate or entry required by this section, or who knowingly utters or uses any such forged, counterfeited, altered, or falsely made certificate or entry, or who knowingly demands, receives, or collects any greater or other compensation for the services rendered by him in connection with the certificate required by this section than is allowed by law, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the United States, shall be permitted to land in the United States except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, and no alien seaman employed on any vessel arriving at a seaport of the United States shall be permitted to land temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, or to ship on board any vessel clearing from any port of the United States, except upon certificate of the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival that such alien seaman has been passed by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service as not affected with any disease or mental or physical defect which may result in his becoming a public charge, and that such alien seaman is not a member of any of the classes excluded by section 3 of this Act, and has been admitted to the United States, or has been granted a waiver of such certificate by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, upon the recommendation of the Chief Medical Officer of the Service. Any alien seaman who has been granted a waiver of such certificate by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, upon the recommendation of the Chief Medical Officer of the Service, shall be deported to the country to which he belongs or from which he came to the United States, at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act, if practicable, upon the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or upon any other vessel, at the option of the Commissioner General of Immigration, within five years after his entry into the United States, if he shall have been found to be an alien who entered the United States in violation of law, or who was excluded at the time of entry by the immigration officers, or who was a member of the class of aliens excluded by section 3 of this Act, or who was admitted to the United States by reason of the fraud or misrepresentation of himself or any other person, or who was not at the time of entry in possession of the qualifications required by law for admission of the alien applying therefor, unless such alien establishes to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he did not know and could not with reasonable diligence have ascertained that such fraud or misrepresentation was practiced or that such qualifications were not possessed by him, or unless such alien is found to have become a public charge from causes not affecting him prior to the date of his entry

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be kept for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of entry, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list or manifest of alien passengers for the United States (Form I–418) shall not be destroyed on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of entry (Form I–418 (1940)). When no alien passengers are carried, a "NONE" a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry, where contained the manifest of all aliens on such vessel, a right the boarding officer to board such vessel for the purpose of examining the manifest and the inspection of the aliens on board, and no such vessel shall be granted clearance papers until the master, agent, consignee, or owner thereof shall have delivered to the collector of customs the manifest required by this section, and the immigration officer at the port of entry shall certify to the collector of customs the fact of the delivery of such manifest and the date thereof. Such manifest shall be prepared and delivered in quintuplicate, and shall contain such information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the name, age, sex, nationality, race, and last permanent residence of each alien, whether he is in possession of a valid passport, whether in possession of money and the amount thereof, whether going to join a relative or friend, and if so, what relative or friend, and his name and complete address, whether ever before in the United States, and if so, when and where, whether ever in prison or almshouse or supported by charity, whether a polygamist, whether an anarchist, whether coming by reason of any offer, solicitation, promise, or agreement, expressed or implied, to perform labor in the United States, and if so, what kind of labor, whether in possession of a ticket to his final destination, whether the alien has been deported before and if so how many times, whether the alien has a prepaid railroad ticket, and if so over what railroad, whether the alien is coming to the United States to avoid military service, whether the alien has been in the United States before, and if so when and how long ago, whether the alien intends to return to the United States after a visit abroad, whether the alien is a stowaway, whether the alien is a member of the anarchistic or other forbidden class of aliens, whether the alien is a person who believes in or advocates or teaches the overthrow by force or violence of the Government of the United States or of all forms of law, or the assassination of public officials, whether the alien is coming to the United States to engage in any unlawful business, whether the alien is under contract or agreement, parol or special, to perform labor in the United States, and such other facts as may be required to enable the Secretary of Labor to determine whether such alien belongs to any of the classes excluded by law. The master, purser, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel bringing any alien to the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone shall cause to be delivered to each such alien, before the departure of the vessel from the last port outside the United States, a card, the form and contents of which shall be prescribed by the Commissioner General of Immigration with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and the master, agent, consignee, or owner of any such vessel shall cause each such alien to fill out such card and to subscribe thereto his full name in the presence of the immigration officer at the port of entry in the United States. Such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall also cause each such alien to be examined by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service at the port or place of embarkation, and to be certified by such medical officer as to his mental and physical condition, and such certificate shall be delivered to the immigration officer at the port of entry in the United States. Such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall cause each such alien to be vaccinated within five days prior to the departure of the vessel from a foreign port or place, unless such alien presents a certificate of recent vaccination signed by a medical officer of the United States Public Health Service or by a civil surgeon of the United States Army or Navy, or by a contract surgeon of the United States Army or Navy, or by an acting assistant surgeon of the United States Army or Navy. Such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall furnish to each such alien a identification card containing a recent photograph of such alien, and the number assigned to him on the list required by this section, and shall require such alien to have such card in his possession at all times during the journey to the United States. Such master, agent, consignee, or owner shall furnish to each such alien a ticket or through bill of lading to the port of his ultimate destination in the United States, and shall not accept the passage money for the journey of any alien from any foreign port to the United States unless the master, agent, consignee, or owner has reasonable cause to believe that the alien will be admitted

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, Wm. Erickson, of the Am S/S Mastpoint Port, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew presently in my employ and now on board the vessel, and that I have read the copies of sections 30 of the Act of February 7, 1917, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to, and the removal of aliens from, the United States," and of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, entitled "An Act to regulate the immigration of aliens to, and the removal of aliens from, the United States," and that I have noted the copies of sections 15 and 50 of Part 58 of Regulations governing the admission of aliens to the United States, and that the information given in the foregoing list is true to the best of my knowledge, information, and belief.

Wm. Erickson
Master, First or Second Officer

Sworn to before me this 7th day of June, 1940.

Immigrant Inspector

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, multiple names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens

SEC. 30. That now entitled of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of entry a list or manifest of all persons having actual or constructive knowledge or information of their right to enter the United States, including all persons in transit through the United States, and all persons employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the port of entry; and such list or manifest shall be subscribed and sworn to before such immigration officer by the master or commanding officer of such vessel, or by the first or second officer thereof, as the case may be, to the best of his knowledge or information. Such list or manifest shall show the full name, nationality, last residence, calling or occupation, and whether in possession of a ticket through to destination, and whether the money, if any, has been furnished in whole or in part by any person or corporation in the United States, and the amount so furnished, and by whom, of each and every alien included therein, and shall show what class of passage has been engaged by each alien, and shall indicate whether each alien has been inspected by the proper officers of the country of which he is a citizen or subject, and shall give such other information as may be required by the Commissioner General of Immigration, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, touching the right of each alien to enter the United States. Such list or manifest shall be prepared in quadruplicate, and the original thereof shall be delivered to the immigrant inspector at the port of arrival before the departure of any alien therein named, and a duplicate copy thereof shall be delivered to the master of such vessel before departure from each subsequent port in the United States at which the vessel may call or touch before sailing for a foreign port. The list or manifest of aliens in steerage (Form I-420) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, multiple names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival, or such assistant immigration officer as the said principal immigration officer may designate, lists or manifests of all persons, including the crew, on board such vessel, whether they be destined to some port or place in the United States or to a foreign country, which lists or manifests shall be in such form and contain such information as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be subscribed and sworn to before the said principal immigration officer or his assistant by the master or commanding officer of such vessel, which oath may be administered by any such officer: Provided, That the master or commanding officer of any such vessel may, in lieu of subscribing and swearing to the lists or manifests of persons other than cabin passengers, subscribe and swear to a general declaration to the effect that the lists or manifests of such persons are correct to the best of his knowledge and belief, which general declaration shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor. Such lists or manifests shall be delivered to the said immigration officer at the time of the arrival of the vessel at the port of first arrival in the United States, and the master or commanding officer of such vessel shall furnish to the said immigration officer such additional information relative to the persons on board of said vessel as may be required by the said immigration officer at any time before the passengers are landed from said vessel. Such lists or manifests shall be prepared on blank forms furnished by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration officer at the port of arrival. Any master or commanding officer of any such vessel who shall refuse to deliver to the said immigration officer such lists or manifests of persons on board of such vessel, or who shall refuse to answer truthfully and fully to the best of his knowledge and belief any question touching the persons on board of such vessel asked by any such immigration officer, or who shall refuse to furnish such additional information relative to such persons as may be required by the said immigration officer at any time before the passengers are landed from such vessel, shall pay to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above required, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid no clearance shall be granted by the collector of the district to the vessel on account of which the fine was imposed, but such clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 886, 887; 8 U. S. C. 141.)

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.18. Lists of alien employees; when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted via vessel until the lists required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 141), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 32 of said Act (39 Stat. 898; 8 U. S. C. 168) have been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, nor shall any such alien seaman be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of illness, injury, or quarantine, or unless a bond in such sum not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman as may be required by the Secretary of Labor is deposited to guarantee the return of such alien seaman to the country from which he came, or to the country to which he belongs, at the option of the master, upon the vessel on which he arrived, or upon any other vessel willing to receive him, or unless such alien seaman is otherwise lawfully entitled to enter the United States. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board the vessel or some other vessel for a place outside the United States, except temporarily for the purposes above stated, unless prevented by sickness, injury, or quarantine, or who fails to report and be examined by the proper immigration officer, or who departs from the United States within five years after entering the United States, shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. Any master, commanding officer, purser, or agent of any vessel who shall employ on board thereof any alien seaman who is prohibited from being employed thereon, or who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman on board when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of maintenance and support of any alien seaman detained on board of his vessel, or who shall refuse to pay any fine imposed upon him by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to deliver to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board, or who shall fail to report the illness or injury of any alien seaman, or who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board at that port, shall pay a penalty of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance from the port of arrival or located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance from the port of arrival or located the sum of any such alien seaman, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any fine, or any part thereof, incurred under the provisions of this section, as he may deem just. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. Any master, commanding officer, purser, or agent of any vessel who shall employ on board thereof any alien seaman who is prohibited from being employed thereon, or who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman on board when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of maintenance and support of any alien seaman detained on board of his vessel, or who shall refuse to pay any fine imposed upon him by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to deliver to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board, or who shall fail to report the illness or injury of any alien seaman, or who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board at that port, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (43 Stat. 164–165, 28 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 187 (a), 187 (c).)

(a) Proof shall be given as often as may be required by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that any alien seaman did not abscond from the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily in the United States for the purpose of joining the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or that he was prevented by the master of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from joining the vessel on account of illness, injury, or quarantine, or that he was otherwise unable to join the vessel on account of circumstances beyond his control.

(b) Any alien seaman who shall desert from any vessel on which he arrived in the United States shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any fine, or any part thereof, incurred under the provisions of this section, as he may deem just. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. Any master, commanding officer, purser, or agent of any vessel who shall employ on board thereof any alien seaman who is prohibited from being employed thereon, or who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman on board when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of maintenance and support of any alien seaman detained on board of his vessel, or who shall refuse to pay any fine imposed upon him by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to deliver to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board, or who shall fail to report the illness or injury of any alien seaman, or who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board at that port, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (43 Stat. 164–165, 28 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 187 (a), 187 (c).)

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any deportation of the alien seamen on the vessel on which he arrived, and such seaman is detained for the enforcement of any such deportation, or because of his failure to deposit such sum as may be required to guarantee his return, or because of his failure to pay any fine incurred under the provisions of this section, as he may deem just, or because of his failure to deliver a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board, or because of his failure to report the illness or injury of any alien seaman, or because of his failure to deliver at the port of departure a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board at that port, such seaman shall be deported to the nearest port in his native country, or to the port where he shipped, or to such other port as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor, at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States, or at the expense of the master, commanding officer, purser, or agent of such vessel, and such vessel may be required to give a bond in such sum not exceeding $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, as a condition to granting clearance to such vessel. Such bond may be sued for and recovered in the name of the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located, for the use of the United States, by action or suit brought in any court of the United States of competent jurisdiction. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any fine, or any part thereof, incurred under the provisions of this section, as he may deem just. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and shall be ineligible to become a citizen of the United States. Any master, commanding officer, purser, or agent of any vessel who shall employ on board thereof any alien seaman who is prohibited from being employed thereon, or who shall refuse to detain any alien seaman on board when ordered so to do by the Secretary of Labor, or any immigrant inspector, or who shall refuse to pay the cost of maintenance and support of any alien seaman detained on board of his vessel, or who shall refuse to pay any fine imposed upon him by the Secretary of Labor, or who shall refuse to deliver to the immigrant inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board, or who shall fail to report the illness or injury of any alien seaman, or who shall fail to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the port of departure a complete list or manifest of the alien seamen employed on board at that port, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $2,000 or by imprisonment for not more than two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (43 Stat. 164–165, 28 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 187 (a), 187 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily to the extent and for the purpose authorized by the Secretary of Labor, and to such seamen employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States contiguous to foreign territory, or adjacent islands as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of this section, or to such seamen as may be certified by the public health authorities to the immigration officer at the port of arrival to be destitute upon arrival at such port, or likely to become a public charge, or who have been certified by the medical examiners as helpless invalids or mentally or physically defective, or who are afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who are natives of countries not contiguous to the United States, unless specially admitted upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor. Any alien seaman who shall land in the United States in violation of this section shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of the immigration laws. Any alien seaman who shall be employed on board any vessel upon the navigation of which he shall have entered the United States, and who shall desert while such vessel is in port, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of the immigration laws, unless such alien seaman shall be able to establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he entered the United States with a bona fide intention of following the sea and that he has not deserted his vessel. Any alien seaman who shall be employed on board any vessel during its stay in any port of the United States, who refuses to depart on such vessel when ordered so to do by the master thereof, or the immigration officer in charge at the port, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have entered the United States in violation of the immigration laws. Any alien seaman who shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall be employed on board any vessel which touches at ports of the United States contiguous to foreign territory, or adjacent islands as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of this section, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily and to the extent authorized by the Secretary of Labor, and to such seamen employed on board vessels touching at ports of the United States contiguous to foreign territory, or adjacent islands as the Attorney General may prescribe for the purpose of this section, or to such seamen as may be certified by the public health authorities to the immigration officer at the port of arrival to be destitute upon arrival at such port, or likely to become a public charge, or who have been certified by the medical examiners as helpless invalids or mentally or physically defective, or who are afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, or who have been convicted of a felony or other crime or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or who are natives of countries not contiguous to the United States, unless specially admitted upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor. ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who is granted shore leave under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the visitation, detention, removal, or deportation of such alien seaman, or pursuant to such conditions as he may prescribe to insure the maintenance of such alien seaman on board such vessel until the departure thereof from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board such vessel immediately prior to the departure of such vessel from the last foreign port or place at which such vessel touches in the United States, to the immigration officer in charge of the port in which such vessel is then arriving or departing, a complete and accurate list, in triplicate, containing the name, age, nationality, last permanent residence, calling, final destination, and whether in possession of an immigration visa, of each and every alien (including any citizen of the United States) who is on board such vessel, shall pay to the collector of customs a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom such complete and accurate list is not delivered, unless it shall be established to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or operator of such vessel could not have ascertained by the exercise of due diligence the facts required to be stated in such list. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted pursuant to the provisions of section 5 of this Act. Upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that any alien employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof has been granted shore leave under such regulations as he may prescribe, and that the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or operator of such vessel has furnished a bond or undertaking approved by the Secretary of Labor in such sum not exceeding $500 for each seaman as the Secretary of Labor may require, conditioned that such seaman will depart from the United States with such vessel or on some other vessel within such time as may be required by the Secretary of Labor, and will comply with all the requirements of this Act and all rules and regulations made thereunder with respect to such seaman, no fine shall be imposed upon the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or operator of such vessel by reason of the presence in the United States of such seaman after the departure of such vessel. The Secretary of Labor may, upon application by the master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or operator of such vessel, cancel any bond given hereunder and accept in lieu thereof a bond in a reduced amount sufficient to cover any seaman remaining in the United States. Any bond given hereunder may be sued for and recovered by the Secretary of Labor for the use of the United States in the event of the failure of any seaman to depart from the United States in accordance with the terms of the bond. No bond given hereunder shall be required with respect to any seaman who is a national of the country to which he belongs, if the government of such country refuses to accept his return from the United States.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the consular books of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent island, shall be prima facie evidence that he was not reported by the master of such vessel to the immigration officer in charge of the port of entry.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that any collection of a penalty above provided for has been made from any person who has complied with any bond or undertaking given by the Attorney General, he shall remit such penalty. (43 Stat. 164–165; 8 U. S. C. 167 (a), 167 (b), 167 (c).)

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector at each port of entry. No alien will be permitted to land from any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, master thereof to deliver to the immigration officer in charge of the port of entry a list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the port of entry; or list substituted in case of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe: And provided further, That the master of any vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employees who may have sailed from such port since the departure of the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with information likely to lead to his identification: And provided further, That the master of any vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employees who may have been left behind on account of illness, and the cause of such illness, so far as known, and the destination of such seamen. Any master who shall refuse to deliver any list required by the Attorney General, or who shall refuse to answer any question put to him by the immigration officer in charge of the port of entry concerning any alien employee who may have been left behind, or who shall refuse to permit any such immigration officer to examine the ship's papers for the purpose of verifying the information contained in the list, shall pay to the collector of customs a penalty of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a true report is not made as above provided; and no such vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine; and in the event such fine is imposed, suits it remains unpaid; but shall not be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine. (39 Stat. 888–889; 8 U. S. C. 171.)

C. 141), have been furnished, and not then unless notice of intention to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 35 of said Act (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 109) matter been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.13–150.17, has been made.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS APPROVED MAY 26, 1924, AS AMENDED

SEC. 12. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the multiple departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the multiple departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States, any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have granted such alien seaman (which investigation shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), a landing certificate, or a permit to land for a period not to exceed twenty-nine days, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Attorney General. Such landing certificate or permit may be revoked at any time and the alien seaman required to depart from the United States upon the vessel on which he arrived or any other vessel, within such time as may be specified by the Attorney General, under the supervision of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel, or of any immigration officer, at the cost of such vessel, if practicable, or at the cost of the appropriation for the enforcement of this Act if the Attorney General so directs. Any alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted under this Act shall be deported in the manner provided by sections 19 and 20 of this Act. Any alien seaman who shall depart from the United States shall be deported as an alien seaman not in possession of a valid landing certificate or permit unless he establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General that he was unable to depart from the United States for reasons beyond his control or that he has been granted clearance by the immigration officer in charge at the port of departure.

(b) Upon the arrival of any vessel at a port of the United States, the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, stating the position therein of each person, as passenger, crew, or other, and the manifest shall be prepared as the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival may prescribe; and the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel shall truly answer all questions which may be put by such officer, or by any other officer designated by the Secretary of Labor, touching the persons on board such vessel, their nationality, last permanent residence, destination, and such other matters as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to be stated in such manifest, and shall subscribe to the truth of the statements therein contained and shall, before any such vessel shall be granted clearance, deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port a certified manifest containing such information. Such manifest shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Secretary of Labor, and shall be verified by the oath of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel. The master of every such vessel shall, before any such vessel shall be granted clearance, deliver to the principal immigration officer at the port a supplemental list containing the names of all alien seamen who may have been taken on board such vessel after the departure of such vessel from her last port of call, and before she shall be granted clearance, and shall also report the names of all persons who may have died on board such vessel after such departure, and the causes of such deaths, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival is hereby authorized to administer such oaths and take such affidavits as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to be taken in connection with the making of such lists or manifests or supplemental lists, and any master, owner, agent, consignee, or person in charge of such vessel who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section or with such rules and regulations as may be made by the Secretary of Labor in pursuance thereof, or who shall refuse to answer any question touching the persons on board such vessel, their nationality, last permanent residence, destination, and such other matters as may be required by the Secretary of Labor to be stated in such manifest, or who shall make any false answer to any such question, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom any such omission, false answer, or failure to report, or to deliver such list or manifest, or supplemental list, is made, and in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid no such alien shall be admitted to the United States or granted clearance papers: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that transportation of any alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien seaman may be transported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its permanent representative to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(d) Proof that an alien seaman did not embark upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside contiguous territory, or that he was temporarily detained by the immigration officer or the Attorney General, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport such alien seaman on board such vessel, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with surety to secure the payment thereof by the collector of customs.

(e) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien seaman may be transported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to its permanent representative to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands, or transit to such destinations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, or intransit to such destinations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or not medical treatment, or transit to and from hospitals for medical treatment of sick seamen employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entrance to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer at the port of entry has taken to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to report such seamen if treated by such immigration officer at the port of entry (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner). Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any such penalty or any part thereof, if he is satisfied that such fine was incurred without fault on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, or that the circumstances are such that justice requires the remission of such penalty or any part thereof. The Attorney General shall think proper. $500 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs when such vessel is engaged in the coastwise trade between the continental United States and Alaska, or between Alaska and any other possession of the United States, or between any two such possessions.

The section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving after June 2, 1924.

(b) Every fine or penalty incurred by this section may be sued for and recovered by the United States of America in the district court of the United States for the district in which the vessel may arrive or depart, or in which the master, agent, consignee, or owner may be found. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit or cancel any such penalty or any part thereof, if he is satisfied that such fine was incurred without fault on the part of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of the vessel, or that the circumstances are such that justice requires the remission of such penalty or any part thereof

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list checked below shall be printed on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector (96) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the agent from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form at a "MOREMEN," a modification to that effect should be made on the manifest.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917

SEC. 18. That aliens arriving at ports of the United States from any foreign port or place in the gulf of the Pacific ports, or the ports of Alaska, or ports in the Panama Canal Zone, or the Canal Zone, shall be subject to the provisions of this section in the same manner as aliens arriving at ports of the United States from foreign ports: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to affect any of the provisions of section 33 of the Act of June 5, 1920, relating to seamen.

That any alien seeking admission to the United States may be required by the immigrant inspectors to produce a certificate from a consular officer of the United States, or of a country adhering to the International Sanitary Convention of 1912, stating that such alien has been under observation for a period sufficient to show that he is not affected with any of the diseases enumerated in section 1 of this Act, and that he has been successfully vaccinated against smallpox within seven years prior to the date of his application for admission to the United States, or has had the disease within five years prior to such date, or that he is immune to smallpox for other reasons to be stated in the certificate. Such certificate shall be issued only upon the personal application of the alien, and only after a personal examination by the consular officer issuing the certificate sufficient to enable him to become reasonably satisfied as to the truth of the statements made therein. Such certificate shall be in duplicate, one copy to be delivered to the alien for presentation to the immigrant inspector at the port of entry, and the other copy to be forwarded by the consular officer issuing the same to the Commissioner General of Immigration. Such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated, but the immigrant inspectors at the port of entry shall have the right to require such additional evidence of the health of the alien as they may deem necessary, and the right to cause such alien to be detained for examination in accordance with the provisions of this Act. Any alien who shall willfully refuse to exhibit such certificate of vaccination or other evidence of health required by this section shall be deemed to be unable to comply with the requirements of this Act governing admission to the United States, and shall be refused admission thereto, and any certificate issued by a consular officer which shall be found by the immigrant inspectors at the port of entry to be incorrect in any material particular shall be cancelled, and the person to whom it was issued shall be refused admission to the United States. Any person who knowingly forges, counterfeits, alters, or changes any certificate provided for in this section, or who knowingly uses any such certificate which is forged, counterfeited, altered, or changed, or who personates the person named in any such certificate, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Any person who shall bring into the United States any alien who is afflicted with any of the diseases mentioned in this section, or who shall bring into the United States any alien who has been deported under the provisions of this Act, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Any alien who shall be found to have been deported from the United States under the provisions of this section shall be refused admission to the United States, unless prior to his application for admission the Secretary of Labor shall have given his consent in writing to the reapplication of such alien for admission to the United States.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 10. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of the necessity of replacement on account of illness or injury, or for such other reasons as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, and then only under such conditions as he may prescribe, and no alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to depart on board the vessel on which he arrived or some other vessel leaving the United States for a foreign port within such time as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, not exceeding five days, shall be deported at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, unless the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel deposits with the collector of customs a bond with sufficient surety to insure the payment thereof in such amount, not exceeding $1,000 for each alien seaman, as the Secretary of Labor may require. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fund, or while the fund remains in default. Clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fund, or of a bond with sufficient surety to insure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman has not been allowed to land in the United States from any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that such alien seaman has been duly deported, or that the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of any vessel has complied with the provisions of this section relative to such alien seaman, shall be furnished by the immigration officer at the port of arrival to the master, owner, agent, consignee, or charterer of such vessel, and a duplicate thereof delivered to the collector of customs before clearance shall be granted such vessel.

(c) If the Secretary of Labor finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor.

EXTRACT FROM SUBDIVISION B, RULE 7

PAR. 4. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, have been furnished and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to that prescribed by section 35 of said act herein been served, the deposit thereby required in rule 53 has been made.

I, [illegible], do declare that the foregoing is a full, true, and complete list of all the crew promptly in such letter from the master per current voyage. I have noted the copy of section 30 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from subdivision B, Rule 7, and copy of sections 21 and 35, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below:

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or place shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of any emergency as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of entry has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General so to do, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the master is under arrest or the vessel is detained by reason thereof, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Any fine in an alien seaman not exceeding $10 for each day during the period of his employment or service on board any vessel after the vessel arrives at a port in the United States from a foreign port or place may be remitted or refunded: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, arranged the positions they respectively hold in the ship's complement, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be buried on land dispensed in the port of arrival; or lists containing so much of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel at the first port of call in the United States from any foreign port or place, it shall be the duty of the master, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the sailing from the last port, and specifying the additions, cancellations, and changes in the positions they have respectively filled since the sailing from the last port, and the reasons therefor, which lists shall be sworn to by the master before the commissioner of navigation, or his assistant, or the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located, or his deputy, or the United States consular officer at the last port from which the vessel sailed, or if sailing from a contiguous country, before the United States immigrant inspector at the port of arrival, or before such other officer as may be designated by the Secretary of Labor. Any person who knowingly or willfully shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section or any rule or regulation made thereunder, or who shall knowingly or willfully shall make any false statement in any such list or in any declaration, certificate, or evidence or shall knowingly or willfully shall furnish false information in addition thereto or in lieu thereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. Any master, agent, consignee, or owner of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to deliver such lists, or who shall refuse or neglect to make any such additions, cancellations, changes, or corrections in such lists, or who shall refuse or neglect to make oath to the same when required so to do, shall be liable to a penalty of $100 for each and every such refusal or neglect. The master of every such vessel shall, before the departure therefrom for a foreign port or place, deliver to the proper officer of customs at the port of departure a correct list of all passengers taken on board at any port in the United States, stating the name, age, sex, calling, nationality, last permanent residence, and destination of each such passenger, and the failure to deliver such list shall be punished by a fine of not more than $20 for each passenger not included therein.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be required on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

PORT-LEVEQUE

I, LEVEQUE MASTER, of the ..... do declare under the foregoing [illegible] and full and true list of all the crew, provided in said vessel from said port or place during my present voyage. I have noted the code of section 30 of the Act of February 2, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and code of sections 15 and 30, Act of May 26, 1954, noted above.

SEC. 150.1. Duties of alien employees: when clearance of vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the list required by section 36 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 880; 8 U. S. C. 137), have been furnished, and no alien employee shall be permitted to land from any vessel at any port in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of any temporary illness as the Attorney General may prescribe, for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from a place outside the foreign mainland shall be required to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or has taken such steps to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(d) Proof shall be filed showing that the employment of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence to a similar effect by the immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States. "Foreign port" as used in this section shall be construed on land, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States. The list of members of alien employees shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of members of alien employees shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department of Labor, and shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States. "Foreign port" as used in this section shall be construed on land, but shall not be deemed to include Canada, Mexico, Cuba, Newfoundland, Panama, the Canal Zone, the islands adjacent to any of the foregoing, the Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or the islands adjacent to the United States. Form I-418 shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival in the United States. The list of members of alien employees shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of the vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if a part of the crew, except consular officers, or members thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the position they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those who do not intend to land in the port of arrival; to list containing as much of such information as can be obtained from the master, and other members of the crew; and the master, and other members of the crew shall severally subscribe to and deliver to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which such alien has landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of the vessel from the port, the master, and other members of the crew shall severally subscribe to and deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave that vessel at the time of her departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been paid off and discharged, and the cause, if any, why any have not been paid off and discharged, and the amount due each alien employee, and the amount of deductions, if any, made therefrom, respectively, or so to report such cases of desertion or landing; such owner, agent, consignee, or master shall be required to deliver to such immigration officer a certificate, in such form as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly on such vessel's arrival from any port or place during her present voyage.

I hereby make oath that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly on such vessel's arrival from any port or place during her present voyage. I have marked the copy of section 36 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 30, Act of May 26, 1924, which appear below.

SEC. 19. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

(a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

SEC. 36. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 136.)

(b) Upon arrival of any alien seaman at a seaport of the United States, the master of the vessel on which such alien seaman arrives shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a list containing the name of each alien seaman employed on such vessel, and specifying the position in which each such alien seaman is employed, and the immigration officer at the port of arrival shall inspect each seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or cause such alien seaman to be detained on board until such inspection is completed, and shall immediately report to the Attorney General the name of each alien seaman who is certified by the medical examiners to be suffering from any of the diseases or mental or physical defects or disabilities set forth in section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, and the number of such cases. Any such alien seaman who is certified by the medical examiners to be suffering from any such disease or defect shall be detained on board or at such place as shall be designated by the immigration officer in charge at the port, pending a final determination as to whether he belongs to the class excluded from admission to the United States. Such determination shall be made within the period of time required by section 16 of this Act, unless the immigration officer in charge at the port has been notified that such period of time should be extended in the case of any alien seaman, in which case such period of time may be extended by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization for such length of time as may be necessary for the purpose. When an alien seaman is certified by the medical examiners to be suffering from any such disease or defect, he shall be given a reasonable opportunity, not exceeding five days, to withdraw his application for admission and depart from the United States on the vessel on which he arrived or on any other vessel then about to depart for a foreign port, unless he is a member of the crew of a vessel which has been libeled or otherwise proceeded against by the United States authorities. Any alien seaman who fails to depart from the United States within the time specified shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act. Any alien seaman who has been certified by the medical examiners to be suffering from any such disease or defect, and who has withdrawn his application for admission and departed from the United States, shall be deported as provided in section 19 of this Act if he shall thereafter return to the United States on any vessel arriving at a port thereof, unless prior to such return he shall have been issued a certificate by the Attorney General that he is not a member of any of the classes excluded from admission to the United States by section 2 of the Act of February 5, 1917, or by section 3 of this Act, or by any other law or treaty now in force.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship, such alien may be permitted to remain in the United States for such time and under such conditions as may be prescribed by the Attorney General, but no such alien seaman shall be granted a preference visa until he has been admitted to the United States for permanent residence.

(d) Proof that any alien seaman did not depart upon the outgoing vessel of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or the vessel to which he was transferred by the immigration officer at the Attorney General, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to depart within the period of time required by the immigration officer at the Attorney General, or any extension thereof, or that he was deported by the master of such vessel as a passenger

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the enforcement of the provisions of section 16 of the immigration act of 1917 (39 Stat. 886; 8 U. S. C. 151). Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall desert while such vessel is in port shall be deemed to be a person who at the time of entry was an immigrant of the class to which he belongs and not in possession of a valid immigration visa, and may be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at any time within five years after such entry at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall be found after the vessel on which he arrived has departed, or who shall land without the permission of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and who shall not depart on the next vessel sailing for the port from which he came, or for any other foreign port for which he may obtain passage, shall be deemed to be a person who at the time of entry was an immigrant of the class to which he belongs and not in possession of a valid immigration visa, and may be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. Any alien seaman employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who shall be found after the vessel on which he arrived has departed, or who shall land without the permission of the immigration officer at the port of arrival, and who shall not depart on the next vessel sailing for the port from which he came, or for any other foreign port for which he may obtain passage, shall be deemed to be a person who at the time of entry was an immigrant of the class to which he belongs and not in possession of a valid immigration visa, and may be taken into custody and returned to the country whence he came at the expense of the appropriation for the enforcement of the immigration laws. STATEMENT TO BE MADE BY MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER OF FIRST OR SECOND CONVEYANCE

I, CHARLES H. MARSHALL of the [illegible], do declare under the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew properly to said vessel from such port or place during her present voyage. I have marked the copy of section 38 of the act of February 5, 1917, entered from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copy of sections 13 and 30, act of May 26, 1924, marked above.

[illegible]
Master.

Sworn to before me this [illegible] day of [illegible], 1948

[illegible]
Immigrant Inspector.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below will be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-284) shall not be furnished on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "motorman", a location to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company and the nations to which they severally belong and by which severally they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those of the said aliens employed on such vessel who are not citizens of the United States; and before the departure of any such vessel from the port the master thereof shall deliver to the immigration officer a further list containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure, and also the names of all aliens employed on such vessel who have been left behind on the quay or elsewhere, and the reasons therefor, so far as the same may be ascertained by the master thereof; and if any such alien cannot be found or has not been left behind, the master shall report the fact in writing to the immigration officer, and if any such alien has gone on board any vessel about to depart from the United States, the master of such vessel shall report the fact in writing to the immigration officer at the port of departure before such vessel shall depart; and the master of any vessel who shall refuse or neglect to comply with the provisions of this section shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, unless the master establishes to the satisfaction of the Attorney General, and the Attorney General reports in writing upon the case, that every reasonable effort was made to comply with the requirements of this section: Provided, That clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine.

EXTRACT FROM 8 CFR 150

SEC. 150.15 Lists of alien employees: when clearance to vessel denied. Clearance shall not be granted any vessel until the lists required by section 38 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 171) have been furnished, and not then unless notice of liability to the administrative fine prescribed by said section or to final prescribed by section 38 of said Act (39 Stat. 888; 8 U. S. C. 191) shall have been served, the deposit specified in §§ 150.15–150.17, and paid made.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 15. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws shall be employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, or shall be granted an immigrant visa for admission to the United States, except upon the certificate of the Secretary of Labor that such alien seaman has been employed on board one such vessel for the six months next preceding his application to an immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and that such vessel is about to depart from the United States from one port or place to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located (or to the Secretary of Labor, if the vessel is bound for a port or place in the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, or the Virgin Islands), or to the duly authorized representative of either of them, for the return of such alien seaman to the country to which he belongs, unless such alien seaman (a) shall establish to the satisfaction of the Secretary of Labor that he has a definite position to perform on such vessel upon her return to the United States, or (b) is in possession of a valid immigrant visa, or (c) is not subject to any of the grounds of exclusion set forth in section 3 of this Act, or (d) has been in the United States for at least one year next preceding his application for admission as an immigrant, or (e) is the husband, wife, father, or mother of a person lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States and is coming to the United States to join such husband, wife, father, or mother, or (f) is under the age of twenty-one years and is coming to the United States to join a father or mother who is lawfully admitted for permanent residence in the United States: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of clause (d) of this section in the case of any alien seaman who has served in the engine department of any vessel during the war with Germany for a period or periods totaling not less than eighteen months, and who has been honorably discharged from such service: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not be applicable to masters or first officers, holding certificates as such, who have been in the service regularly employed as such on vessels plying between ports of the United States and foreign ports: Provided further, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the provisions of this section in the case of any alien seaman who has been employed as such on vessels plying between ports of the United States and foreign ports for a period or periods totaling not less than three years during the war with Germany, and who has been honorably discharged from such service: Provided further, That the provisions of this section shall not be applicable to any alien seaman who shall have been employed as such on vessels plying between ports of the United States and foreign ports for a period or periods totaling not less than three years during the war with Germany, and who has been honorably discharged from such service, unless such alien seaman shall have been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence prior to the effective date of this Act.

(a) Any owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel bringing to the United States from any place outside thereof any alien seaman (whether employed as such or not) who shall not be entitled to enter the United States, except upon certificate of the Secretary of Labor as provided in this section, or who shall refuse or neglect to deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival a complete list of all such alien seamen employed on board such vessel, including a personal description of each such alien seaman, in such manner as the Secretary of Labor may prescribe, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 (or, at the discretion of the Secretary of Labor, by imprisonment for not more than one year), or by both such fine and imprisonment, for each such alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Any vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or any part thereof, unless the master of such vessel deposits with the collector of customs a sum sufficient to pay the same, or gives a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from a foreign country, or that he was removed by the master of such vessel as a passenger, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or report such seaman for the purposes of this section.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid to the Secretary, designated as the authorized of the Attorney General.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign port or the Panama Canal Zone, or any possession of the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or, pursuant to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the multiform deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 188.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to deliver on board any such vessel such the immigration officer at ports at the port of arrival and before such seaman (except inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such seaman on board such vessel such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or the production of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by such immigration officer or the Attorney General as to form and amount. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof when in his judgment such mitigation will not affect adversely the operation of the immigration laws. Any alien seaman who shall have been granted shore leave under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe, and who shall overstay the period of such leave, or who shall violate the conditions upon which such leave was granted, shall be deemed to be a person who has entered the United States in violation of law, and shall be subject to deportation as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof.

(b) Upon application therefor by the master of any vessel, the Commissioner of Immigration may, in his discretion, cancel any outstanding warrant of arrest and refund any money deposited as security for the payment of such fine, or may cancel any bond given to secure the payment thereof, and no suit or action shall be maintained in any court for the recovery of any such fine, money, or bond after the expiration of one year from the date of the payment of such money or the cancellation of such bond.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien, redetermined by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(d) That part of the alien seaman bid not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport the alien seaman by such vessel, and the master shall be subject to all penalties already provided by law in respect thereof.

(e) Except as otherwise provided in section 3 hereof, the provisions of section 19 of the Act approved February 5, 1917 (39 Stat. 889; 8 U. S. C. 155), relating to the refusal to permit the landing of aliens, the return of aliens, the appeal to the Secretary of Labor, and the payment of expenses and costs that may be incurred in the enforcement of the provisions of such section, shall be applicable to aliens seamen.

(f) The term "vessel" as used in this section includes every description of watercraft or other contrivance used or capable of being used as a means of transportation on water.

(g) The term "master" as used in this section includes every master or commanding officer of any vessel.

(h) The term "owner" as used in this section includes agents, owners, charterers, managing operators, and consignees.

(i) The term "United States" as used in this section includes the United States, its territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

(j) The provisions of this section shall be enforced by immigration officers, and such officers and such other persons as may be designated for that purpose by the Secretary of Labor, and by customs officers, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

(k) Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section, or any rule, regulation, or order made thereunder, or who obstructs or hinders or prevents any such officer in the performance of his duties in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

(l) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any vessel employed exclusively in trade between the United States and the Panama Canal Zone or between the United States and any of its possessions, or between such possessions, or between the Panama Canal Zone and any of its possessions, or between such possessions and foreign contiguous territory, or between the United States and ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of such legislation as the Attorney General may prescribe for the alternate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who brings to the United States any alien seaman employed on such vessel (other than a seaman entering temporarily for the purpose of receiving medical treatment), shall cause such seaman (after inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), before such vessel departs from the port of arrival, to be inspected by the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival, and if such seaman is found to belong to any of the classes of aliens ineligible to citizenship under the provisions of section 2169 of the Revised Statutes, as amended (U. S. C., title 8, sec. 175), or to be afflicted with any loathsome or dangerous contagious disease, he shall be detained on board or at such place as the immigration officer in charge may designate until the final determination of the case. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the admissibility to permanent of such alien, or while the alien remains unduly, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit by the master of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof in the amount of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the admissibility to permanent of such alien, or while the alien remains unduly, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit by the master of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof in the amount of $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such refund as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit in lieu of such bond approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit in lieu of such bond approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, withdraw such deposit in lieu of such bond approved by the collector of customs.

(b) Every alien so allen seaman who shall depart from the outlying territory of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or who shall be left behind by the master, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport with respect to such alien seaman who was required by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such alien seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be treated clearance fully such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

(43 Stat. 164–165, 58 Stat. 818; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a), 191 (c).)

I, W. D. McCARTNEY, of the U.S.S. EASTHORN, do declare that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew promptly to be taken vessel from any port or place during the present voyage.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The list described below shall be prepared on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes or alien members of crews (Form I–418) shall not be destroyed or mutilated, but shall be delivered on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an alternate address is given, a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of alternate American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the master, owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival a list containing the names of all alien employees on such vessel; manifest the boarding privilege to the immigration officers in charge of the port of arrival and such other officers as may be designated by the Attorney General; and thereupon such officers as may be designated by the immigrant inspectors shall have the right to go on board of such vessel, and examine the lists relating to the crew and passengers, and to question any alien contained therein, touching any matter relevant to the provisions of the immigration laws, and to inspect the persons and the baggage and effects of such aliens. Any person who shall refuse to comply with the provisions of this section, or who shall conceal or attempt to conceal any alien therefrom, or who shall refuse to answer any question touching the right of any alien to enter the United States, or who shall make any false answer thereto, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $1,000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. (39 Stat. 879; 8 U. S. C. 136.)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 18. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or internment to such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate departure, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, who fails to detain on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel duly the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival and inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners), or who fails to detain such seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer so to do, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels entering United States subsequent to June 2, 1924.

(b) Every alien seaman who did not depart upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or alien seaman who has been reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after treatment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be treated clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The line described below shall be preserved on blank forms approved by the Department and be ready for delivery to the immigration inspector boarding the vessel at the port of arrival, and shall in no instance be taken from the vessel. The list of changes of alien members of crews (Form I-418) shall not be returned on board, but shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port. When an arriving seaman is a "workaway," a notation to that effect should be made on the manifest. In order to facilitate inspection of alien seamen, include names of arriving American citizen seamen as well as aliens.

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 2, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and specifying those to be landed and discharged in the port of arrival; or lists containing no names of such information as the Attorney General shall by regulation prescribe; and after the arrival of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with any information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel it shall be the duty of such owner, agent, consignee, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of the departure of the vessel, and also the names of those, if any, who have been held on board detained, and of those, if any, who have deserted or died since the sailing of the vessel, stating the cause of such death, desertion, or absence. Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered, or a fine of not more than $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered as herein required: Provided, That clearances may be granted prior to the determination of such fine, in the event such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: nor shall such fine be remitted or returned: Provided, That clearances may be granted prior to the determination of such fine by the Attorney General, pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $10 for each alien concerning whom correct lists are not delivered as herein required: and no such vessel shall be granted clearance until such fine is imposed, while it remains unpaid: nor shall such fine be remitted or returned.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO MASTER

The law described below will be enforced on board your vessel by the Department and he urges you to cooperate to the fullest extent in the interest of the safety of the crew, as well as to avoid unnecessary delay to the vessel in connection with the inspection.

The inspector assigned to your vessel is authorized to board and examine the vessel at any time. He will show his credentials and state his official position. Any refusal to cooperate with the inspector will be reported to the Department and may result in the withholding of clearance papers or the imposition of a penalty of $1,000 (Form I-438) and not to exceed $2,000, and in addition to such other penalties as may be provided by law. When an alien is ordered deported from the United States, the master of the vessel on which he arrived may be required to return him to a foreign port or place at the discretion of the Attorney General.

SEC. 36. That alien members of the crew of vessels arriving at ports of the United States from the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or the island of Guam, and seeking temporary shore leave, shall be subject to the provisions of this section and section 19 hereof, but shall be free from the payment of any head tax or visa fee provided for in this Act. Any such alien crew member who overstays the period of his shore leave may be required to return to the port or place from which he came to the United States, and may be refused admission to the United States upon any subsequent arrival. Any such alien crew member who deserts a vessel in the United States shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States, and shall be ineligible to citizenship: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the deportation of any such alien who shipped in good faith in the crew of a vessel engaged in the trade between the United States and the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or Guam, and who has been employed for a period of not less than one year on vessels engaged in such trade, and who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be a desirable resident alien of the United States.

SEC. 150.12 Illness or alien employees: When clearance to vessel delayed. Clearance shall not be refused by reason of illness of alien employee on board vessel, if, in the opinion of the immigrant inspector, such illness is not of a quarantinable character, and the master of the vessel furnishes a bond in the penal sum of $500 with sufficient surety, conditioned to indemnify the United States against the cost of maintenance of such alien from the time the vessel would have sailed but for such illness, and the cost of his return to the port at which he was shipped, or to such other port as may be designated by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Such bond shall be executed on Form I-419 (Public Law 414, 82d Cong., ch. 477, sec. 238(d); 66 Stat. 228; 8 U. S. C. 1228(d)) in the manner prescribed by section 103.2 of this chapter.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. (a) No alien seaman entering United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving at the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land at the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or otherwise as such alien may be permitted to land at the United States, or to depart therefrom, or to be treated in the United States as an immigrant seeking admission to the United States, unless (1) the owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of the vessel on which such alien arrived shall have given a bond to the collector of customs of the district in which the port of arrival is located, in the penal sum of $300, conditioned that such alien will depart from the United States within such period of time, not exceeding five months, as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, and will comply with all the requirements of the immigration laws with respect to such alien, and (2) the Attorney General shall not have notified the collector of customs that the bond is unsatisfactory. Such bond shall be in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, with the approval of the Secretary of Labor, and may be sued for and recovered by any collector of customs.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not depart from the United States in accordance with the conditions of the bond of the master of the vessel on which he arrived, or who shall depart from the United States in violation of the provisions of this section, shall be deported in the manner provided for the deportation of aliens who have been admitted to the United States, and shall be ineligible to citizenship: Provided, That the Secretary of Labor may, in his discretion, waive the deportation of any such alien who shipped in good faith in the crew of a vessel engaged in the trade between the United States and the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or Guam, and who has been employed for a period of not less than one year on vessels engaged in such trade, and who is found by the Secretary of Labor to be a desirable resident alien of the United States.

(c) It shall be the duty of the master of any vessel arriving at a port of the United States from any foreign port or place to deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of inspection of such vessel a complete list of the crew, which list shall contain the name, nationality, last permanent residence, and such other information as may be required by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, of all alien seamen employed on such vessel, whether they intend to land or depart on such vessel, and the immigrant inspector shall report to the master the name of each alien seaman who is required by the provisions of this section to be listed, who intends to land in the United States, and the master shall deliver to the immigrant inspector at the time of such report the certificate of identification issued to such alien seaman by the Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization. Any master who shall fail to deliver such list or certificate of identification, or who shall refuse to permit any alien seaman to depart on such vessel, shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each such offense.

LIST OR MANIFEST OF ALIENS EMPLOYED ON THE VESSEL AS MEMBERS OF CREW

EXTRACT FROM ACT OF CONGRESS OF FEBRUARY 5, 1917, AS AMENDED

SEC. 38. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place if shall be the duty of the master, commander, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all aliens employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively held in the ship's company, which and where they were respectively applied or engaged, and specifying those to be paid off and discharged in the port of arrival; or into the custody of any officer of the vessel, stating a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and if any such master, commander, or master fail to report to such immigration officer, in writing, as soon as discovered, all cases in which any such alien has illegally landed from the vessel, giving a description of such alien, together with such information likely to lead to his apprehension; and before the departure of any such vessel if shall be the duty of such master, commander, or master to deliver to such immigration officer a further list containing the names of all alien employees who were not employed thereon at the time of the arrival but who will leave port thereon at the time of departure, and also the names of those, if any, who have been discharged, and the cause, if any, who have been discharged, and the cause for such discharge, and the names of those, if any, who have been employed since the arrival of such vessel, and the cause for so doing; either of the above lists may be produced, and the information required thereby may be given, at the time of the vessel's departure, by the production and delivery by the master, commander, or master of a duplicate list, verified by his oath or affirmation, containing such corrections, additions, or omissions as may be necessary to render the same complete and accurate in every particular. It shall be the duty of the master, commander, or master of any vessel arriving at the United States from any foreign port to report the sick or injured alien passengers who may be on board such vessel at the time of her arrival, and to deliver to the proper officer of the immigration service such information in regard to them as may be required by the Secretary of Labor. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 168.)

SEC. 50. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside the foreign mere limit to destroy on board any alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has inspected such seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiners). Any such owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master who fails to destroy any alien seaman on board after such inspection or to detain such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the medical examiners, or brings on board any alien seaman for the purpose of landing him contrary to the provisions of this Act, or any rule or regulation made thereunder, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Such sum shall be a lien upon the vessel, which may be enforced by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, remit any penalty or any part thereof incurred under the provisions of this section, except that no vessel shall be granted clearance papers pending the determination of the amount of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except upon sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. Upon such terms as the Attorney General in his discretion shall think proper. The section as amended shall apply to all penalties which accrue independent to June 2, 1940.

(b) Every alien seaman who did not appear upon the outbound manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was reported by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to detain or deport after readmittance by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be granted clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 28 Stat. 210; 8 U. S. C. 101 (a)* 101 (c).)

SEC. 36. That upon arrival of any vessel in the United States from any foreign port or place it shall be the duty of the owner, agent, consignee, or master thereof to deliver to the principal immigration officer in charge of the port of arrival lists containing the names of all alien members employed on such vessel, stating the positions they respectively hold in the ship's company, when and where they were respectively shipped or engaged, and the destination of each alien who is to be landed at the port of arrival; or state explicitly that there are no alien members of the crew employed on such vessel. Such lists shall be delivered by the master to the principal immigration officer at the port of arrival and before the vessel shall be granted clearance, and the master shall report the name of any alien who may desert or who may be found on board after such inspection or to depart such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination or payment thereof upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof. The section, as amended, shall apply to all branches of the service now or hereafter administered by the Secretary of Labor.

From any place outside thereof, or that he was rejected by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deliver or deport after reemployment by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(b) Proof that an alien seaman did not appear upon the outgoing manifest of the vessel on which he arrived in the United States

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, but such expense shall not be finally charged against the vessel in the settlement of the Attorney General.

AFFIDAVIT OF THE MASTER OR COMMANDING OFFICER, OR FIRST OR SECOND OFFICER

I, H. E. Midmeyer, of the Adamant Vatman, P. F. Fairfield, do depose and say that I am the master of the said vessel now lying in the port of Fairfield, and that the foregoing is a full and true list of all the crew employed by me on board the said vessel, and of all the passengers who have been taken on board at any foreign port or place touching on the way to the United States, and that I have caused the surgeon of the said vessel to examine all the said crew and passengers, and that I believe from the report of the said surgeon and from my own observation that no one of the said crew or passengers is afflicted with any of the diseases or mental or physical defects which would be a ground for excluding aliens from admission into the United States under the provisions of the immigration laws now in force, and that I have caused the said surgeon to certify to the facts in regard to the said crew and passengers in the proper columns in the said list, and that I believe the said surgeon's certificates to be correct and true in every respect.

I have caused the copies of section 32 of the Act of February 5, 1917, extract from Title 8, Code of Federal Regulations, and copies of sections 14 and 50, Act of May 26, 1924, to be posted where they may be seen by all the crew.

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 16. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws and employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or because of shipwreck, and then only under such regulations as the Attorney General may prescribe for the ultimate deportation, removal, or deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164, 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any place outside thereof who fails to detain on board the vessel such alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival has been informed by the medical examiner (or, if no medical examiner is available at the port of arrival, until the immigration officer in charge at the port) that such alien seaman (which inspection in all cases shall include a personal physical examination by the medical examiner), or who fails to detain such alien seaman on board after such inspection or to deport such seaman if required by such immigration officer or the Attorney General to do so, shall pay to the collector of customs of the customs district in which the port of arrival is located the sum of $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the liability to payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination of such question upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty or any part thereof in such amount as he may deem appropriate. (b) Proof that an alien seaman did not depart upon the vessel on which he arrived to the United States from any place outside thereof, or that he was temporarily by the master of such vessel as a deserter, shall be prima facie evidence of a failure to deport after requirement by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman on such vessel, he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such vessel shall not be cleared clearance until such expense has been paid or its payment guaranteed to the satisfaction of the Attorney General. (43 Stat. 164–165, 52 Stat. 318; 8 U. S. C. 191 (a),(b); 191 (c).)

ALIEN SEAMEN

SEC. 13. No alien seaman excluded from admission into the United States under the immigration laws but employed on board any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, or Panama, or the Canal Zone, or any insular possession of the United States, except from the Philippine Islands, shall be permitted to land in the United States, except temporarily for medical treatment, or for deportation of such alien from the United States. (43 Stat. 164; 8 U. S. C. 166.)

SEC. 30. (a) The owner, charterer, agent, consignee, or master of any vessel arriving in the United States from any foreign contiguous territory, or adjacent islands, or Panama or the Canal Zone, shall deliver to the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival full information in regard to each alien seaman employed on such vessel until the immigration officer in charge at the port of arrival shall have given permission to such alien seaman to land, or such alien seaman shall have been otherwise lawfully landed or removed from such vessel. The Attorney General may prescribe rules and regulations for the enforcement of this section, and any master, owner, agent, consignee, charterer, or person in charge of any vessel who refuses or fails to comply with such rules and regulations or with the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than $1,000 for each alien seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs. No vessel shall be granted clearance pending the determination of the question of the liability to the payment of such fine, or while the fine remains unpaid, except that clearance may be granted prior to the determination upon the deposit of a sum sufficient to cover such fine, or of a bond with sufficient surety to secure the payment thereof approved by the collector of customs. The Attorney General may, upon application in writing therefor, mitigate such penalty to not less than $300 for each seaman in respect of whom such failure occurs, upon such terms as the Attorney General in the direction shall direct thereof. This section, as amended, shall apply to all vessels arriving after the date of its approval, June 2, 1930.

(b) Every alien seaman who shall not have been duly admitted to the United States for permanent residence shall depart therefrom on the vessel on which he arrived in the United States or on some other vessel at the same time or prior thereto, or on a vessel leaving not more than thirty days after his arrival, unless the Attorney General shall otherwise permit. Any such alien seaman who shall remain in the United States for a longer time than permitted by the Attorney General shall be deported as provided in sections 19 and 20 hereof.

(c) If the Attorney General finds that deportation of the alien seaman on the vessel on which he arrived would cause undue hardship to such seaman he may cause him to be deported on another vessel at the expense of the vessel on which he arrived, and such expense shall not be refunded or remitted by the immigration officer or the Attorney General.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PREPARING ALIEN MANIFESTS

This form must be used in manifesting ALL entries of passengers who arrive at ports in the United States from foreign countries. All entries must be printed in ink or typewritten and must be in the English language.

A separate form, or as many as are needed, must be prepared for first cabin, second cabin, tourist third cabin, and third-class passengers, except that when two or more of the classes mean the same thing they may be shown on one form with the names grouped according to class and the number of the class at the top of the group noted. Separate manifests should be prepared for each port at which passengers embark for the United States. Immigrants should be grouped on the manifest separate from nonimmigrants as defined by the Immigration Act of 1924. The names of all aliens coming from the same locality and of all members of a family should, so far as practicable, be shown on the same manifest sheet when they travel in the same class; and if they travel in different classes, appropriate cross-references should be made on the sheet on which the respective names are listed.
